COPPERING.
Dan Simons returned on this evening's train from his trip to Yuma where he has been on official business.

U. S. Deputy Marshals Loomis and Ezrie is also came in on this evening's train. The country is getting too hot to hold Black Jack's band much longer.

A ladies' large fur box—one of those things about seven feet long which they wear around the neck—was lost last evening by Mrs. Krighbaum while on the way to the rink. The finder will please return the same to owner, or to our editorial parlors where a suitable reward awaits them.

In making your selection of Christmas and holiday presents there is nothing more appropriate than a well selected piece of jewelry. Our local jeweler, Mr. Schmieding, has lately laid in quite an assortment of articles in this line, all of the latest and most approved patterns. His stock of gold-quartz jewelry is especially attractive, and a call on him may save you much trouble and care in your Christmas selections. His present assortment of watches and diamonds can't be beat.

Herbert Brown and Ed and Nellie Hughes, who been attending the preparatory school at the university, for some time past, came home yesterday for a thanksgiving visit. They were just in time for the calico ball and declare it the greatest treat they have had in six months. They are all well pleased with their surroundings at the university, and are so interested in their studies that they are unwilling to extend their visit even one day over the stipulated time. Yours truly joins his with the wishes of their many friends for their success.

The calico ball which was given last night by the ladies of the Woodmen Circle was one of the most decided successes of the season. In spite of the threatening aspect of the weather our numerous pleasure seekers turned out as of one accord, and during the earlier part of the evening there was as many as seventy-five couples on the floor.

We were requested to state by Mr. C. W. Moon, one of Bisbee's so-called authorities, that everything connected with the dance, with the exception of the floor manager, was strictly first-class but that the said officer came very near spoiling the whole evening with the order of the dances which he persisted in carrying through.

In connection with the opinion of a certain class of kickers, we desire to state that it is our own opinion that if they would condescend to come down off their pedestals and take things as they find them, instead of wasting wind and opportunities in kicking at the management, they would probably enjoy themselves a great deal more. Bisbee has in her midst a class of kickers who generally manage to get in their work at almost every entertainment.

If these gentlemen would stop to consider that personal abilities and tastes do not run altogether in the same channels in regard to dancing, their actions on numerous occasions might be somewhat changed. We cannot consider them well-sufficient as to desire everything to run their way in spite of the conveniences and wishes of good part of the attendance at these amusements, and so attribute their actions to thoughtlessness. We hope they will think the matter over before they again air their gentle basses and that in future they will have a little consideration for those who are doing their best to cater to the wishes of the greatest number in an entirely equitable and impartial manner.

The duties of the attentive floor manager are always arduous in the extreme and we would like to get one or two of those kickers in that position long enough to give them a good taste of their own medicine. We're pretty good on the "best" ourselves and will guarantee to make it interesting for them.
