Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood-cleansing properties of P. P. P. - Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893. - I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 25 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy with no relief. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.

Skin Cancer Cured. Testimony from the Mayor of Sequim, Tex.

SEQUIM, TEX., January 14, 1893. MRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.: DEAR SIRS - I have tried your P. P. P. for a disease of the skin, usually known as skin cancer, of thirty years' standing, and found great relief: it purifies the blood and removes all irritation from the seat of the disease and prevents any spreading of the sores. I have taken five or six bottles and feel confident that another course will effect a cure. It has also relieved me from indigestion and stomach troubles. Yours truly, CAPT. W. M. RUST, Attorney at Law.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

The pleasures of sin are only pleasures for a season.

Love never finds a burden that it does not try to lift.

Some shepherds try the hardest to feed the fattest sheep.

Gratitude can sing songs of praise with an empty pocket.

The man who lives a solitary life will die a stranger to himself.

A tombstone never makes the recording angel a good slate.

Put a smile on your face when you go out for a walk, and somebody will be helped.

The man who shrinks from self-denial pushes the cup of happiness away from his lips.

Purity don't stop working at the trade because somebody swears to a lie and sends it to prison.

The man who does not love his neighbor as himself still throws banana skins on the sidewalk.

The man who claims that there is no such thing as an honest man, tells others what he thinks of himself.

There are too many people who are willing to do all the shouting and let somebody else do all the work.

There is still a good deal of religion in the world that consists in putting the big sound apples on the top of the basket.

A snowflake is a very weak thing. But a great many together could stop the progress of the most powerful locomotive. A feather is a very light thing. But a great many together could make a load too heavy for the most powerful locomotive to move.

"Union is strength." - Ram's Horn.

A Millionaire's Curious Mail.

Not the President of the United States himself receives a larger or more curious collection of mail matter every morning than the postman leaves at the door of Mr. George Vanderbilt's home. Since the time of his fine gifts in charity's name and building of his great Southern palace have gone forth, this unsolicited correspondence, from all parts of the country, has increased ten fold, flowing chiefly from the pens of women who have some fund or hospital to which they wish this fortunate and liberal-handed gentleman to contribute.

Begging letters, says Mr. Vanderbilt's secretary and assistant, who manage this daily budget, are sadly lacking in originality, and holding up a small, unopened Lord Fauntleroy envelope, decorated with a curious net work of pot hooks and hangers, the Secretary is able to read very nearly word for word the pleading contents. "I am a little girl, twelve years of age, trying to do what I can for the fresh air fund of our town, and knowing how very, very generous you are, but how many, many people must ask you for money, I only suggest you let us have a half of what your income amounts to for one minute. Your grateful little friend, Mamie B." That is the regular formula followed by the small girl, as the opening of the envelope proves, for the idea of getting a minute's worth of a millionaire's income is a favorite scheme in the begging letter. Earnest young gentlemen, also working in the name of charity, are fond of suggesting that Mr. Vanderbilt let them have a full suit of his clothing to traffic off for the benefit of the village circulating library, and one eccentric damsel sent a black satin slipper of her own, promising if it was filled with silver dollars for the aid of her free sewing society, she would not ask any larger donation, and deploring coquettishly that the slipper was only a number one. When the daily post is examined by the Secretary and his assistant, a very few of these remarkable missives are selected for the perusal of Mr. Vanderbilt, and the rest are docketed and put away in a big box, where such correspondence is, oddly enough, most carefully preserved. - St. Louis Star-Sayings.

A Bad Year for Homing Pigeons.

Flying fanciers and homing pigeons have had a hard season of it this year. It is estimated that out of 5000 birds liberated in different parts of the country, only 800 have returned home, the great loss being principally on account of bad weather. No such disastrous year has been experienced in the history of the sport in America. Time and again this season the liberators have wired to the home matchers that the birds had set out under a fine sky with a favorable wind, and the birds have encountered severe storms or bad weather when 100 or 200 miles out. Hundreds of old stagers that have been out in all kinds of weather and who were counted on to come through almost anything in the way of a storm, have disappeared entirely in long files this summer, and their owners have watched in vain for their return and scanned the newspapers for weeks to learn of their being found. - Chicago Journal.

They Esteem a Sailor.

The esteem in which the sailor's calling is held in Massachusetts coast towns is indicated by a story that comes from Martha's Vineyard. A teacher was wanted, and a sailor applied for the position. He had to pass an examination by the committee, and trembled at the ordeal, being sadly unlearned in book-lore. The chairman began the examination: "Mr. —, what is the shape of the earth?"

"It is round, sir," the candidate answered.

"How do you know?"

"Because I have sailed around it three times."

"That will do, sir!" He received his "certificate" as a teacher without another question being asked. - Argonaut.

A KILLING FROST.

Seventeen Days Earlier Than Usual Throughout the Memphis District.

There was a killing frost Wednesday throughout the Memphis district which comprises West Tennessee, Eastern Arkansas, North Alabama and North Mississippi. This is seventeen days earlier than the average date of the first killing frost, which for the last twenty years has been October 26th. Not much damage has been done to cotton, except where the crop was planted later than usual, but the second crop of potatoes is considerably injured.
