What Easter Signifies.

Easter is the great Christian festival celebrating the resurrection of the Savior. It is among those Christians who observe it a feast of holy rejoicing, as the Lenten season is one of penitence, during which the Christian abstains from his usual earthly pleasures.

In the churches in which the Church calendar is regarded, notably the Roman Catholic and the Episcopal, the Christian year, as represented by this calendar, is supposed to typify in a certain general way the life of Christ on earth. For example, the Christmas festival commemorates his birth, and the Epiphany his manifestation for his disciples after the resurrection. Thus by studying the church calendar and its meaning, the Christian has impressed upon his mind the leading events of the Savior's earthly career.

The Lenten season commemorates the forty days of Christ's temptation. It begins with Ash Wednesday, and continues for forty days, and ends when Easter Day comes.

The word Easter is not of Christian origin. It is derived from Ostera, the name of the Goddess of Spring, in Teutonic mythology. Although the Christian festival supplanted the heathen ceremonies in honor of this goddess, the name survived.

Easter has been celebrated by Christians from the earliest recorded time of the Christian era. Indeed it was very early in the Christian era that the time of this celebration came to be a prolific cause of dissension. The final tragic events of the Savior's life on earth took place at the celebration of the Jewish passover, the Jewish paschal lamb being to Christians the prophetic type of the sacrifice of the Son of God for the remission of sins.

In the early days of Christianity, one party celebrated the fourteenth day of the moon of March, that being the Jewish passover day—the Jews observing the lunar calendar. Other Christians insisted that Christ rose from the dead on Sunday, that Easter Day must be celebrated on Sunday, the first day of the week, and hence came the difference in the time of celebration—the fourteenth day of the moon falling, of course, on different days of the week. The Eastern church adopted the former view and the Western church the latter, or Sunday view. At the Council of Nice, held A. D. 325, Easter Sunday was fixed to be always the first Sunday after the full moon in March which happens upon or next after March 21; and if the full moon happens on a Sunday Easter Sunday is the Sunday after. This rule prevails in western Christendom. In France from the twelfth until about the middle of the seventeenth century, the year began with Easter day, instead of the first of January.

The Easter egg custom has nothing to do with the Christian origin of the festival. It with others, is probably a survival from the heathen ceremonies, with which the deities of the spring season were worshipped. The pastimes and amusements of Easter, which time has long since robbed of any idolatrous significance, are merely coincidence with and not in any sense parts of the celebration of the Christian festival.

The custom of appearing in new spring clothes on Easter Day is of modern growth, but, nevertheless, a natural if not inevitable one. Gayety in clothing like all other forms of gayety, being totally repugnant to the spirit of the Lenten season, it is but natural that the end of this season and the beginning of the time of joy which prevails among Christians at Easter should be marked by the donning of bright costumes. The fact that Easter comes at about the time of the change of the seasons, of course, emphasizes this as a convenient occasion for laying aside of winter clothes, and appear in those suitable for milder weather.

Holly Hill News.

On Friday the Thimble Club was most hospitably entertained at Mrs. Harris', when a most enjoyable afternoon was spent by ladies from Daytona, as well as those in our neighborhood. But the "thread" of discourse was more in evidence than that usually associated with a thimble.

Mrs. M. S. Taylor left on Wednesday for Rochester, N. Y., where she intends spending the summer.

Our two juvenile sportsman, Kenneth Heath and Mark Lewis brought home a 17 pound bass, which they captured in the river. Maybe there were not two proud boys in Holly Hill that day.

On Monday Mrs. Chas. Abbott visited our school.

There was a card party at Mrs. Dickson's Wednesday night.

Joke On The Mayor.

A reader writes us as follows from Cincinnati: "I see by your issue of February 23rd that your mayor decided that all dogs must be provided with a license tag. Now this coupled with the fact that Mr. Jas. Murdock, Jr., of this city (a manufacturer of dog license tags), has been visiting him for some time back, looks as though there was some collusion. I have known both these gentlemen for some time and I would not be surprised if they have had their heads together. I give you this as a flyer."

Florida's Farm Products.

The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for Florida shows that the total value of farm products in the State for 1900 was as follows: Field crops, $8,175,547; vegetables and garden products, $856,308; poultry, $705,828; dairy products, $811,671; miscellaneous products, $125,634, making a total of $18,525,528.

The value of all products, including those exported, was as follows: Value of farm products, $18,525,528; value of mine, forest and miscellaneous products, $32,411,149, making the aggregate value of Florida products, $50,936,677.

Pleasant Moonlight Party.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Wall gave a delightful launch party on the Yankee Doodle last Saturday night. The party left here about seven o'clock and went down the river, stopping at the Pacetti House for supper. The following were in the party: Mr. and Mrs. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stewart, the Misses Carrie Smith, Jessie Chamberlain, Clara Wells, Stella Boardman, Grace Carswell, Evelyn Atwood, Mae Jolly, Evelyn Clark, Messrs. Jas. Vining, C. F. Vining, Roger Whitfield, W. M. Carswell, F. J. Niver, F. N. Conrad and Nevel Clark.

What an Exchange Says.

An exchange gives one of its "stop my paper" fellows the following truthful words: "A few years ago a cranky sort of an old fellow came into this office as mad as a bull hornet and 'stopped his paper.' We frequently meet him on the streets since that time and it is very amusing to note the surprise on the old fellow's face that we are still in existence regardless of the fact that he 'stopped the paper.' Some day, and it won't be very long either, the poor old fellow will turn up his toes. His spiteful old heart will be stilled forever. Neighbors and relatives will follow his lifeless clay out to the cemetery and lay him to rest among the flowers. An obituary will appear in these columns telling what a kind father, good neighbor and beloved citizen he was—which lie the recording angel will kindly overlook for charity's sake—and in a very short time after he will be forgotten. As he lays out there in the cold graveyard, wrapped in the silent slumber of Death he will never know that the last kind word ever spoken of him was by the editor of the paper which in life he 'stopped.' This ought to heap coals of fire on the old man's conscience and no doubt will if he goes to where he belongs."

High School Notes.

In time of peace a nation has the fewest happenings—So with the high school.

However, launch parties seem to be very popular this season. Last Tuesday evening a most enjoyable moonlight ride on the Yankee Doodle was given by Miss Violet McCoy. Prof. Richards was the jolly chaperone for the party. On the following day (Wednesday) the charming Miss Louise Foote rendered much enjoyment by giving a delightful day on the Earl King, in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Foote chaperoned the crowd. Innumerable alligators were seen, and the day was one of intense enjoyment. All wish Miss Foote birthdays galore in the coming year.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks, of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parson & Co., druggist of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by all druggists.
