THE ROOSEVELT OVATION LASTS FOR OVER AN HOUR CHICAGO FAIRLY GOES WILD

PRELUDE TO ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH ONE OF THE GREATEST INCIDENTS OF ANY POLITICAL GATHERING FOR YEARS. STORMS OF CHEERING MARK DAY'S SESSION. CROWD SINGS, BANDS PLAY AND BANDANAS WAVE.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—When Col. Roosevelt, after finishing his speech at 3:39 p. m., had left the coliseum, the business of the convention was resumed, the report of the credentials committee unseating the negro delegates from the South being adopted without debate.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Theodore Roosevelt delivered his "confession of faith" to the National Progressive convention today, but as a preliminary the Colonel was compelled to stand for nearly an hour witnessing one of the most enthusiastic demonstrations of cheering ever seen in a political convention, before he could begin his speech.

When the California delegation entered the Coliseum shortly before noon the man in the north gallery struck up the "Star Spangled Banner," and when a Southern state's delegation came in the band at the other end played "Dixie" at the same time as an evidence that the North and the South were on equal terms in the convention.

Members of the Pennsylvania delegation started an old time revival song, "We will follow on," but the words were changed, "We will follow Roosevelt, anywhere he will lead we will follow on."

When Chairman Beveridge rapped for order, he was greeted with a storm of cheers.

A telegram from W. R. Nelson, editor of the Kansas City Star, was read by Secretary Davis and aroused a storm of applause. It said in part: "Have never missed a chance to place a bet on Roosevelt and never lost."

The whole convention and galleries then joined in singing America and they did it with a fervor that was religious. It did not at all smack of the usual spirit of political conventions where delegates have gathered only to ratify a nomination made by a national committee. This was followed by Dixie, which also made a hit.

Then came Roosevelt and ponderous manum broke loose. The Colonel tried to stop it, but there was no stop to it.

As he drum corps of the southern veterans struck up Dixie the Colonel tapped with his foot and then in delirium of joy the delegates started the day. Colonel Roosevelt was escorted to the coliseum soon after noon.

REBELS MOVE

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—The desertion of Los Angeles and the making of El Centro and Brawley, in Imperial Valley, the headquarters of the Mexican rebel junta, is the latest move of the Oroscos followers, says Pedro Martin, a Mexican secret agent, who returned today after locating the so-called rebel bandit chief, De la Toba, who is strongly entrenched near the boundary line.

CONTRABAND CHINESE WERE CAPTURED

FOUR OF THEM WITH A MEXICAN GUIDE, TAKEN BY IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS SUNDAY NIGHT NEAR NOGALES, ALSO ONE GUIDE.

Sunday Mr. A. J. Milliken, United States Immigration Inspector in charge at Nogales, received information to the effect that a party of Chinese, seeking to evade the exclusion act, were preparing to leave Nogales, Son., under guidance of two Mexicans who had contracted to deliver them to Tucson. Taking with him immigrant inspectors John T. Brickwood, Jr., and J. G. Harns, and Custom's Inspector George N. Sayre, Mr. Milliken made to the line shortly after dark, going to the canyon that leads across the line from the vicinity of the grave yard on the Sonora side. Messrs. Milliken and Brickwood stationed themselves close to the line, and the other two were further up the canyon. They had not been there more than an hour before their watch was rewarded by the approach of the expected party. First came one of the guides, who proceeded cautiously quite away in advance. Then followed the four contraband celestials, and behind them at a distance was the other guide.

By the time the rear guide had crossed the line and was in a situation to be intercepted to prevent his escape across into Mexico, the leading guide had passed the second party of inspectors some distance, and the Chinamen were right abreast of them.

From a signal from Milliken that he had closed in, the Chinese were stopped by one of the inspectors where they were, and the other started after the guide; but he sought safety in flight, throwing away his slicker and a parcel of lunch he had prepared for use on the road.

At the immigration office the guide captured gave the name of Manuel Miranda, and stated that this was the first connection he had ever with Chinese smuggling operations, and that he had been induced to go into it by the man who had escaped. This morning the Chinese were examined by the immigration officials, through the official interpreter, Lee Park Lin, who had been summoned from Tucson by telephone. They stated that they had engaged the two men to guide them from Nogales, Sonora, to Tucson. Three of them had been in the United States, having with them valid certificates of residence. All four will be held as witnesses against the guide, who will be given examination in due time. When the federal authorities are through with them as witnesses they will be returned to Mexico, and the certificates of residence appropriated, as the holders have forfeited them by leaving the country without permission.

"Confession of Faith," Epoch-Making Address

TEDDY ROOSEVELT BLAZES BRIGHT TRAIL OF HOPE FOR THE PEOPLE

ARIZONA NEWSPAPERS IN FIGHT FOR ROOSEVELT AND PEOPLE

PUBLIC OPINION NOT TIED TO THE LARGE NUMBER OF ULTRA CONSERVATIVE CORPORATION NEWSPAPERS. NOTABLE EXAMPLES OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT CREATED BY SMALL NUMBER OF PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPERS FIGHTING FOR THE RIGHT.

The Globe Weekly Republican, official paper of Gila county, has announced for "Theodore Roosevelt of America," and a platform, "Thou shalt not steal;" and so the good work goes on. The Globe Daily Silver Belt is opposed to both Taft and Wilson; but has not as yet thrown up a Roosevelt flag at the masthead. The Apache Weekly Observer of St. Johns declared for Roosevelt some time ago, but the Examiner is the only daily of the dozen in the state that declared for Roosevelt at the beginning of the fight.

Either Arizona's newspapers are ultra conservative and corporation ruled or lack convictions on the vital issues now confronting the American people. Newspapers may oppose public sentiment for the filthy lucre that there is in it from the "invisible government" source, but experience has shown that such newspapers lose influence and carry little weight when great questions arise though they may be extensively read for the news they contain.

The American people are wiser than they used to be and generally know when a newspaper is fighting for a principle or waiting for the graft that there is in it. It is always true that a handful of fearless and independent newspapers can control more public sentiment than a band wagon full of corruption and graft ruled sheets. A striking example of this is found in the overwhelmingly progressive state of California where it may be said that the largest newspapers were opposed to Johnson and are now opposing Roosevelt. Another very noticeable case is that of Missouri where the Kansas City Star and its fearless editor, Senator Nelson, almost single handedly opposes all the other big newspapers. The same thing holds good in Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and a dozen other big progressive states. The large daily newspapers are almost unanimously opposed to any change in existing political conditions or to any genuine peoples' rule if it can be prevented.

Callis, St. Forest while another located at Hereford is in charge of the west. An outguard of twelve men from troop G. is kept at Naco on patrol duty regularly while other detachments watch the international line at other points. There are about 50 men encamped at Warren.

A BIG GIFT TO THE OLD PIONEER'S HOME

ARIZONA WILL RECEIVE FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS FROM THE PARSON'S ESTATE. FORMER A EERS IN HIS WILL. HE DOUBT LESS REMEMBERS IT WERE THEYRIZONAN REMEMBERS THE PION THAT REDEEMED THE TERRITORY AND THE HARSHIPS THEY ENDURED IN DOING IT—A NOBLE REMEMBRANCE.

Phoenix, Aug. 6.—Fifty thousand dollars in good hard cash has been willed to the Arizona Pioneers' home at Prescott by the late Wilson Parsons of San Francisco, and within a month or so several thousand dollars, first payment, will probably be turned over to the state.

Attorney General Bullard has just returned from California and while in the Golden State he visited San Francisco to look after the interests of the Pioneer home in the settlement of the Parsons' estate.

According to the terms of his will Parsons left two-twelfths of his entire fortune to the Arizona Pioneers' home, and with the settlement of the estate, it was found that this would amount to $50,000.

A part of this is in San Francisco real estate and Bullard has advised the Pioneers' home will receive considerably more money if the sale is delayed a year or so, as the property is rapidly increasing in value.

William Parsons is well remembered by all old time residents of this state, having lived in Tombstone in the early days. He was one of the original locators of the famous contention mine near Tombstone.

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN BED OF RIVER

PRESCOTT HEARS THE NEWS THROUGH HORSEBACK. BODY WAS FOUND BY TWO MEXICANS, AND WAS FIRST DEATH OF THE SUMMER THROUGH SWOLLEN STREAMS, REPORTED.

Prescott, Aug. 6.—The first death of the summer through swollen streams, incidental to the cloudburst at this time of the year, was reported yesterday by F. B. Woodward, who arrived from Phoenix, via Castle creek on horseback.

He states that a middle aged man, evidently a miner was found dead in the Agua Fria river, near Frog tanks, five days ago by two Mexicans who were traveling on foot to Phoenix. There was nothing on the body by which identification could be established. The sum of $2.35 was taken from the pockets of the deceased. The body was nearly nude and bore several bruises from contact with boulders. The Mexicans could give only a vague description of the man. After throwing a few inches of dirt on the remains they continued on their journey.

RACES BETTER THIS YEAR THAN EVER IS BULLARD'S STATEMENT

ATTORNEY GENERAL BACK FROM TALK WITH THE AUTOMOBILE DEALERS REGARDING THE DESERT RACE, AND THINKS IT WILL BE GREAT. SAYS THERE WILL BE FIFTEEN CARS IN IT.

Phoenix, Aug. 6.—"There will be at least fifteen cars in the next Phoenix race, and I look for the greatest contest that has ever been held anywhere between racing automobiles." Thus spoke Attorney General Bullard today. Mr. Bullard has just returned from Los Angeles, where he did his usual amount of work with the auto dealers, to insure the success of the desert classic.

"The purse this year will amount to $6,500, and will be divided 65 per cent to the winner, 25 per cent to second and 10 per cent to third. Of this amount $2500 will be raised by the towns between Los Angeles and Yuma, and $2000 in Phoenix. In addition to this there will be at least fifteen cars entered, each one of which must pay an entrance fee of $100. This money will also be added to the purse," added Mr. Bullard.

"The course this year will not be through San Diego, for the simple reason that the people there do not seem to care to assist in making our race a success unless they get all the advertising and glory from it," he added. In other words it appears that San Diego will not invest a cent to assist a neighboring city unless it is apparent that there money will be returned a hundred fold.

Among the prominent drivers who will take part in the sand struggle are Capt. H. D. Ryus of the Oldsmo-ville people. Teddy Tetzlaff, the Fiat star, and "Frenchy" Baudet of the Cadillac forces. Mr. Bullard stated that there would be two Case cars entered in the race, and despite the oft repeated assertion by Harvey Herrick that he was through racing, Bullard feels sure that when the time for the beginning of the trial trips rolls round, Herrick will be behind the wheel of one of the Case entries.

Bert Dingley, Los Angeles manager for the National, will not take part in the desert race but will undoubtedly ship a car to Phoenix to participate in the track races. Dingley is the man who cleaned up here last year with the big Pope. This year, however, Dingley will meet a foeman worthy of his steel, for Tetzlaff, holder of the world's road race record, will ship two special Fiat racing machines to Phoenix to take part in the track events. Bullard has already been in communication with Barney Oldfield and feels sure that when the time for will also write to the drivers in the Elgin classic in an endeavor to have a few eastern stars here for the meet.

Lon T. Shetler, who has always acted as starter of the track races, will this year to the "Howdy" special, and in his place as starter, Mr. Bullard secured the services of the veteran race driver Harris Hanshue, who was injured here last year while driving the Mercer.
