

YUMA LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS OF IMPORTANCE

"Straw votes" don't go into the official ballot box.

V. S. Walter of the S. P. signal service is in from Ogilby today.

Films have been made of the scenes connected with the Roosevelt demonstration at Phoenix recently, and it is understood that the films will be shown in Yuma soon.

"A Question" by S. E. C. B., on Page 3, should be carefully read by the selfish fellow who thinks he has a right to blow smoke in the other fellow's face.

Johan Johansen has purchased a $2500 pipe organ for the Casino Theatre. This organ will be the finest and best instrument in the state. It comes from New York.

An automobile went by the Examiner Printery today bearing a placard "For Sale." Only a few hundred people at best will see it, but an ad in the Yuma Daily Examiner would reach 5000 readers at a cost of 25c up, according to the size of the ad.

That word "obey" in the marriage vows of women is a mere superfluous formality anyway, one of the humorous little blinks by which man deludes his vanity. Women neither obey men, nor at the marriage altar have any intention of doing so.—The Sacramento Bee.

A. G. Pollock former agent at Fort Yuma, who has been stationed at Santa Fe, N. M., for some time as counsel for the reclamation service, was in the city yesterday shaking hands with old Yuma friends. Mr. Pollock has been transferred to Yakama, Wash., as legal counsel for the Washington project.

J. E. Baker, consulting engineer, and Erle M. Leaf, legal counsel of the Title, Insurance & Trust Company, now in charge of the Blaisdel interests here, announced yesterday, while in Yuma, that the company had let the contract for a new settling basin and filtration apparatus for the Yuma water supply. The plans and blue prints of the two improvements have been completed and the contract signed for the work by Charles Olcester.

Hon. J. L. Edwards, who has charge of the live stock exhibit at the coming county fair, said to the Examiner today that it was his desire to make the showing adequate to the actual stock conditions of the county, and that if he was able to do so this section of the fair would be worth seeing. To do this, however, it will be necessary for every rancher who has horses, cattle, sheep or other stock, to co-operate with him. He is having nice pens constructed, but does not know how many will be necessary until he gets a more definite lineup.

Attend the mass meeting of the big guns of the reclamation service tonight in front of the Southern Pacific Hotel. There's no politics in it. Men like Dr. Elwood Meade are above that level. What the Doctor wants to know is "What are you farmers doing and what can the reclamation service do to help you whether Hughes or Wilson are president matters not. The reclamation act was a child of the Roosevelt administration and Laguna dam was built when Roosevelt gave the word to proceed with the work and leave the red tape for future consideration.

Mrs. W. J. Nichols is home from Los Angeles.

A solid class vote, like many other things that have been promised, has never been delivered.

When a boss claims to carry votes in his pocket, he usually wants to exchange them for cash.

Possibly when a man objects to being called a highbrow he really is not one.

There are moments when one wants to be alone, especially during an amateur vocal recital.

Renewed activity of Mexican news fakers indicates the investment of more money down there.

Mrs. Senator Frances Munds of Yavapai county, delivered an address yesterday before the Women's Woodrow Wilson Club at Eagles' hall.

A District of Columbia official accuses private secretaries of congressmen of lobbying. Gee, maybe they wear wrist watches, too.

Beware of the feller that starts out with "I suppose you have all heered this one," for beyond a doubt you all have.

Occasionally a ball team or a race horse comes from behind and wins, but it isn't a good starting point for everyday use.

The wimmen demand equality with men, but they don't stop to think that they get a good deal the long end of it when it comes to hanging up stockings for Christmas.

She (just kissed by him)—How dare you? Papa said he would kill the first man who kissed me.

He—How interesting. And did he do it?

Suspicious Friend—"So this is one of your jokes, is it? Ha, ha! ha"

Humorist (testily)—"Well, what are you laughing at, anyhow? Isn't it a good one?"—Passing Show.

William Henry Keen, the negro charged with a deadly assault on another negro named Walter Tippen, was held to the superior court yesterday in bonds of $1000.

Teddy Larkin, who was shot by a blacksmith named Knox of the lower valley several days ago, is not expected to live. Dr. Rooney is attending the injured man at the Yuma hospital.

Binks—"Shafer, do you know that woman across the street?"

Shafer—"She certainly looks familiar. Let me see. It's my wife's new dress, my daughter's hat, and my mother-in-law's parasol—sure; It's our cook!"—Macon News.

Yuma is nearly deserted by the obliging candidate. Just now the major portion of them are in Northern Yuma county which, by the way, is in size equal to five New England states and has but a few hundred votes. It simply goes to show the importance of a vote in Yuma county now days. Though the registration may indicate a big Democratic majority to the unthinking, registration, like straw votes doesn't elect candidates and hence the big hustling for votes.

Yesterday at the court house a contract for deed was recorded by W. E. Dorrington and Ross Jordan, that the former is to deed the latter lot 23, block 9, Stofella and Ochla property on Prison hill, when he shall have paid in instalments $224; consideration, $1.

L. M. Laney of Phoenix and Earle M. Leaf of Los Angeles, attorneys for the Title, Insurance & Trust Company, are in the city looking after business in the superior court with reference to the trust deed foreclosure against the gas, electric and water plants in Yuma.

CASINO THEATRE.

Today—Episode No. 14 of "Peg O' the Ring," a two reel drama; also three other good reels.

Tomorrow—Henry B. Wathall in "The Pillars of Society," a five reel drama.

KING PORK STILL SURVIVES.

Pork and Preparedness are, of course, diametrically opposed. Yet it has been noticed in several sections of the country that a feverish desire for preparedness is not inconsistent with a feverish desire to have one's congressman bring home a government armor plant or a big army post. The only town or city in the country which is actually in favor of unadulterated preparedness is Ripon, Wisconsin, which some time ago sent back an appropriation for a postoffice and requested that the same amount be spent on aeroplanes for the army.

Everywhere but in Ripon the new government contracts are being awaited with eagerness, and part of the eagerness is probably due to the unhappy fact that there are profits in government contracts. In the abstract everybody is for pure patriotism and is ready to do almost anything for his country, but when the actual business of doing something for the country comes to hand it too often turns into selling something to the country. Our striding steps toward greater preparedness involve curiously mixed motives, sometimes verging on hypocrisy. Some of those who say they love their country most have good financial reasons for loving it. But probably we do not need to worry about our patriotism. There is an abundance of that quality in back streets and small towns and farms, where nobody gets any government contracts, and nobody says anything that is worth putting in the papers.

DIRECTING TRANSMITTAL OF FINAL CERTIFICATES.

Department of the Interior, General Land Office, Washington, Oct. 1916: Register and Receiver, El Centro, Calif. Sirs: You will transmit to this office immediately, by special letter, all final proofs and final certificates upon entries within reclamation projects in your district upon which proofs of the reclamation for agricultural purposes of at least one-half of the irrigable area have been submitted and approved by the Project Manager, and upon which you have issued final certificates, under the provisions of the act of August 9, 1912 (37 Stat., 265), and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof.

You will transmit to this office, by special letter, all final proofs and proofs of reclamation filed in your office and upon which you issue final certificates to and including November 10, 1916. You will advise all entrymen, whose installment of water right charges on reclamation entries will become due on December 1, 1916, no final certificates can be issued until that installment of water right charges is paid and certificate of the Project Manager showing such payment is filed in your office. The reason for this is that final certificates issued after the date mentioned cannot be transmitted to this office, examined and the entries passed to patent, prior to December 1, 1916, on account of the short space of time intervening.

You will furnish information relative to this matter to local newspapers whose circulations cover the reclamation project within your district, as a matter of news, without expense to the government. You will also give this matter as much publicity as you conveniently can throughout the reclamation project in your district without expense to the government, and will advise the Project Manager thereof.

You will give this matter special attention, transmitting the papers in all cases now on hand without delay, but in no case issuing certificate where the proof of reclamation and payment of water right charges is filed after November 10, 1916, unless the installment of water right charges due on December 1, 1916, be paid and certificate of the Project Manager to that effect filed.

VILLA DOMINANT LEADER

families of Carranza, Obregon, Trevino, Huerta and Madero, puzzles observers here.

Some believe it is due to the Mexican economic conditions but nothing officially substantiates the charge that Carranza's grip is relaxing by the preparations to leave Mexico.

It is generally agreed that the renewed bandit activity has made the Chihuahua military situation very uncertain, especially so if Villa has captured the city.

Despite repeated reports that Villa is personally leading his bandits into Chihuahua City, there is no official proof that he is still alive. The military authorities are pessimistic over the Carranza campaign against Villa, believing that the Carranzistas have little chance because of lack of transport trains, ammunition and other needed supplies and which Villa does not need in his bandit condition, stealing as he advances.

It Saved His Baby's Life.

Some years ago, in a letter to the manufacturers, H. G. Vines, Arispe, Iowa, stated that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had saved his baby from dying with the croup. This is a favorite remedy for croup with many mothers, and is pleasant and safe to take. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.
