Safe and Effective

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the safest and most effective remedy for Indigestion, Irregularity of the Bowels, Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, Dizziness, Malaria or any disease arising from an impure state of the blood. They have been in use in this country for over fifty years, and the thousands of unimpeachable testimonials from those who have used them, and their constantly increasing sale, is incontrovertible evidence that they perform all that is claimed for them.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless and safe to take at any time.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa was called away from home for a few days; during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regarded it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. For sale by H. J. PATO, Druggist.

Lost Laws.

The following list of "lost laws" just brought to light and declared by Judge Kibbey to be operative, are published in the Phoenix Herald. Any one wishing a copy can get one from the secretary:

Council Bill No. 46.—Providing for attachments on real estate and personal property.

Council Bill No. 87.—To amend Par. 757, Sec. 109, Code of Civil Procedure, Chap. 2, Title 15, R. S. of Arizona.

House Bill No. 40.—To amend Chap. 1 and 3, Title 39, R. S. of Arizona, in relation to jurors and juries.

House Bill No. 46.—An act amending Par. 2710, concerning cases of realty by boards of supervisors.

House Bill No. 51.—An act to establish a compulsory school law in and for the Territory of Arizona.

Substitute for House Bill No. 52.—An act to amend Par. 397, Sec. 17, Chap. 2, Title 13, R. S., relating to county government.

House Bill No. 53.—An act to provide for the further erection and maintenance of the University of Arizona.

House Bill No. 60.—An act concerning the district and supreme courts and to amend Sec. 10, Par. 609, Chap. 3, Title 14, "of district courts," R. S. of Arizona.

House Bill No. 89.—To amend Par. 3254, being Sec. 1, Title LXV, of the Revised Statutes of Arizona, 1887.

House Bill No. 99.—An act prohibiting the carrying on of certain business within the limits of incorporated cities on Sundays.

House Bill No. 123.—Requiring courts to appoint special guardians in all matters pending before them involving the rights of minors wherein the minors have not appeared by general guardian.

A Mexican Kick.

The following is a translation from the "El Trafico" of Guaymas, Mexico in which brother Chatham figures as the hero:

"Our friend, J. J. Chatham, postmaster at Nogales and editor of the Nogales Sunday Herald did not notice perhaps that in the last number of his weekly appears a reprint concerning the Louisiana lottery, copied from the Philadelphia Herald. As this is prohibited by the law, put in effect, concerning the lotteries and of which The Trafico has been a victim, we have wondered exceedingly if the Herald might be a specially empowered circular. We do not wish to believe that by being its editor, the postmaster might elude the order, rather on the contrary he ought to be the first in observing it. In Castilian we have a very popular proverb that says: 'The good judge begins through his own house.' We do not know how to translate that into English, but we believe that in that tongue and in all those known, the moral and object of the sentence is right and prudent."

Why not?

Secretary Murphy, also acting governor of the Territory, in giving the reasons for the non-publication of the ten laws which are creating so much distrust in legal circles, said that they had been retained in the possession of the governor until he, as acting governor, had decided to turn them over to the secretary's office for file, with instructions to furnish certified copies on demand, and that to publish them now in pamphlet form after advertising for bids, as required by law, would not only be confusing but would consume the time from now until the session 16th legislature. He had, therefore, thought best to notify the public through the papers of the existence of the laws and have them printed in the same volume with the laws of the 16th session, provided they are not repealed.

The PROSPECTOR acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend the opening of the new World building in New York on the tenth inst.

That World's all right we are glad to know, But this one is a fleeting show And consequently we can't go.

A Rough Trip.

The two adventurers who left the Needles about two weeks ago in a boat of their own construction to make a tour of the world, have arrived at Yuma.

The Sentinel says that the boat is a staunch craft built of Arizona lumber. She draws 22 inches of water when loaded, is 7½ feet wide 24 feet in length. She has a center board 6 feet long and 2 feet wide. Her bottom is nearly flat with a keel eight inches wide. They were fifteen days on the trip from the Needles here. They boat struck a rock on the way down which delayed them two days. They will travel about 400,000 miles and it will take them 2½ years. Both are old sailors. If careful there is no reason why the Hilda may not make the trip in safety.

Grand Raffle.

For an elegant toilet case at Frank Yaple's, Dec. 23d now on exhibition at his Central News Depot. Tickets one dollar.

Interesting Figures.

The consular fees collected at the seven principal ports of Mexico for the year ending June 30, 1890 were as follows:

Paso del Norte [Juarez]	$5065 50
Carita Gonzales	3823 75
Nogales	3371 50
Vera Cruz, estimated	3000 00
Piedras Negras	2765 75
Merida	1550 50
Nuevo Laredo	1181 00

It will be seen that Nogales is third in point of importance compared with the others.

Fire in Crittenden.

The house of Judge Vanderlip, at Crittenden, was burned down Thursday night. It was evidently the work of an incendiary as the Judge was at the time in Tucson attending court and no one was in the house. There were stored in the building forty stand of arms which were sent out during the Indian troubles of 1886, besides his personal effects and his records as justice of the peace, all of which were destroyed. It is quite likely that the guilty party will be rounded up.—Nogales Herald.

Cattle Drive.

The Yuma Sentinel announces the passing through that point of Col. W. C. Land, who was on his way to San Francisco to arrange to drive 2,500 head of cattle from near Benson to Winnemucca, Nevada. Col. L. says that his company cannot afford to pay the rates charged by the Southern Pacific railroad company, and will drive their cattle overland via the Little Colorado and St. George through to Nevada. While here he also arranged to drive 3,000 head of cattle from Benson, crossing the Colorado at Yuma, to Los Angeles.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO PROSPECTOR.

In New York to-day silver was quoted at $1.05; lead stronger, $4.80; and copper nominal, $16.50.

CHICAGO.—A dispatch from New Orleans says:

The cotton house of V. & A. Meyer has suspended with liabilities aggregating $2,500,000 and assets $3,000,000. This was the largest commission house in the country and was also supposed to be one of the wealthiest.

CHICAGO.—A dispatch from Sioux agency, South Dakota says:

The 1200 Indians on the Sisseton Wappon reservation are on the verge of starvation at the opening of winter because of the government failure to furnish them subsistence.

LONDON.—An exciting incident arose from Mr. Parnell's refusal to put Mr. Abraham's motion. As a written resolution to the same effect was being handed in by Mr. Justin McCarthy Mr. Parnell leaned across the table, struck Mr. McCarthy's hand and seized the resolution and tore it to pieces. Mr. Justin H. McCarthy, son of Mr. Justin McCarthy, arose from his seat and denounced Mr. Parnell as an insulter of his father and an enemy to his country. He declared that hitherto he had acted with Mr. Parnell, but henceforth he would repudiate him. The declaration of young McCarthy has raised the total number of the anti-Parnellite members to 45.

Yuma Mines.

The St. Louis Globe Democrat says:

The party of Yuma officers who were visiting the property returned yesterday feeling jubilant over the prospects for the future. The party before reaching the city agreed to say nothing about their trip until they made a report to a full stockholders' meeting which is called for next Tuesday. A gentleman of the party said that he was surprised at the amount of ore in sight. He said there were several large veins running through the property, the ore being very rich. He was very well satisfied with the prospect for water, and says the supply will be soon large enough to supply several smelters. The market was quiet and only 100 shares changed hands. The price paid was a little higher.

The Nogales Herald is informed upon what it considers good authority that Albert Steinfeldt, of L. Zecken-dorf & Co., has taken hold of the old Mowery mine, near Crittenden, and will begin work with vigor at once.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

CHOICE BITS OF HUMOR.

PROUD MOTHER (piqued that her child's advances meet with no response from fair stranger)—"Why, baby, dear, that's not your grandma?"

"WHY so downcast?" "I lost a magnificent umbrella yesterday!" "Leave it in the train?" "No; I met the owner of it in the city, and he recognized it at once."

ARCHITECT—"Have you any suggestions for the study, Mr. Quickrich?" Quickrich—"Only that it must be brown. Great thinkers, I understand, are generally found in a brown study."

INDIGNANT LANDLORD (to tenant of flat)—"I thought you said your children were all grown up, and here you have three noisy babies in the house." Tenant—"Yes, these are my grandchildren."

WOMAN (to tramp who had eaten a whole mince pie)—"You seem to have a good appetite." Tramp (with tears in his eyes)—"Yes, madam, this is all I have in the world which I can rightly call my own."

CHOLLEY (whose legs are a trifle bowed, to a tailor)—"Aw—I'm very particular 'y' know, about the fit of my trousers." Tailor—"The fit will be all right, sir. I'll cut the cloth with a pair of bent shears."

INDIGNANT VISITOR—"I told you five or six times to wake me up this morning at seven. Here it is ten o'clock. Why didn't you wake me up sooner?" Hotel Porter—"I did wake you up sooner, sir, only you didn't hear me."

PEDDLER (in conciliatory tone)—"I presume those lovely children in the yard are yours, madam?" Madam (frigidly)—"I have no children." Peddler—"Pardon me; since I see you more closely I see that the brats could not possibly be yours."

"WANTED—reliable men," read Mrs. Bascom from the advertising columns of the paper. Then she raised her glasses upon her forehead, looked severely at her husband and remarked: "And the world'll wait a considerable number of centuries yet before it gets 'em."

"I've got a complaint to make," said an office boy to his employer. "What is it?" "The book-keeper kicked me, sir. I don't want no book-keeper to kick me." "Of course he kicked you. You don't expect me to attend to every thing, do you? I can't look after all the little details of the business myself."

UNCLE RASTUS (to his young hopeful)—"Dolphus, yo' young rascal, yo' take dat slate pencil outen yo' mouf an' stop chewin' it!" Dolphus—"Yes, pa." Uncle Rastus—"Don' yo' know it am dangerous to de linin' ob de stumack to chew slate pencils? Some day eddication will kill yo', chile—kill yo', sho'."

A YOUNG fellow, not quite so wise as Solomon, was eating some Cheshire cheese, full of mites, one night at a tavern. "Now," said he, "I have done as much as Samson, for I have slain my thousands and my tens of thousands." "Yes," answered one of the company, "and with the same weapon, too—the jaw bone of an ass."

BLIND BEGGAR—"Alas! madam, I am starving!" Charitable Old Lady—"Poor creature, I am sorry to say I have nothing smaller than a ten-dollar gold piece. (She opens her purse.) Not a single smaller piece of money." Blind Beggar—"I beg your pardon, madam. I see a five-dollar bill. (He draws his purse from his pocket.) I can easily change that for you."

Jo Coburn the pugilist died in New York Saturday.

Judge Kibbey rendered a judgment in the case of the Territory vs. Gill which knocks out the present grand jury and recommit all cases submitted to it and makes the ten lost laws, a list of which the Herald published, effective, active statutes. It seems that one of those lost acts makes a grand jury consist of seventeen to twenty-four members, while the old law makes it fifteen, and in ordering the present grand jury the Judge had so ordered. On the question on the matter of the plea in abatement in the Gill case coming up this lost law was introduced and the Judge ruled as above. The Gill case is, therefore, off as are all other upon which indictments have been found by the present grand jury.—Phoenix Herald.
