A Memorable Day for Masons

Saturday, August 19th, was a day long to be remembered by the Masons residing in Holbrook and vicinity, as it was then that the cornerstone of the new temple being erected was laid with solemn and impressive ceremony by the Grand Lodge of Arizona Masons. Grand Master F. W. Perkins, of Flagstaff, conducting the services, assisted by other grand lodge officers from other parts of the state, as well as members of the local lodge.

The day was an ideal one, a large crowd of citizens were present and the local lodge and visitors marched from their present hall to the site of the new temple about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. After the ritualistic ceremony, which consisted of depositing a leaden casket containing various papers and lowering and cementing the cornerstone in place, a polished and forceful address was delivered by Past Grand Master R. N. Frederick of Prescott. The lodge then returned to the hall. The cornerstone is a fine piece of work and demonstrates what can be done with native sandstone in the way of cutting, the work thereon being excellent and shows the emblem of the order, the date of the laying of the same, as well as the date of the establishment of the lodge and the trustees in charge of the building.

In the evening the Grand Master paid an official visit to the lodge, when the first degree was conferred, followed by a banquet. The local lodge is especially appreciative of the fact that so many visitors from other lodges and parts of the state were present, among whom were: Fred W. Perkins, Grand Master, C. F. Leonard, Phoenix; F. G. Brown, E. S. Clark, J. H. Robinson, Prescott; R. N. Frederick, E. B. Newman, Flagstaff; W. H. Chamberlain, Albuquerque; Lew Mickey, Gila Valley; J. A. Settles, Washington, D. C.; Luther Calahan, Idabel, Okla.; J. H. Lionberger, Paze, Ky.; J. C. Lathrop, R. C. Creswell, W. W. Parr, C. E. Easley, J. F. Mahoney, J. H. Gibson, R. G. Kaufman, M. J. Pares, Winslow. Regular members of Holbrook lodge that were present: L. C. Henning, Sidney Sapp, W. B. Wood, C. H. Hess, J. Wm. R. Scorse, Jas. H. Scorse, Jas. Scott, C. H. Jordan, W. J. Hookway, L. D. Divilbess, F. V. Barber, W. M. Newman, F. A. Zuck, Fred Wetzler, J. C. Paulsell, C. K. Kelley, G. W. Hennessey, J. Frank Mathews, Alfonse Blum, D. W. Ealsey and W. G. Clemons.

Woman's Party Conducting Strenuous Campaign in Arizona
(Contributed)

With the whole of Arizona organized by districts and counties under Mrs. St. Clair Thompson, a brisk campaign of precinct organization that is taking in the smallest villages and trading posts in this state is now going forward, with Miss Iris Calderhead of Kansas and Miss Vivian Pierce of California working with Mrs. Thompson. The outsider has but to look at the map of Arizona to realize the enormous difficulties of this work. The distances covered are tremendous, the settlements in northern Arizona covered being far apart and covering country of wonderful wildness and beauty.

Skirting the painted desert and stopping at Indian trading posts and scattered ranch houses these organizers have found college women, wives of cattlemen, in remote hamlets who have Ibsen and Strindberg on their bookshelves but who have not seen a daily paper for weeks. In this democratic state dozens of these women are turning from their party to vote for the women of the east, putting suffrage first, and helping, and helping themselves in the campaign by undertaking to reach neighboring hamlets and remoter ranches by machine or horseback. There could be nothing more democratic than the campaign of the woman's party in Arizona under these unusual circumstances.

Suffragist' eagerly. Mrs. St. Clair Thompson went to Chambers, a settlement of scattered ranches, where Mrs. Ola V. Phelps, a college woman, undertook precinct work, and will cover the remotest ranches before September 15.

During this week Miss Calderhead will continue to hold meetings in Apache county at St. Johns, Springerville and Greer; Miss Pierce will work in Coconino and Mojave counties, speaking in Flagstaff and Kingman, while Mrs. Thompson will leave for Prescott to arrange for a large mass meeting at which many prominent Arizona women and these organizers will present the campaign plans of the Woman's Party.

Strike May be Averted

The threatened strike of trainmen on 225 railroads of the country, which has been called to go into effect next Monday morning at 7 o'clock, may be averted by the enactment of an 8-hour law by congress. Both the senate and house are rushing an 8-hour law to passage and the chances are good that it will be enacted by Saturday night. In such event the labor organizations will call off the strike and the entire country will begin again to breathe easier.

Since the strike was called nearly a week ago the Santa Fe railway has been busy in getting ready for any trouble that might occur. Stookades have been built at Winslow and other terminals, and a request has been made by officials of the company for the appointment of deputy sheriffs to protect company property. This request was granted by Sheriff Newman of this county, and a number of deputies will be appointed today.

J. M. Lee, agent for the Santa Fe in Holbrook, as also other agents of the company, received Thursday morning instructions to operate at least one train each way daily for the transportation of passengers, mail and express. Intending travelers are to be notified, however, that the company will not be responsible for any delays after the time set for the strike, 7 o'clock Labor day morning.

The Santa Fe will receive property, except perishable goods, livestock and explosive, for shipment after 7 o'clock Monday morning subject to indefinite delay. Mr. Lee yesterday notified shippers on what condition perishable goods would be received for shipment. After the time set for the strike perishable goods will not be accepted for transportation.

Mr. Lee also received the notice to employees stating that employees failing to respond to call for duty will be considered discharged.

While most of the railroads in the country are prepared to operate some of their trains, a strike of the trainmen if allowed to proceed would demoralize business of every kind in the country, and the probability that it will be called off before it is commenced is cause for rejoicing.

Fall Opening Tomorrow

The first annual fall opening of the Holbrook Mercantile Company will occur tomorrow, Saturday, September 2. This handsome store, just equipped with beautiful oak fixtures, will open tomorrow for the inspection of the public a very complete line of ladies' and children's coats, suits and dresses. The lines have been especially purchased for the fall and winter trade and they should be inspected by every lover of good clothes. Visitors tomorrow will be greeted with attractive floral decorations and an effort will be made by the owners to make every visitor a future customer.

Prospect Good for Railroad

F. H. Bowen, of Red Key, Indiana, formerly president of the Navajo Southern Railroad Company, has been in Holbrook and vicinity for the last ten days completing a reorganization of a similar company for the purpose of constructing such a railroad and the mills for the working of the timber of the White Mountain belt. Mr. Bowen is a gentleman of much energy and corresponding ability as well as being of pleasant address. He states that the working capital is pledged and that nearly all of the preliminaries have been completed. The line will extend from Holbrook into the heart of the timber and will be of standard gauge. The depot, freight ware houses and mills will be located at and adjoining Holbrook. It is contemplated that construction work will commence in February, 1917. The articles of incorporation of the company appear in this issue.

Strike May be Averted

Mr. Bowen is at present in the east on business connected with the enterprise but will soon return. We trust that Holbrook will extend every reasonable inducement to further and encourage this industry which is knocking at our door.
