

THE TRUE DEMOCRAT.

JOHN G. COLLINS, Publisher.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

Hon. Worth Trainmell, late chief clerk in the Attorney-General's office, is also a candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

Just on the eve of the convening of the Legislature, we copied from a very old newspaper a clipping we had had in our possession for a long time, an appropriate piece of poetry, "Bill, He is in Trouble," the last line reading "Bill's in the Legislature, but he don't say what fur," which at the close of that body, might truthfully be answered by some who were in the Legislature, for surely there be those of them, who will not be able to tell their constituents the why's and the wherefores of some of their actions there. Truly some funny things occurred during the session of 1907, which will always be looked back upon as a frivolous and expensive one, so far as much good results will come to the State out of it.

State Conference, Epworth League

On the evening of Tuesday June 18th, the 14th annual conference of the Florida State Epworth League will begin its three days session here in Tallahassee. Delegates to the number of one hundred and twenty-five are expected to be present, and local members are busy arranging for their entertainment. We believe it is usual on such occasions, for everybody who can do so, to show hospitality regardless of denominational inclinations, so we will say that any courtesies in this direction will be gladly accepted by the committee, Misses Bertha Jones and Pearl McCord. The Epworth League is the official organized young people's society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and is doing a great work which cannot be too largely valued by those who have the religious training of our young people at heart, and it is hoped that the cordial invitation which the League here wishes to extend to the public to attend the meetings of the convention, will meet with appreciative response.

Colonel S. I. Wallis' friends throughout Florida are pleased that he is now doing well and is rapidly recovering, with the best prospects of being fully restored to health. He has passed through a severe and serious sickness and very critical operation.

The charming afternoon tea given by Mrs. Fred W. Kettle at the College in honor of Miss Margaret Buchholz was a most delightful social occasion. Many of our ladies enjoyed Mrs. Kettle's hospitality and paid their parting respects to the bride-to-be.

The many friends of Messrs. W. R. Wilson and J. D. Hutchinson will be sorry to learn that both these gentlemen are still confined to their homes by illness. The True Democrat regrets that it cannot report an improvement in their condition.

The Rhea-Buchholz Wedding.

Some time before the clock struck nine on last Tuesday evening, The First Presbyterian Church in this city was filled to its utmost capacity with the friends of Professor Ludwig Buchholz and his lovely daughter. The groom, Dr. Rhea, formerly of South Carolina, now of Texas, came among us an entire stranger only a few days ago, but he will go away, we have no doubt, leaving behind him a circle of warm friends, for Tallahassee has a way of accepting for her own the friends of her people.

Busy hands had made the interior of the church a bower of beauty, the decorations being white and green. Florida Smilax entwined the pillars along the aisles and hung gracefully festooned across the church above the altar. The altar step and the space in front where the bridal couple was to stand, was carpeted in white with a dainty border of green smilax, and overhead hung a large bell shaped bouquet of white daisies and heavenly bamboo. Potted ferns, palm and cut flowers of white oleander, roses and daisies were used in lavish profusion, and cordons of ribbon and daisies reserved a number of pews for the bridal party.

A dainty pillow of white satin, lace trimmed was also provided for the newly married pair to kneel on for the benediction. For some moments the audience sat enjoying lovely organ selections rendered by Miss Janie Clark in her best style, then the inner doors from the vestibule, were thrown open and the bridal party filed in.

First to enter were Mr. Guite McCord and Miss Moses, teacher of Physical Culture and expression at the Woman's College. The gentleman walked up the right center aisle, the lady the left center. When they arrived in front of the altar they crossed over taking a stand opposite each other. The next two couples, Messrs. Bondurant and Kellum, and Misses Jessie Edmondson and Mary Horn followed in the same order. Then came the matron of honor, Mrs. A. A. Murphree, and the maid of honor, Miss Hallie Lewis.

The three bridesmaids were dressed in white lace-trimmed organdie, and carried large bouquets of fern leaves. Mrs. Murphree wore a magnificent gown of imported brussels lace over white silk, designed in New York under the supervision of her sister, and carried an exquisite bouquet of white carnations and ferns. The maid of honor bore a similar bouquet and was lovely in a sheer white chiffon over silk, trimmed with a profusion of lace.

The bride, tall and stately in her handsome bridal gown of white satin, trimmed with real lace came in, last in order, leaning on the arm of her father. They were met at the altar by the groom, the groom's best man, Mr. A. A. Murphree, Pres. of the Woman's College, and the minister, Rev. J. W. Ziegler. Here an impressive ceremony, made the happy couple man and wife, after which the bride, with her veil thrown back, left the church, radiantly beautiful, accompanied by the handsome bride-groom, happy and proud.

The bridal party then repaired to the residence of Mr. Murphree to partake of the hospitality of the President and his charming wife, who had prepared an elegant supper for the newly-married pair. There the bride received the congratulations of a large number of our towns-people, who had learned to know and appreciate her many lovable qualities during her residence among us.

The only untoward feature of this happy occasion was the illness of the groom's brother, who arrived in a state of high fever, which has ever since confined him to his bed.

Dr. and Mrs. Rhea had intended leaving on the night train for their home in Texas, but of course, under the circumstances, they could not do so.

The True Democrat joins the many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Rhea in best wishes for their future happiness.

Lewis, Second Vice President, and Mr. George W. Saxon, Chairman of the Legislative Committee, of this city are on the program.

Hon. O. H. Kelly, of Carrabelle, was in the city yesterday and made the True Democrat a very pleasant visit. His Tallahassee friends are always pleased to extend a welcome to him.

The True Democrat extends the deepest sympathy to its warm personal friend, Captain John R. Blocker, in the sad drowning of his excellent brother at Apalachicola. May the good Lord deal gently with them all, and they all meet their loved one in the new life to come.

To settle the candidate matter for Governor some parties are saying "give us Bloxham again." The Governor says he will not be a third term, to which his admirers reply, "Nominate him anyhow." No man could defeat Bloxham if he would consent to be a candidate. - Jacksonville Metropolis.

Mr. Henry Allen Dead.

Hon. Hugh A. Black was among his Tallahassee friends again Tuesday and made his usual pleasant visit to this office, and among other items of local news from his locality, informed us of the death of another old time friend of our own, Mr. Henry Allen, whom we have known and respected for years, and who always made us pleasant visits when he came to the city. Mr. Allen was one of Leon county's oldest citizens, and at his death leaves one of the largest family of son's and daughters, with their children and children's children that could be gotten together in the State, and all of them are hard working and industrious citizens who command the respect of our people, and who have their deepest sympathy in the taking away of their aged father, who though he always led a quiet, secluded life, away down in the southern portion of Leon county, had friends all over it, who will always remember him pleasantly. He lived well, to a good, ripe old age, and now sleeps the peaceful sleep on the other shore, where we are assured "there is a sweet rest for the aged and weary." May each of his loved ones and his friends join him in the great beyond. Few of us are perfect, and he may not have been, but we believe he lived the best he could, and did what good he could, and he is now at rest.

Tetter Cured.

A lady customer of ours had suffered with tetter for two or three years. It got so bad on her hands that she could not attend to her household duties. One box of Chamberlain's Salve cured her. Chamberlain's medicines give splendid satisfaction in this community. - M. H. RODNEY & Co., Almond, Ala. Chamberlain's medicines are for sale by Tallahassee Drug Co., store

Card of Thanks.

I desire to express my heart-felt thanks and appreciation for the kind attention and great helpfulness received from the good people of Tallahassee in my recent bereavement.

During the last illness of my husband, whose services in your midst were in the interest of our State, you gave unbounded sympathy and assistance, and I wish you to know that you will ever be remembered with the deepest gratitude. "I was a stranger, and ye took me in." May the blessings of heaven be upon you.
