

THE TRUE DEMOCRAT.

JOHN G. COLLINS, Publisher.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

The true friend of Florida is the man who works honestly for his own livelihood and pays no heed to the trickster and the demagogue.—St. Augustine record.

Our Royal Scarlet olives. Little less rice than others. T. H. Randolph & Son. 39

Thanks to the officers of the S. A. L. and the L. & N. R. E. in deciding to continue the evening and night trains between Jacksonville and Pensacola, which they had decided to discontinue. The Pensacola, Jacksonville and Live Oak daily papers took the matter up immediately, on learning that such action was contemplated, then the Boards of Trades took a hand, and the result followed, and the people all along the line are the beneficiaries. Some people say newspapers, now days, have no influence, here is a case in point which shows they have, and the newspapers are always watchful to accomplish good for the people.

Do not send your printed stationery from home, even if some Chicago or out-of-town print shop does offer to do it for a little less money. Remember your home printer is working for the upbuilding of your community in season and out of season, all the while, as it were, and that every business man of your community gets the benefit of the persistent labor and efforts of your home printer. Besides the home printer spends in your community almost every cent he earns in paying wages, accounts, in living expenses, etc., to employes, for rents and necessaries, which is kept in circulation and helps each one of you in keeping money circulated at home. Now, is it right to save a few cents, or dollars, for you to send off a single order for printed matter? Would it not be just as reasonable for every citizen to send out of town for every article they purchase, just because a few cents could be saved?

That little act of kindness will help, in a way, to build up your community, maybe secure us some good subscribers, and possibly be pleasant for yourself, for your newspaper man and for your friend. It is the little acts of kindness that go to make us all better, and besides, it might help us make you a better newspaper.

Festmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, postmaster at River-ton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful tonic. At all drug stores. 50 cents.

This afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock St. Agnes Guild of St. Johns Church will hold a baby show. All children five years old and under can compete, and the list of entries is very large. The event takes place at the Leon Hotel, and preparations are in order for this event. A large crowd will be in attendance as the affair promises to be interesting to all.

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.

Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." All druggists.

WOMAN'S CLUB CONVENTION.

Very interesting. Largely Attended. An Organization for Good Work.

To-day ends the program of the Convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, which has been the most successful from every point of view, far surpassing the expectations of the ladies.

The opening item was a grand reception held at the Leon Hotel on Tuesday evening. The lobbies and parlors of the Leon were gorgeously decorated by the tasteful hands of the ladies of our Tallahassee Woman's Club, and the effect throughout was beyond description. An immense crowd of ladies were in attendance and lent to the affair that portion of grace which is so becoming to true Tallahasseeans.

The open hand of fellowship and co-operation was extended to our visitors. The entire program throughout the week was one of interest and pleasure, comprising meetings, drives and receptions, at all of which the attendance was large.

The Convention proper held forth at the Pythian Castle Hall on East Park Avenue, where the general business of the Clubs was conducted, interspersed throughout with special music and elegant speeches.

Reports from the various delegates, committees and officers were heard and the election of officers was conducted, resulting as follows:

President, Mrs. C. H. Raynor, Daytona; First Vice President, Mrs. L. M. Shackelford, Tallahassee; Second Vice President, Mrs. C. J. Huber, Tampa; Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. S. Frederick, Miami; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. M. McNeill, Ormond; Treasurer, Miss May Crosby, San Mateo; Auditor, Mrs. J. L. Wells, Lake City; Delegate to General Federation, Mrs. Kenk Munroe, Coconut Grove.

It was decided to hold the next convention at Lake City.

As a fitting close to this auspicious gathering the faculty of the Female College tendered to the 25 Federation delegates on last evening a recital and reception during which a delightful program was rendered.

MUSICAL PROGRAM:

- 1 Piano quartet, Overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor," Nicolai. Misses Foster, Keipp, Forston, Hardaway.
2 Voice, Berceuse from "Jocelyn," Godard. Miss Buchholz.
3 Organ and Piano, Pastorale, Kabell. Misses Foster, Keipp.
4 Piano, Andante from Concerto in G. minor, Mendelssohn. Miss Hardaway.
Orchestral accompaniment on second piano, Miss Keipp.
5 Voice, A song of Thanksgiving, Allitsen. Miss Buchholz.
6 Piano, Ballade, Op. 47, Chopin. Miss Forston.
7 Reading, King Robert, of Sicily, Longfellow. Miss Moses.
Musical accompaniment by Miss Keipp and Miss Foster.
8 Organ, Concert Overture, Hollins. Miss Foster.

After the musical came a reception in Dining Hall, at which were the faculty, students, townpeople and delegates. Here was again demonstrated the hospitality of staid old Tallahassee.

During the reception refreshments were served.

A short business meeting was held this morning in the Pythian Hall, at which all old business was closed out and new business brought before the convention, the years work was reviewed and after music, a motion for adjournment was in order, thus bringing to a fitting close a most successful meeting of the good women of our State.

We Wish Them Joy.

"Marriages," they say, "are made in Heaven; but one has just been consummated in Louisville, which city is not usually supposed to be right jam up against the celestial gates. However that may be, The Tribune knows, and a host of warm, admiring friends in Florida know, one of the contracting parties, none other than that highly esteemed Floridian, Judge Milton Harvey Mabry, of Tallahassee. We all know, too, that when the Judge selected for his bride Miss Irene Washburn he had the proper instinct to select an angel no matter what may be the precise metaphysical location of Louisville on the map spiritual.

Evidently the Judge was partly inspired toward this step by the recent marriage of his son. He is in the time of life when a healthy man is strongest and at his best, both mentally and physically, and, no doubt, has before him many years of wedded felicity. We wish him every happiness from the bottom of our heart, and welcome his fair young wife to her new home amid the fruit and flowers and love's own bowers.—Tampa Tribune.

Pure Food Reception.

Tallahassee has been kept busy this week with a long list of events, such as dances, conventions and receptions. The city has been thronged with strangers enjoying our hospitality. Among this list of pleasing events, and in no whit the lesser of the group, is the demonstration of pure food products, embracing the famous Royal Scarlet brand, at the popular store of T. B. Byrd & Co. It is here the most necessary of life's wants are supplied. Clean, wholesome foods for the hunger craving appetites—samples are served by charming young ladies. The results of this successful exhibition are due to the untiring labors of the managers of this store and the popularity of the first-class goods they handle. Through this demonstration has been established the fact that the Royal Scarlet food products are the most wholesome and pure. Wednesday the menu was canned fruits—viz: Cherries, peaches, etc. On Thursday cold meats, salads, olives, pickles and asparagus were served. On Friday the list was vegetables, comprising corn, beans, cold tongue and marmalade. The proprietors of the store and the representative of R. C. Williams & Co. were very much gratified to know that the public are convinced of the quality of their goods and realize the magnitude of their desires to supply the trade with the best always.

A large quantity of May Seed Oats. L. C. Yaeger, the hardwareman. 38

Notice!

Our Thanksgiving Turkey.

Tuesday a friend of The True Democrat, in the true Thanksgiving spirit, drove up to the home of the proprietor of this newspaper with one of the very finest of her flock of turkeys and left there as nice, large fat gobbler as could probably be found in Leon county, with words of encouragement and congratulations of our efforts to make Leon county a neat, clean and interesting newspaper. This good lady and her husband's only request was that we not put their names in the paper. We know we shall enjoy our Thanksgiving dinner now, and with these good people, and all of our people, feel that we all have lots to be thankful for. Let us all strive on that day to make some sunshine and happiness come into the life of some other one, then truly will we each and all feel that we can be thankful to our Father who wills that we should all be prosperous, happy and charitable. God bless each one that can take on the true Thanksgiving spirit, and be mindful of the more unfortunate that may be in our midst. We thank our friends for their token of Thanksgiving, for these expressions of good will and encouragement, for it gives inspiration for efforts from us to do some better in making them a home paper. May each Mr. and Mrs. John Price, among Leon's very best farmers, live long and prosper, to enjoy many returns of a happy Thanksgiving and Christmas season—they deserve all the good things that can come to them in this world, and a sound and everlasting rest in the world to come.

MISS ALL SPICE

Coming. "Miss All-Spice," a new musical comedy, one of the most important attractions of the season, will appear at the Munro opera house on Wednesday, November 28. That the theater-going public is anxious to be amused and is willing to pay for high class recreation, is attested by the phenomenal attendance accorded this attraction since the opening of the present season. Crowded houses have been the rule, and in many cities hundreds have been turned away who were tardy in making advance reservations of seats. "Miss All-Spice" is a musical concoction constructed around the adventures of a father and son who want to marry ladies of unsuitable ages to either. The fun is fast and furious and not a dull moment is experienced from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Agnes Maher, the "Irish Nightingale," the dashing widow in the comedy; May Mitchell, the petite soubrette; Kitty Mitchell, the hotel bell boy; Wilbur George, a handsome juvenile actor and operatic tenor; Chas. Morton, the funny Irish comedian, are a few of the principal members of the company, while a sprightly beauty contingent of bewitching singing and dancing girls of the Olympia Opera Company appear in frequent ensemble numbers in a diversity of costumes appropriate to each number presented. The seat sale opens at Burns & Co.'s on November 26.
