

Nervous Prostration

"I suffered so with Nervous Prostration that I thought there was no use trying to get well. A friend recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and although skeptical at first, I soon found myself recovering, and am to-day well."

MRS. D. I. JONES,
5800 Broadway, Cleveland, O.

Much sickness is of nervous origin. It's the nerves that make the heart force the blood through the veins, the lungs take in oxygen, the stomach digest food, the liver secrete bile and the kidneys filter the blood. If any of these organs are weak, it is the fault of the nerves through which they get their strength. Dr. Miles' Nervine is a specific for the nerves. It soothes the irritation and assists in the generation of nerve force. Therefore you can hardly miss it if you take Dr. Miles' Nervine when sick. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money

WILL WED MAN SHE SENT TO PRISON TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Responsible for Lover's Incarceration Will Make Reparation.

Jacksonville, Ind., June 10.—Miss Mollie Lienheart will devote the remainder of life to showing Elijah Fielden, whom she sent for two years to prison on a false charge, that she believes he is the "best man on earth." She will marry Fielden June 20, and thus will be picked up the broken threads of a romance that was interrupted twenty years ago by the fateful loss of the engagement ring which had been given to her by Fielden.

Circumstances pointed to her suitor as the thief, and so strongly was the evidence that her charge resulted in his being sent to prison. After Fielden was released from the penitentiary he and Miss Lienheart never spoke to one another.

Two weeks ago when the basin of a spring near the Lienheart home was being cleaned out, the ring was found, where it probably had been dropped by Miss Lienheart when she was a girl.

Miss Lienheart was overjoyed when the ring was restored to her, and she realized that Fielden, whom she had loved despite their tragic separation, was not a criminal.

When she was seen her eyes shone with happiness.

"For all those twenty years," she said, "I had felt there was something wrong about the loss of the ring and the dreadful consequence to Mr. Fielden. Even though I believed him guilty, I prayed every night that something would happen to prove his innocence. When the ring was brought to me my first words were: 'Thank God.'"

"I would marry him now even though he was a pauper. I shall freely give my sincere devotion to him for the remainder of my life. I shall marry the best man on earth, and he does not stand before the world as a criminal either."

Fielden entered prison twenty years ago June 20. On June 20 this year, therefore, he and Miss Lienheart have decided to be wed. There will be a reunion of old friends, who will assist in celebrating the wedding and the exoneration of the bridegroom.
