"I have been using Cascarets for insomnia, with which I have been afflicted for twenty years, and I can say that Cascarets have given me more relief than any other remedy I have ever tried. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as being all that they are represented."

Diagnosed.
"My little boy," said a matron of Augusta, "used to bite his nails."
"Now, see here," his nurse said to him one day, "if you keep on biting your nails like that, do you know what will happen to you?"
"No. What?"
"You'll swell up like a balloon and burst."

"My little boy believed his nurse. He stopped biting his nails at once. That was about a month ago, and yesterday we had the honor of Mr. Taft's presence at luncheon."
"Jimmy, when Mr. Taft entered the room, looked at him with stern disapproval. Then he walked over to him. 'You bite your nails,' he said."

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Lesson from the Past.
James Knox Polk was reflecting upon the circumstance that half the people of the country, roughly estimated, pronounced his name as it was spelled, while the other half called him Poke.

"Still, what's the difference?" he said; "probably not more than one man in half a dozen knows how to pronounce 'Roosevelt.'"
From which we are led once more to suspect that all standards of accuracy belong to the domain of the purely subjective.

There are imitations, don't be fooled. There is no substitute! Tell the dealer you want Lewis' Single Binder cigar.

The Voice of Ennui.
"So you favor tariff revision?"
"I do," answered the sardonic statesman.

"But you do not hope to devise a system that will please everybody?"

"No. But it may bring in a new set of complaints from the same old people or the same old complaints from a new set of people. In either case the monotony will be relieved."
—Washington Star.

Repairs Needed.
Thomas A. Edison said recently aeronautics:
"Within five years the North Pole will be reached in a 40-hour trip, and the globe will be encircled in a week."
"But the type of aeroplane must be changed," continued Mr. Edison, "before such flights are undertaken, or otherwise aeronauts will be talking like the automobilist who, after buying a cheap car, visited the salesrooms and said:
"You said when you sold me my four horse-power runabout that you'd supply all parts broken?"
"Yes, sir," said the salesman.
"Then," said the other, "let me have at once, please, a first and third rib, two front teeth, one left ankle bone and a nose bridge."

Quite in Character.
The late William Terriss, who for many years was invariably the hero in the dramas produced at the Adelphi theater, London, seems to have been in nice accord with the characters he played. One day, writes Ellen Terry in her recently published book, "The Story of My Life," he came into the theater thoroughly soaked.
"Is it raining, Terriss?" asked someone, who noticed that he was wet.
"Looks like it, doesn't it?" said Terriss, carelessly.

Later it came out that he had jumped off a penny steamboat into the Thames and saved a little girl's life.

Lots of Room Needed.
It is a curious fact that the invariable first thought of a British jack tar when landing from a cruise is to get on a horse. For purposes of economy one animal frequently serves for two or three grinning sailor boys.

Recently a sailor from the fleet of British war-ships that accompanied the Prince of Wales to Quebec approached the keeper of a down-town livery stable and asked for a horse.
"For riding or driving?" asked the liveryman.

"We'll be goin' aboard of 'im," responded the sailor.
"What kind of a horse do you want," continued the liveryman, "black, white, chestnut, sorrel—lively, or gentle?"
"Stow all that," said the sailor; "what I'm after is a good long one. There's eight of us a-goin' on 'im.'"—From Success Magazine.

Little children are suffering every day in the year with sprains, bruises, cuts, bumps and burns. Hamlin's Wizard Oil is banishing these aches and pains every day in the year, the world over.

One of the Suppressions of History.
The British had captured the city of Washington and burned it.
"Trying to raise the temperature a little," they explained. "It's always so beastly cold here in inauguration days, don't you know?"
But the perverse Yankees refused to take the hint and didn't change the date.
—Chicago Tribune.
