St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and it induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."

Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted, by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE WAVES

To the waves said old Mother Ocean, "My children, why are you so rough?" Said they, "Mother Ocean, we're really polite. These actions are naught but a bluff!"

"Well," Mother Ocean said, "you bluff very well at times."

"We do," roared the waves; "we do." And their roaring laughter could be heard all about.

"You see," they said, "it is such fun to play and we have such jolly leaders and then they settle in the sea for a rest before continuing their flight. This piece of wood is carried to serve them as a rest to float on while they refresh their wearied wings. When the geese reach the outer shores of Japan they no longer need these wood floats and they drop them just where they land. Now the good village folk know that these visiting geese need these floats again, and they never burn or use them in any way all the cold winter long. In the spring when it is time for the geese to make their way home to the north again they all flock to the shores where they landed and each goose picking up the float he brought with him takes to the air and flies home over the seas."

But there are many geese which never live to take the homeward path again and when all the living geese are gone away there still remains a sad, pathetic pile of floats which no geese will ever come to claim again.

The fishing folk are a simple folk and their hearts are clean and kind. Here on the "outside shores" they gather all the floats no geese have come to take, and carrying them to the nearby temples prepare a mighty fire beneath a huge kettle filled with water from the temple well. Then while the fire burns the priests pray for the souls of the geese who will never return. All the villagers then enter the great kettle and bathe in the water heated by the burning floats. For it is proper and good when man's soul is sad for the souls of the dead that a present should be given to all who attend the sacred ceremony. And this bath, heated with the little legacy the geese have left behind, is the present the villagers who so simply and kindly offer prayers, receive for their thoughtful regard for the dead geese's souls.—Exchange.

A Regrettable Favor.

About a year ago when Mr. and Mrs. Elmer N. Powell returned from a party late one night to their home in the Knickerbocker apartments, Mr. Powell discovered he had failed to take along his house keys. After falling in every effort to open a door or window, he was finally driven to the extremity of breaking a window pane in order to unfasten the night latch. As the glass tinkled he gave vent to vocal comment on the general carelessness of things that had made such action necessary.

As he spoke the voice of Judge Kimbrough Stone came from the window of the next apartment:

"I am mighty glad you spoke, Powell. I had my own leveled at you and was just about to shoot."

One day last week Mr. Powell found himself on the same street car bound downtown, with the Judge and Mrs. Stone. Mrs. Stone explained that she was taking her husband with her to help select Christmas gifts, and Mr. Powell suggested that she should keep the judge with her long enough to sign the checks.

"Now, Powell," said Judge Stone, "after that you make me almost sorry I didn't succeed in shooting you last winter."—Kansas City Star.

Forest Monarch Gone.

The Rainier National forest has lost a king. A giant spruce tree whose age is estimated at 4,000 years, has fallen a victim to the recent north-western storm. This specimen of the earliest of Pacific coast trees measured 19 feet thick at the place where it was broken. Forest rangers will attempt to count its rings to determine definitely its age. The tree stood near the road leading to Mount Rainier and has been viewed by thousands of tourists. At Raymond, near here, several cedar trees, long revered by the forest dwellers as monarchs, were blown down. One was 11 feet in diameter at stump height and the other about ten feet. Not for years have so many gigantic trees fallen in storms as during the recent sleet and snow hurricane.

He Believed in Fairness.

Am't Jane was thirty-five and unmarried. A freshly bereaved widower had come to call on her a few times when her family began to make objections. Stormily she retorted to them, "You can't expect me to want to live and die an old maid—can you?" Her nine-year-old nephew, Jimmie, looked at her earnestly. "You've loved an old maid, auntie," he said soberly, "and it does look like you ought to have a husband when you die." And even Auntie censored arguing.—Indianapolis News.

Slight Favor Requested.

An eastern college graduate applied for work in a Michigan lumber camp and was assigned to one end of a cross saw, the other end being in charge of an old and experienced lumberman. At the end of an hour the veteran stopped sawing and regarded his weary partner with pitying eyes. "Sonny," he said, "I don't mind your riding on this saw, but if it's just the same to you, I wish you'd quit scraping your feet on the ground."

Cleanliness.

"I can stand for most anything" except a feller bein' dirty," remarked Lew Cornstassel to the bunch gathered around the cracker barrel in the general store. "There's old Abe Scroggins, for instance, who's so durned ornery he only takes a bath twice a year. I ain't much fer braggin', but as fer back as I kin remember I ain't never missed takin' a bath on the first Friday of every month, summer or winter."—The Leatherneck.

PAY TRIBUTE TO THE LOST

Primitive Japanese Have Ritual for the Souls of Wild Geese That Never Will Return.

A most charming bath custom observed every spring, even to this day, in the fishing villages on the shores of the Pacific ocean, the Soto Ga Hama, the "outside shores" as the Japanese call them, is the gamburo.

These village people tell how the geese which come flying across the seas to winter in the land of the rising sun always carry in their bills a small piece of wood. When they are worn out from flying, the long lines of the migrating birds are halted by their leaders and then they settle in the sea for a rest before continuing their flight. This piece of wood is carried to serve them as a rest to float on while they refresh their wearied wings. When the geese reach the outer shores of Japan they no longer need these wood floats and they drop them just where they land. Now the good village folk know that these visiting geese need these floats again, and they never burn or use them in any way all the cold winter long. In the spring when it is time for the geese to make their way home to the north again they all flock to the shores where they landed and each goose picking up the float he brought with him takes to the air and flies home over the seas.

Fall Buys Big Ranch.

Carrizozo, N. M.—One of the biggest real estate deals in this part of the state for some time was closed when the Harris ranch, known for many years as the Three Rivers Land and Cattle Company property, was purchased by Secretary of the Interior A. B. Fall. The property has one of the finest orchards in the state, a large acreage of alfalfa and many acres of grazing land. The consideration was not given, but it is supposed to be large as the ranch is one of the most valuable properties in the state.

$1,935,000 for Air Mail Service.

Washington.—With provisions for the air mail service eliminated, the annual postoffice appropriation bill, carrying approximately $554,000,000, was favorably reported by the House appropriations committee. As drafted by a subcommittee, the measure provided $1,935,000 for the air mail service during the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The full committee, however, in approving the bill struck out this section. The total carried in the measure is $24,707,976 less than the appropriations for the current fiscal year and $24,735,091 less than the amount requested by the budget bureau.

U. S. Is Financial Center.

Washington.—America is the unchallenged Goliath of the financial world, the annual report of D. R. Crissinger, comptroller of the currency, made public shows. From a heavy debtor nation in 1914 she has emerged the greatest creditor nation in the world's history. Her banking power during the intervening seven years has increased nearly 85 per cent and her $1,200 banks can marshal cash and credit estimated at more than $48,200,000,000.

Reduction Through Freight Rates.

Jefferson City, Mo.—Attorney General Barret of Missouri declared that relief from high retail prices and price-fixing combinations must come through a reduction of freight rates and not through activity in rural districts, in replying to a letter from Attorney General Daugherty. YOST QUILTS PICKING CRACK GRIDIRON MEN

Coach Says Practice Tends to Strain Relations.

Impossible to See All Teams in Action and Therefore Unable to Make Selections Agreeable to All Schools.

Coach Fielding H. (Hurry) Yost, for 29 years director of the University of Michigan's football eleven, has picked his last All-Western conference football team.

Coach Yost made known his decision when asked to select a mythical eleven, as had been his custom in past years. "It should be the duty of coaches to foster a spirit of good will among the various members of the Big Ten, and the selection of All-Conference teams is likely to strain, rather than cement these relations," Yost said.

"No coach sees all the teams in the conference in action each year and therefore he is unable to make selections agreeable to all the schools. Another matter to be considered is that each coach is tempted to be a little partial toward his own men. That is human nature, and it is hard to overcome. I believe it is better for all concerned not to try to pick an All-Conference eleven.

"The practice eventually might lead to bickering among the conference members, and that is a danger all should avoid in every way possible."

CADETS OBJECT TO ROWING

Absolutely No Foundation to Story That West Point Would Take Up the Sport.

Army will not take up rowing as a sport, according to a statement made by Capt. M. B. Ridgway, executive for athletics. Captain Ridgway said that the story concerning a crew at West Point has absolutely no foundation, and, in fact, that such a proposition has never been seriously considered and probably never would be.

Conditions in this sport at the Naval and Military academies are entirely different. Rowing is an essential element for an officer of the navy. For an army officer rowing would be merely an accomplishment. Purely as a sport its expense and the time required for its development would place it beyond consideration for the cadets.

LAND OF WEALTH

Potentialities of Western Canada Abundantly Proved.

Prizes Taken at International Live Stock Exposition Show What Land Is Capable of Producing.

Forty years ago the first sale was made of lands acquired by the Canadian Pacific railway. This is but a short span in the lives of many, and there are those who look back upon that period as it being but of yesterday. Yet when one glances back it is to marvel at the accomplishments of that period. One of the most striking of these is the progress that has been made in Western Canada since that day, forty years ago, when an official of the railway placed his signature to the document that gave possession to the new owner of a section of land. This was the first sign of the wealth that in time would be added to the wealth of the world in forty years, this single section of land being the base upon which the future would be built. The potential wealth was in embryo; today it is a big, living reality. Among the many things that reveal this, may be seen the winnings made by Western Canada exhibitors at the International Live Stock show held in Chicago in 1921. These were so marked in their number as to give to the world—the American world—a splendid idea of the excellence of the products of the farms of the new but rapidly developing country lying to the north of the international boundary line.

The results of the exhibition show, according to the Manitoba Free Press, that in live stock and grain exhibits the three prairie provinces of Canada made something like 150 winnings. Every animal sent from the province of Alberta won a prize. Exhibits included Shorthorn and Hereford cattle and Percheron and Clydesdale horses. An Alberta-bred heifer got fourth place in a class of eighteen outstanding individuals. In grain, Alberta made simply an astounding record, securing the sweepstakes for oats, and eight or nine prizes before even the American exhibitors secured a placing, and while the grand championship for wheat went to Montana, the prairie provinces took 23 out of 25 possible placings. The first prize for alfalfa seed was awarded for seed grown at Brooks, Alberta, in competition with 43 entries. Alfalfa-growing in Western Canada has been increasing by leaps and bounds, and this victory will give it and the dairy industry, which is always linked with it, a further impetus.

In live stock classes alone Saskatchewan had sixty entries and took sixty-four ribbons.

The winning of the grand championship for Clydesdale stallions by a Saskatchewan horse, for the second time in succession, was almost exceptional. He was bred on a Western Canada farm, fitted and prepared for exhibition there, and able to win over horses shown from the studs of men who have unlimited money to spend on the breeding and preparation of their exhibits. This is proof positive that the farmers of Western Canada are not only in a position to breed their own horse power, and that of a very high quality, but to breed horses that will be saleable in any market of the world.

Manitoba takes 'pride in the fact that a Percheron stallion, first in his class and Canadian-bred champion, was bred by Vance, of Crandall, Manitoba. Manitoba took 64 places outside of the grain exhibits.

When all is said and done, the real triumphs are the wins of both live stock and grains actually produced in the great Canadian provinces.

Commenting upon the enterprise of agriculturists of Western Canada in sending exhibits to the International Live Stock exposition at Chicago, the New York Herald in a recent issue said: "Western Canada is encouraging diversified farming in a way certain to bring an increased flow of dollars into the pockets of agriculturists, who at one time devoted their energies exclusively to the raising of grain crops."

Important to all Women

Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Have You A Daughter?

How to Take Proper Care of Her Health

Hastings, Neb.—"When I was about sixteen years of age I caught a severe cold which caused irregularity and suffering. My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and four bottles of it completely restored my health. And in all these years I have not had the least sign of woman's weakness, but have always maintained unusual health, which I think is due entirely to the Favorite Prescription that my mother gave to me when I was developing. I have been enthusiastically recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for forty years and shall continue to do so as long as I live."—Mrs. Eden Heun, 211 N. Burlington Ave.

MOTHER! MOVE

CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry, mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sore, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

If the danger arrives promptly enough, one may be saved a lot of superfluous fright.
