

THE HOLBROOK NEWS

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NAVAJO COUNTY

VOL. 7. No. 27.

HOLBROOK, NAVAJO COUNTY, ARIZONA, NOVEMBER 5, 1915.

G. M. BRAXTON, Proprietor.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

Some of It May Interest You; All Of It Is Worth a Perusal

Judge Sapp is not excessively fond of walking, but he nevertheless took a nice long walk last Sunday. The distance from L. D. Divilbess' ranch is only about eight miles, but it seemed longer to Judge Sapp last Sunday when he traversed it afoot. The cause of the judge's unusual feat of pedestrianism was an accident to his 4d automobile while driving with his family. When all efforts to repair the machine failed, there was nothing left to be done excepting to come to town and get another car. This Judge Sapp did and brought his family home. The 4d required the service of an ambulance, and was not brought in until Tuesday.

Last Monday in the superior court the calendar was called and the cases thereon were set for trial. Judge Sapp has set the first Monday in December as the date for the beginning of a jury session of the court, and many of the cases on the docket will be disposed of at that time. Several attorneys from other towns were present in court Monday to look after cases in which they are interested. Among these were J. E. Jones of Flagstaff and E. P. Conwell of Winslow.

Caroline, the nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amado Montano, died at her home in Holbrook last Monday morning from typhoid fever, complicated with pneumonia. She had been ill for nearly three weeks with typhoid fever, and was thought to be on the road to recovery, when she was stricken with pneumonia. Funeral services and burial occurred Tuesday morning.

Geo. W. Hennessey, county supervisor, returned last Monday morning from Albuquerque, where he had been with his wife since she was taken to the hospital. Mrs. Hennessey is recovering rapidly from the effects of the surgical operation she withstood, and as soon as she is strong enough to travel, Mr. Hennessey will go to Albuquerque and accompany her home.

Charles Thomas is building a reservoir on his ranch south of the river and will convert it into a lake for fish. The artesian well recently put down by Mr. Thomas feeds the lake, which will be stocked in the spring with black bass from the U. S. fisheries at Washington. The lake will be about 100 yards square.

Mrs. Garrison arrived in Holbrook last Friday evening from Seattle, Wash., where she had been visiting a son. She was called here by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Kelly. The latter has been ill of typhoid fever, but has passed the critical period of the disease, and is now improving.

James Donohoe, the well known stockman of Adamana, was a pleasant business caller at The News office last Monday. Mr. Donohoe has just had a large cattle barn built on his ranch, the work having been done by Jack Jolly of Holbrook.

B. B. Crosby was in Holbrook Saturday and Sunday from his ranch home near Eagar, arranging for the shipment of some stock.

Attorney W. H. Burbage of Winslow was in Holbrook last Saturday attending to business in superior court.

Miss Dee M. Moss visited relatives in Winslow last Sunday.

Loy Turbeville, the well known stockman of Pinto, spent last Saturday and Sunday in Holbrook.

E. J. Marty, the prosperous trader with the Navajo Indians at Indian Wells, was a business visitor to Holbrook last Monday.

Call and examine our new fall and winter stock of ladies' ready-to-wear suits. It will please you both in style and price. H. H. Scorse. tf.

Emmett Wallace and family, of Adamana, were guests at the home of Mr. Wallace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace, in Holbrook last Sunday.

Place your orders now for coal with the Carbon City Lumber Co. They handle the Victor American Fuel Co's jump coal, best on the market. tf.

James Elton Clark of Kingman, solicitor for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, has been in Holbrook this week working for business.

The A. & B. Schuster Co. are quoting some special prices in their display ad. this week. It will pay the readers of The News to give the ad a careful perusal.

Geo. H. Keyes, cashier of the Bank of Winslow, was a business visitor to Holbrook Tuesday. The editor of The News had a pleasant visit with the gentleman while in town.

Telephone your orders to the Holbrook Bakery for fresh bread and all kinds of pastry. Baking is done every day, and satisfaction is guaranteed. tf.

The regular Monday evening services in the Methodist church were not held this week, Rev. Cole, the pastor, joining with Mr. Greenman, who was holding services in the court room.

Adolph Schuster, senior member of the A. & B. Schuster Co., left here Tuesday evening for his home in Los Angeles, after a month's sojourn in Holbrook. He was accompanied by Max Schuster, who will spend several weeks in California.

Chauncey Woods returned last Monday evening from Denver, where he had been visiting friends for two weeks. Tuesday he began his duties as assistant to Postmaster Osborne, taking the place made vacant by the retirement of Mr. Biggs.

How about electric fixtures for your home? Call on W. H. Clark; he has catalogs from which you can select, and will make delivered prices, cash with order. tf.

Chas. P. Cooley drove down from his ranch Thursday evening, attended to some business here and returned home the same night. Mrs. Cooley is at the home of her father in Chanute, Kansas, but is expected to return home in a few days, the health of her parent being greatly improved.

C. B. Wood, postmaster of Phoenix, was burned to death in his country home last Sunday evening by a fire that originated from an exploding coal oil lamp. The postmaster had gone to his home near Phoenix to examine some papers he kept there. He was alone when the explosion of the lamp occurred and was burned to death before help could reach him. Mr. Wood was prominent in the democratic party of Arizona; he had held the office of postmaster of Phoenix for about a year. A wife and three children survive him.

Judge Sapp held a night session of court last Friday in order that the taking of testimony in the suit of the Snowflake-Taylor Irrigation Co. vs. The Navajo-Apache Bank & Trust Co. might be concluded. This case had occupied the time of the court for two days and it was finished late Friday evening, so far as the submission of testimony is concerned. The court granted time to each side for the preparation and filing of briefs, and upon these briefs and the evidence submitted the case will be decided.

Judge F. W. Perkins of Coconino county was in Holbrook last Saturday and occupied the bench in superior court in the trial of a case in which Judge Sapp was disqualified. This was the case of Wooster vs. Jos. F. Woods et al. The trial of the case was concluded, but decision was postponed by the court to a future time.

Albert Warren, the tailor, wishes to announce that he has practically recovered from his recent injuries, and that he is now able to handle all business brought to his shop. Cleaning, pressing and altering done, as always, in the best and most modern manner. Prices reasonable.

J. C. Lathrop has made some changes in his billiard parlor this week. An additional pool table has been provided, and a re-arrangement of the furniture has been made. The changes have added considerable to the appearance of the billiard room, and also to its convenience.

J. S. Hatcher, of Pagosa Springs, Colo., has been in Holbrook this week buying lambs for shipment to the Omaha market. During the shipping season, which is now at its best, Mr. Hatcher has purchased a large number of lambs, and has paid good prices for them.

Manager Black of the U. S. theatre states an addition to his theatre building will be started in a few days. This addition will enlarge the seating capacity at least 50 per cent, and when finished the theatre will be capable of comfortably accommodating all the people who attend.

The contract for furnishing coal to the county offices was awarded last Monday by the board of supervisors to the Carbon City Lumber Co. of Holbrook. This company's bid for the best grade of coal was $7.50 per ton, delivered in 5-ton lots.

Rev. J. M. White, pastor of the Episcopal church in Winslow, will preach in the Methodist church in Holbrook next Wednesday evening, Nov. 10. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Fancy mince-meat and plum pudding received at Wetzler's.

J. J. Cassidy, architect of the new school building in St. Joseph, states that the contractors have started the foundation and that they already have considerable material for the building on the ground.

J. H. Woods has purchased the interest of his brother, W. B. Woods, in the Holbrook Ice and Transfer Co. and will continue the business under the name of the Western Transfer Co.

Burr W. Porter of Navajo was in Holbrook Thursday evening. Mr. Porter expects to leave in a few days to join his wife who is visiting relatives in Los Angeles.

Buy a box of good apples at Wetzler's.

W. J. Stehle of Winslow was a business visitor to Holbrook Tuesday.

Sheriff R. L. Newman attended to official business in Manila yesterday.

Stansell Greer of St. Johns was registered at Hotel Holbrook Tuesday night.

J. A. Thompson of Flagstaff was a business visitor to Holbrook Tuesday.

L. G. Shanklin, a hardware merchant of Gallup, was in Holbrook Tuesday.

Mrs. C. H. Jordan returned Thursday evening from a week's visit with friends in Gallup.

County Attorney C. H. Jordan was in Winslow Wednesday looking after some official business.

H. W. Despain has resumed his former position as driver of one of the wagons for the A. C. M. I.

L. W. Mickey, local livestock inspector, spent last Monday in Navajo attending to the duties of his office.

G. M. Purcell of Los Angeles, livestock buyer for the Cudahy Co., spent several days in Holbrook this week.

C. H. Brown is arranging to ship several thousand head of sheep. Shipment will probably be made today or tomorrow.

Mrs. Adolph Schuster has returned to her home in Los Angeles, after a month's visit in Holbrook and Springville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Hunt, of St. Joseph, are the proud parents of a fine 7½-pound baby boy, born Sunday, Oct. 31. All are doing nicely.

L. F. Verkamp of Flagstaff was in Holbrook several days this week superintending the shipment of sheep for his firm—Babbitt Bros.

E. E. Oldaker of Flagstaff, member of the State Sanitary commission, is in this vicinity this week, looking after the duties of his position.

S. W. Jaques, the well known wool grower of Lakeside, has been in Holbrook several days arranging for the shipment of a large bunch of lambs.

Ed. Hennessey is spending this week at his home in Holbrook and is superintending some improvements in his residence property. A barn is being built and the site will be fenced.

Get your stove now at Wetzler's.

Geo. W. and Ed. Hennessey, the well known stockmen, unloaded a car of baled alfalfa hay Thursday. The hay had been bought in Phoenix, and cost when delivered in Holbrook $16 per ton.

The new Catholic church is practically finished; the carpenter work has been completed, with the exception of some finishing touches in the interior, and the exterior of the building has been painted.

Geo. Scott, well known wool grower of Showlow, returned Thursday morning from a business trip to Mesa, where he established his family in their winter home. Mr. Scott will join his family in Mesa tomorrow.

The work of putting in poles and wire for the electric light system has been stopped for a few days owing to a shortage of material. A new supply is expected in a day or two and when it arrives the work will be rushed to completion.

Cotton felt mattresses will be considerably higher; buy one now at Wetzler's.

F. H. Hathorn returned this morning from Indianapolis, Ind., where he purchased a tire vulcanizing plant, which he will establish in the Jos. F. Woods building, near the postoffice, as soon as it reaches Holbrook. Mr. Hathorn went to Indianapolis three weeks ago and while there took a thorough course in the vulcanizing business. He is now competent to run a business of his own and expects to get a large amount of work. The plant he purchased is the best manufactured and is equipped to do first-class work.

Mr. Steele, the electrician, wishes to state that he is in a position to sell any kind of electrical appliances, such as irons, fixtures, vibrators, motors, etc., and will not only save you the middleman's profit, but guarantee to keep all the above in repair for one year free of additional cost. See him first before you order; he understands what electrical current will do, and will supply you accordingly.

A the last meeting of the board of county supervisors C. E. Perkins, county engineer, and Miss Dee M. Moss, clerk of the board, were instructed to attend a meeting of the engineers of the state and the clerks of the county boards, which will be held in Phoenix Nov. 17. Miss Moss and Mr. Perkins expect to attend the meeting.

Julius Wetzler has a force of men putting in cement walks in front of his own and other people's property in the west end of town. His prices for good walks are reasonable and residents in that part of town are hoping that such walks will be built into the business section of town.

Mr. Clair M. Osman and Miss May Edwards, Adamana, were united in marriage last Wednesday by Judge Sapp. The ceremony was performed in the judge's chambers and was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell, of Adamana.

A convention of the Young Men's Christian associations of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas will be held in El Paso from the eleventh to fourteenth of this month. A good program has been arranged.

New arrivals this week at Wetzler's: Library tables, parlor tables, brass and iron bedsteads, cotton felt mattresses, rockers, dining room chairs, extension tables, stoves and ranges.

W. W. Newman expects to leave Holbrook Saturday morning with his family for Phoenix, where they will spend the winter. They will make the trip by automobile and will go by way of Globe.

Several eastern states held elections last Tuesday. In New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania the question of suffrage for women was defeated by large majorities.

All the delicacies of the season now at Wetzler's.

The Lost House

The above is the title of a four-reel Mutual Masterpiece that will be shown at the U. S. theatre tomorrow night. This is a photo-drama based on Richard Harding Davis' celebrated story of that name; it is a thrilling story of life in Kentucky and its presentation by Manager Black at his theatre is cause for rejoicing among the patrons of moving picture shows. The price of admission for The Lost House will be the usual price—15 cents.

The Sunday nights' bill will be two parts of the Lucile Love serial, and in addition will give two comedies.

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE.

A Peril Always to Be Met Promptly on Board Ship.

It was on board the Northern Light, says Captain Osbon in "A Sailor of Fortune," that a false alarm of fire was sounded and disaster prevented only by prompt action. A passenger, looking down through the boiler hatch, saw the red painted boiler fronts and, seeing the flame-like color amid a cloud of steam shouted "Fire!" Immediately the whole vessel was in an uproar, and a dangerous panic was imminent. I was one of the under-officers.

The climax came when the quartermaster saw a minister of the gospel on the rail trying to lower the bow of one of the ship's boats. I ran to him and ordered him to come down on deck. The minister paid no attention, and I seized his coattail to drag him down by force.

Perhaps it was an old coat, for the seams parted, and a second later I had the ministerial coattail in my hands. He came down then. He was angry and was likewise a spectacle to look upon.

He started to call an indignation meeting, but most of the passengers had recovered from their fright by this time and were inclined to be merry at the reverend gentleman's expense.

He went raging to the captain, who summoned me to appear. I came, still carrying the coattail in my hand.

"Mr. Osbon," he said, "what are your orders in case of a false alarm of fire?"

"My orders," I said, "are to stop it by any means necessary. I may knock a man down, throttle him or split him wide open."

The captain turned to the irate minister.

"Those are Mr. Osbon's orders," he said. "You are fortunate that it was only your coat that was split open."

The danger from the false alarm of fire on shipboard is second only to the real thing and is always a peril to be met promptly.

"Home" in Our Language.

In no other language, according to the London Telegraph, is there a word expressing the ideas and associations which are aroused at the sound of the simple yet heart touching word "home." A Frenchman once translated Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," and in his hands the beautiful line "The night is dark, and I am far from home," became "La nuit est sombre, et je suis loin de mon foyer," the translator having been obliged to use for home the French word which describes the green room of a theater. The Italian and Spanish "casa," the German "haus"—their "heim" is too general to have any particular value—and the Russian "doma" all refer to a building of some kind or other and have none of the memories and associations that cluster round the precious English word.

Famous Boys.

A boy used to crush the flowers to get their color and painted the white side of his father's cottage in Tyrol with all sorts of pictures, which the mountaineer gazed at as wonderful. He was the great artist Titian.

An old painter watched a little fellow who amused himself making drawings of his pot and brushes, easel and stool, and said, "That boy will beat me some day." So he did, for he was Michelangelo.

A German boy was reading a blood and thunder novel. Right in the midst of it he said to himself: "Now this will never do. I get too much excited over it. I can't study so well after it. So here goes!" And he flung the book out into the river. He was Fichte, the great German philosopher.

Withered.

Caller—You call this garden scene "June," but the leaves are all on the ground instead of on the trees.

D'Auber—They were on the trees, but the picture got such a withering criticism from the committee that they curled up and fell off.—London Tit-Bits.

Cruel.

"Did you see the diamond engagement ring George gave me?"

"Did I see it? I'm the first girl that wore it."—Houston Post.