Miners should be solid for statehood.

The Boston Globe booms Governor Russel for the presidency.

The man who owns himself is in favor of statehood every time.

SONORA is preparing for a large increase in population after Dec. 1st.

ARE you going to vote for your own interests on Dec. 1st, or for some other fellow's whim?

The mining congress to be held at Denver this week should be attended by every delegate from Arizona.

The republican who rises above his fellows and shouts for statehood is the one whom the state will remember.

The Florence Enterprise wants Col. Christ to get out of the republican party. The Col. will probably not do so to please Aunty-Statehood.

The public policy of letting Mexico give away Lower California to great syndicates when Uncle Sam could purchase the entire peninsula for about what it cost to carry Ohio for McKinley, is a bad piece of political economy.

The Globe Democrat says that the ohmese is coming back into fashion. The Arizona public will wait with breathless anxiety to hear whether Col. Christ found one in Col. Smith's "dirty clothes." If Consul Smith is not fashionable the world should know it.

The Knights of Labor convention adopted a resolution to settle the difficulties between the Knights of Labor and the American Federation of Labor. If this resolution is accepted by the Federation it means that over 600,000 laboring men will be united in organized labor assemblies or unions.

THERE has been presented under the new law, up to Nov. 1st, Indian deprecation claims amounting to the number of 5,468, and aggregating $21,241,918. Of these 1500 come from Texas, 1100 from New Mexico and the others from the various states and territories, Colorado sending in 200. The largest of these claims is from Arizona for $1,281,250.

CONGRESSMAN DUNGAN of Ohio, a democrat just elected has the following reasons to give for the defeat in Ohio:

"Our leaders," he says "evaded the silver plank in the platform. As long as it was there it would have been better policy to have vigorously defended it. Our defeat would have been by a narrower margin had this been done. Free silver is an issue that will not down and I venture the assertion that the masses of Ohio voters favor it to-day. If it could be put to a test in the state to be voted on, say like a constitution amendment, it would carry in Ohio by 4 to 1."

G. W. CHEYNEY made many friends by coming to the front on Saturday night and presiding over the meeting at Schieffelin hall. While other republicans are sulking over the question of statehood, he shows his manhood by standing by the instrument to which he affixed his signature, and his progressive ideas by helping along the cause of statehood. His mouth is evidently not so strongly cemented to the republican nursery bottle but that he can look up once in a while and cry out for more substantial diet.

TOMBSTONE has a peculiar population. Many of those who subscribed for stock to the railroad at a meeting a week ago, have been diligently striving to keep others from subscribing on the ground that the right men were not at the head of it, or that the heavy shippers of ore would not patronize the road after being built; but notwithstanding this cold water bath to which the people have been subjected, the very men who were said to be opposed to it have come to the front and are taking money out of their own pockets to aid in placing the road on something beside paper. In this skirmish the croakers have met an overwhelming defeat.

FRANCIS WILLARD delivered her annual address at the World's W. O. T. U. convention at Boston, Friday. Four thousand people were present. She said: "That party which unmistakably declares for the prohibition of strong drink in the political platforms of 1892, is the only one that can hope for the good will, good words and prayer of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union." But parties are not after prayers, but votes. When party elect presidents, women will hold the balance of power.

DIRTY CLOTHES.

War at Nogales Over the Seizure of the American Consul's Washing.

Down in Nogales they have been having an outing, that is, Collector Christ and Delos Smith have. The latter is a republican, consul to Nogales, Mexico, and the former is the republican collector of customs at Nogales, Arizona. Both appointments were made by President Harrison.

Mr. Smith gets his washing done on this side of the line. An old woman comes over and gets it and returns to the consulate with it when it is clean. Collector Christ and Mr. Smith have not been feeling well of late, and the Collector getting up one morning with a bilious colic, ordered the guards to seize Mr. Smith's dirty clothes. Whether the collector wanted to see the size of Mr. Smith's collar, or to find out if he were a "sockless statesman" no one but Mr. Christ can tell, and he won't.

Mr. Smith, however, was sorely perplexed. One can imagine the following note written in bed while waiting for the return of his soiled linen that he might dress.

SIR:—My wash-woman reports to me this morning that one of your guards took my bundle of dirty clothes from her last night, and I write to ask that they be given to the bearer.

Yours Respectfully
DELOS H. SMITH
U. S. Consul.

In the meantime Mr. Christ had been going over Mr. Smith's "dirty clothes" and found a shawl worth 75c and a piece of cloth worth $1.50. Now what was Mr. Smith doing with a shawl and a piece of cloth. The dignity of the custom service must be upheld. He sat down and penned an answer to Mr. Smith's demand. He insinuated that the consul was in cahoots with his washerwoman, and refused to allow the "dirty clothes" to be returned to the owner.

This riled Mr. Smith who was evidently getting hungry, and "G string" weather had passed. He wrote again, and here are some of the choice expressions used. "Your insulting letter received." "Your inferences as to my being a smuggler, I hurl back in your teeth." "You may be up in dignified ways but your style does not meet my views." And then comes a charge against Mr. Christ of smuggling cigars.

"Now let me give you a little advice Mr. Christ, as you have volunteered some to me. Don't bank on your honesty, and refer to law breakers just as seldom as you can consistently. I find upon inquiry that this poor old woman had a shawl, 65 cents; canton flannel 50 cents, and manta $1.00—total $2.25 in Mexican money, but I know of a man who at one time at Juarez, Mexico, bought a box of cigars on which no duties were paid and which he said was for a senator.

Yours Respectfully
D. H. SMITH.

The PROSPECTOR would suggest that the "dirty clothes" be sent to President Harrison for a Christmas present.

Consumption cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, and a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. The London Chronicle's correspondence at Shanghai says: "I am able to confirm the report of the existence of an agreement by which the Japanese fleet will assist the Chinese in case of need, Japanese vessels are already coming to Chinese waters. The American Admiral has left in the cruiser Charleston for Honolulu. He has been from the first very bellicose towards Chinese officials, and has not concealed his belief that extreme measures are necessary. It is understood that under cover of the protection of Americans, he will seize Honolulu in the name of his government."

The assayer to whom was submitted a sample of gold ore found in the borings under the Missouri river, near Kansas City, certifies that it would weight out $129 of gold to the ton. The gold is in a peculiar place in the ground under the river bed, and it would hardly be practicable to mine it. Geologists think it is the washings from some gold bearing region.

The Barbaomari Cattle Co is gathering up and shipping out thousands of its cattle. It has driven away the greater part of the cows and young cattle from the post, they kindly left whatever cows the officers or the troops wanted to milk. This company has always treated everybody at the post splendidly, and we assure it their good will is appreciated. There is none of the "undersinner's" spirit in its management.—Sentinel.
