Some sun-of-a-gun, or sons-of-a-gun, is or are going around during the hours meant for slumber, and robbing—not hen-roosts just now—but fruit trees. If the D—scape-goat or goats or nanny-goat or goats should receive a load of salt in the back part of their person it would perhaps be what they deserve.

A committee of among the live wires of Holbrook are after the McGaffey saw mill and treating plant. A tract of land suitable for the proposed site is the property of H. H. Scorse, which is valued at $12,000, and Mr. Scorse offers it to the town as a site for the McGaffey enterprise for $8,000.

Mrs. W. H. Clark died Tuesday morning after a lingering illness of several months. She was one of the pioneers of Holbrook and was widely known, especially to the traveling public. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were engaged in the hotel business for a great many years where Mrs. Clark made an enviable reputation as hostess. The poor health of Mrs. Clark caused their retirement from the hotel business a few years ago. Since that time Mrs. Clark had visited several health resorts in hope of improvement, but with little benefit.
