THE REVIEWER.

It is strange that none of them has ever thought of skating to the north pole.—Washington Post. Let us be just to Vesuvius. It smokes a great deal, but it doesn't smoke cigarettes.—Kansas City Journal.

nothing that I have to do all the season." Miss Margaret Howie, the Scotchwoman who is trying to become the first woman lawyer in Great Britain by asking the courts to order the Incorporated Society of Law Agents to admit her to membership, is young and possesses ing and plays golf well enough to be put in the champion class.

THE REVIEWER.

Unless Pat Shedy is curbed some other bright gambler will lay aside the faro box to open a clearing house for crime.—Baltimore American. Speculation on Wall street has now reached the point where a large circle of insiders and outsiders are guessing as to its lasting or breaking.—Philadelphia Press.

A New York doctor has invented and patented a new kind of coffin. There are a few people in this world who are observant of the eternal fitness of things.—Baltimore American. Mr. Stead now announces as on the programme a war between the United States and Great Britain. We forget where Mr. Stead's last war was, but we recall that there was no bloodshed.—Detroit Journal.

It would seem as if Waterville, Me., belies its name, inasmuch as its citizens have paid fines amounting to $5,000 for illegally selling liquors.—Boston Herald. It is only the oil well which gushes that is heard from. The dry holes are never mentioned; hence the impression gains ground that there are no dry holes.—Dallas News.

The head master of the Cambridge Latin school says basket ball makes the girls rough, loud voiced and bold. Too many girls of that type are in evidence already without the schools aiding their development.—Buffalo Courier. An English expert says that Shamrock II will sail best under a jack yard topsail breeze. Arrangements will be made with the weather man to put such a breeze in training. Anything to make the races interesting.—Denver Republican.

When a real print is stripped and searched for dutiable articles by the minions of our republic, "triumphant democracy" may be said to have arrived.—New York Mail and Express. The result of England's struggle for commercial supremacy has been the destruction of her agricultural interests. It is to be hoped that agricultural Germany will not fare as badly.—Baltimore Sun.

Forest denudation has made floods an accompaniment of the early spring rains. During the last 50 years the forests of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia have gradually disappeared until the hillsides are bare. Fires have taken away the undergrowth.—St. Louis Republic. The waiter bent over her shoulder; I listened, expecting to hear Her ask for a cup of ambrosia; Her presence made heaven seem near!

The Missouri crop report is the most favorable issued in years. Indeed it is believed that the farmers of the state have never had such bright prospects. Glorious old Missouri! She deserves all the good things that can possibly be showered upon her.—St. Louis Star.

Her eyes were of velvety softness; I looked on her face and was glad, And I felt something sweetly alluring In the shy, demure manner she had, Her form was the form of a goddess; Her face was enchantingly fair. I was manlier, nobler and purer. For sitting so close to her there.

Those who are interested in Christian Science will be welcomed at the residence of Mr. W. C. Lewis, where the services will be held W. C. Lewis, 1300 N. W. 1st St., Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m., Sundays at 10:30 a. m., Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m., Sundays at 10:30 a. m.

Her face was the face of an angel— A face I was thankful to see. I fell 'neath the spell of her beauty, Praised fortune for letting us meet, And, blissfully dreaming, I ordered The things that I wanted to eat.
