Nearly one-eighth of the membership of the Senate has been changed by death, while another Senator, J. R. Newlan, of the Seventeenth District, is very ill and little hope is given of his chances for recovery.

Cottrell, and N. R. Carter, of the Twenty-first District, which will be represented by John R. Willis. Several Senators who have many years of Legislative work to their credit and who have been prominent in dent of the Senate of 1905 and editor of the Lakeland Sun: Joseph H. Humphries, of the Manatee River Journal; Lewis W. Zim, of the St. Augustine Meteor, and H. H. McCreary, of the Gainesville Sun.

Syd. L. Carter.

J. F. C. Griggs.

J. W. Watson.

Mr. Newlan is a holdover Senator, as was G. M. Lee, of the Twenty-third District, who died previous to the primaries of last year, and was succeeded by I. N. Withers.

law making in the past will this session again be active in shaping legislation. Among these members of the old

J. H. Harvell.

L. C. Massey.

W. K. Jackson.

Two of the Senators elected last fall have died—A. J. Winburn, of the Twelfth District, whose vacant seat has been filled by the election of E. L.

guard is Dr. E. S. Crill, of Palatka, a veteran in Florida's political life, and who enjoys a reputation of being the most skilled exponent of parliamentary law ever an inmate of Florida's Legislative halls.

John Neel.

Another veteran of the Senate is Frank Adams, of Jasper, who is one of the clear-headed, forceful men so needed to sift the chaff from Legislative grain and bring forth the useful product. Mr. Adams has served as President of the Senate with distinction, and had he cared to accept the many duties of the position could have again been chosen to fill the presiding chair.

W. Hunt Harris, of Key West, who is a candidate for President of the Senate, is entering his third term as a member of that body, and is well versed in the procedure of legislation.

James E. Broome, after an absence of one term from the Sixth District, will again be present and in his eloquent tone will advocate measures that he believes will accrue to the public good.

Putnam county selected two newspaper men to represent her in the House—H. A. B. McKenzie and Wm. A. Russell, while the prospective Speaker, Eugene S. Matthews, is editor of the Bradford County Telegraph at Starke.

One representative who has attained much prominence since his election, and who will doubtless be an active factor in the work of the session, is R. Pope Reese, of Escambia county.

Many of the members of both House and Senate will have their first experience in Legislative work during the forthcoming session, but there are enough old wheel horses in each body to teach the young colts their paces.
