

PERSONAL POINTS.

J. S. Taylor, returned to-day from Phenix.

Mr. L. A. Richards left for San Francisco to-day, where he will remain for some days.

Jo Pascholy came over from the Fort yesterday as a witness in the case of Rafaela Tribolet vs. J. H. Slaughter.

Jake Trobridge, the old-time driver for the Tombstone and Fairbank stage line, took his place to-day on the box again.

Mrs. George Walker and daughter accompanied by her sister, returned to-day from a long visit to Los Angeles.

District Attorney Stilwell has lost his cane. It is made of iron wood, with a silver head. It has a small dent on one side. He would be pleased to get it again.

J. E. Durkee is expected home tomorrow night. He was telegraphed to yesterday of the condition of Mr. Criswell and will hasten home from Los Angeles as soon as possible.

An operation was performed late yesterday afternoon upon Mr. George Creswell, who was lying at death's door, which relieved him somewhat and made breathing possible. He pulled through the night and was resting easier this morning.

Henry Du'bacher, of Bisbee, one of the pioneers of that camp, died last night at one o'clock. He had been suffering for many months, but nothing serious was anticipated. He visited Tombstone but a few days ago and made some purchases of our merchants and complained of not feeling well at that time. He spent several weeks last summer at Fort Huachuca under Dr. Patake's care and was told by the latter that he would die within six months unless he left this climate. He was the proprietor of the Bisbee Brewery at the time of his death and had a lucrative business, which he built up by his industry. Several years ago he went to Bisbee without a dollar, and was reputed to be worth $30,000 at the time of his death. He was a native of Switzerland aged 43 years. He was a whole-souled man, generous to a fault, and his presence will be missed among those who were acquainted with him best. The funeral will take place tomorrow at Bisbee.

The most perfect leaching process plant in Mexico is that owned by what is known as the English company which owns valuable mining properties in the Cusi district in the state of Chihuahua. This plant was recently constructed at a cost of $250,000 and it gives perfect satisfaction in its reduction of ores. The superintendent of the mine of the English company is Mr. Hoffman formerly of California. He is credited with being authority on the reduction of ores by the leaching process—Bullion.

The successful introduction of typesetting machines into a number of newspaper offices in the United States has greatly stimulated their competitors, and early in the autumn the New York Sun, Times, World and other papers will commence their use. It is also said that the Herald will employ them. Probably one half of the one thousand compositors engaged upon the morning dailies will be dropped.

In the state of Zacatecas, Mexico, the government has made a concession to A. J. Porter, who represents El Cabazon Mining Company, agreeing to remit all taxes and duties for six and one half years, the export duty perpetually and will make a cash donation of $150,000 providing he erects within the state a smelter of 200 tons daily capacity.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO PROSPECTOR.

After the Lottery Company.

WASHINGTON, September 25.—Yesterday Charles Thompson, a well-known lawyer of this city, and who was one of Mr. Cleveland's delegates at St. Louis two years ago, appeared in a police court to answer the charge of sending lottery tickets through the mails. Mr. Thompson was arrested as the attorney of M. A. Dauphin, of the notorious Louisiana Lottery company, and the case is the first prosecution inaugurated here by the Post Office Department. Testimony was educed showing that Thompson had received through the mails letters addressed to M. A. Dauphin in violation of law. The case, while it is a small one, is important in this, that it is intended to initiate a series of prosecutions which will be brought by the Post Office Department against lottery companies. It is expected that a very bitter fight will be made, as the Louisiana Lottery Company is on the verge of despair and will spend any amount of money to fight both the Thompson case and the recently passed anti-lottery bill.

Money Market.

NEW YORK, September 25.—There is a very wide difference of opinion as to the future of the money market. There are many people who think the recent purchase of bonds will bring out money enough to tide us over until we get some gold from the other side. Others are confident that we shall not be able to get money enough back to New York to furnish anything like the necessary foundation for an upward movement.

Mining Case Settled.

MARFA, TEX., Sept. 25.—The important and somewhat famous case of Capt. John L. Bullis and wife against Wm. Noyes and the Presidio Mining Company in the State District Court ended to-day in a compromise. The case has been tried twice, the plaintiffs winning the first time in April, 1886, and the defendants the second time, in May, 1888. Both times the case was appealed and both times the Supreme Court reversed the judgment and remanded the case for a new trial. The case came up yesterday for a third trial, a jury was empaneled and thpleadings read, but before any testimony had been offered a compromise was agreed upon.

Catholics.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 25.—Before the German Catholic congress this morning Rev. Dr. Buechler, of New York, spoke on the catholicity of the church and said the Catholics had no use for public schools. The Roman Catholic children ought to be brought up in their parents' faith.

Walked Off.

EL PASO, Sept. 25.—Yesterday, a part of the wall of the Juarez jail fell down and three Mexican prisoners escaped. Two of them were captured but the other one is still at large.

Hogs.

EL PASO, Sept. 25.—Fifteen carloads of hogs went through the Juarez custom house yesterday, consigned to the City of Mexico.

Arizona Kicker.

The last issue came to hand yesterday and contains some hard truths. It says:

"The boys are getting tired already. We have been giving our best space to the party's candidates, but all we have seen is one bottle of beer and a plug of Lorrillard's tin tag. We are getting weary. We had orders yesterday to chop on the Mormon plank, not to mention the Sunday rest bill, to overlook the hospital bill and support Cheyney for Delegate. We examined the letter closely for 'stuff,' but the postage stamp was the only evidence of wealth there was around it. How we are going to support George and let the platform take care of itself isn't any of our picnic. We'll do anything the manager says, but our ink is rapidly getting short. We used our last undershirt to wipe the rollers with in order to get out a clean sheet and puen monia stares us in the face. We were offered a new suit of underclothing yesterday if we would say that our standard bearer 'didn't pay tax's, never paid taxes and doesn't even pay his poll tax.' We've written him about it and expect an answer tomorrow. If he doesn't say something substantial we will feel obliged to take the flannel's."

Harry Crawford, who, although he did not win the prize in the late cowboy tournament, holds the champion record, roping and tying, viz 31 seconds, has written the local editor of this paper from San Marcial, his home, offering to rope any one in either New Mexico or Arizona for any sum from $200 to $1000 a side. This is no bluff, as Crawford can secure backing to any extent at his home, for the people there have confidence in his abilities.—[Albuquerque Democrat.]

Every earnest citizen should see to it that his ballot is cast for none but the best men next November. Personal friendship should cut no figure in the matter and the vote should count only for the most honest, most capable and most fearless individuals. What is needed is a close efficient and business-like administration of county affairs, in this every citizen is equally interested.—[Globe Belt.]

Sheriff Gray returned yesterday from Tucson, says the Republican, where he had been to head off the Mexican who murdered the Indian near Tempe last Thursday. The sheriff did much tall rustling, but was unable to obtain a trace of the fugitive. Deputy Sheriff Davenport was sent to Gila Bend to look out for the murderer, if he could double back that way, but was also unsuccessful. The sheriff is still active on the search however, and will use every effort to get his man.

When Joseph Curby was asked this morning by Judge Sloan if there was any reason why sentence should not be passed upon him he said, that he had not had a fair trial; that he could not have an impartial trial here because so many persons were prejudiced against him, and that two of the jurors who had voted for his conviction had told him since the trial that they were sorry for it, and that if they had it to do over again they would vote to acquit him.

The announcement of Fred Castle will be found in this issue of the Prospector. He seeks the office of City Auditor and Recorder, for which position he is admirably fitted. As clerk of the Board of Supervisors he has made a record which is an enviable one. As an accountant he has no superiors and few equals.

The time for the departure of the prisoners for Yuma has not been fixed but it will probably be tomorrow or Saturday. Jo Curby will probably get bonds and be free till the Supreme Court decides his case.

Tom Forget did not seem pleased at his sentence this morning but was very sour over it. He imagined that he would get 30 days or less and was not prepared for eight months.

The Southern Pacific Company has raised the salary of conductors and other train men $5 to $25 per month. The Santa Fe people are considering a similar move.

A wife is missing from a western city. She had $18,000 in cash in her pocket. She was headed for Chicago. The husband tells the newspapers that he fears foul play and wants the detectives to look for a murder. Meanwhile the western wife is on the way to Europe with a chap whose drooping moustache won her heart.

A man who spent ten months in South Carolina where divorces are never granted, made a record of 540 separations, many of them with a murder as a result, and several hundred cases where husband and wife have lived together for years without speaking a word. He says that divorces would have been a godsend in every case.

A Tennessee farmer who was howling for protection on wool stood by and saw a neighbor's dog kill nine of his sheep. He didn't dare shoot because the owner of the dog had said he would kill the killer of his canine, and he was a man whose word was as good as a charge of buckshot.

The population of Arizona from the official returns, exclusive of Indians is 59,671. The number of Indians as per Dr. Dorchester's report is 38,000, which added to the 59,671 makes the total population of Arizona at 97,671.
