PROCEEDINGS OF COURTS

Work That Was Carried on in Legal Circles Today—Several Suits Have Been Filed

AN OLD OFFENDER PUT BEHIND THE BARS

Newland & Newland, who were doing a confectionary and stationary business at Benson, yesterday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the U. S. court. The liabilities are given as $1622.23 in unsecured debts and a note of $50.00 with security. The assets are given at $444.21, consisting of real estate, stock and fixtures and open accounts. W. G. Gilmore appears as attorney for the petitioners.

Three Mexicans were brought in yesterday from the foot hills of the Mule mountains charged with stealing cord wood. They were given an examination before Judge McFarland and held to await the action of the grand jury. The wood was the property of Wm. Cowan, who had it cut some time ago and had it piled up in the foot hills. The Mexicans helped themselves to the wood and packed it on burros to their camp near Bisbee where they cut it up into stove lengths and then took it into Bisbee and disposed of it.

Juan Hernandez was brought over from Douglas yesterday and placed in the county jail to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary. Hernandez was up before the last term of court charged with the murder of R. J. Watson, the watchman in the employ of the E. P. & S. W. at Bisbee, and was acquitted, there not being sufficient evidence to convict him.

Hunters Think Quail Season Opens Too Early

The hunting season was duly opened yesterday by our local nimrods with all the "boom and rattle" that usually accompanies the opening of the quail season, and many good bags were brought in, but it was demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that the season opens too early, for the last hatch of the toothsome quail is not large enough to shoot. They are barely larger than the ordinary small snipe and many shooters quit the field yesterday early on that account. The law by all means should be 30 days later in opening and if necessary extend on to the spring end.

The kidneys eliminate poisons by acting as filters for the blood. When they fail in this respect serious ailments must result. Poisons for the kidneys are what you should take at the first warning sign of kidney trouble. They assist the kidneys in expelling uric acid poison. 2-12 by Frank Yaple

When the tumult and the shouting dies away after the contest, THE PROSPECTOR sincerely hopes that more of these Spartans will be left to tell how it happened than survived the disaster at Thermopylae.

HE TOOK AN EVEN CHANCE

Staked His Life on the Flip of a Coin and Lost It

Because a dollar flipped into the air came down with the head up, David Eldridge, son of a wealthy Illinois manufacturer, lies dead in the Colorado desert, according to a statement made in Los Angeles by "Malapal Mike," a prospector. A long search for Eldridge by his friends has been abandoned as hopeless. "Malapal Mike" was Eldridge's companion in the desert and he told a thrilling story of the perils of the days when they wandered over the wastes of sand of Death valley.

Mike says he and Eldridge started for Telescope Peak with a large supply of provisions and several burros. They lost practically all of their provisions and all but one burro en route and wandered about on the desert for days. Finally when they were reduced to only five gallons of water, Eldridge suggested that they flip a coin to see which one would take the burro and go for help. The coin came down "head up" and Eldridge lost. Mike took the burro and a gallon of water and started for help. He reached Greenwater in safety and attempted to lead a relief party back to Eldridge, but the latter had wandered away and was never found.

Fight Between the Wets and Drys Impending

IN THREE COUNTIES Cochise, Yavapai, Mohave Selected as the Battleground

Preparations are now being made to launch prohibition campaigns in Cochise, Yavapai and Mohave counties. This information was given out by Dr. H. A. Hughes, president of the Anti-Saloon league of Arizona.

Dr. Hughes states that all the league is waiting for before launching the Yavapai, Cochise and Mohave campaigns is the arrival of Professor W. M. Burke of Oakland, Cal. Professor Burke is a famous temperance worker and for some years has been superintendent of the California league. He was offered $2000 a year to act as superintendent of the Arizona organization, which offer he accepted. It is expected that he will arrive Saturday, immediately after which a meeting of the executive committee of the Arizona league will be held and Professor Burke's advice asked concerning the best methods of fighting the saloon in Cochise, Mohave and Yavapai.

The Anti-Saloon league has been active in those counties for some time and the leaders claim that prohibition will carry if the proper kind of a campaign is conducted. Professor Burke is thought to be the man to conduct such a campaign, as he has had experience and success.

William Trelease, formerly master mechanic for the T. C. M. Co., arrived in Tombstone this morning and has been kept busy all day shaking hands with his many friends.

The remains of William Tomblson were laid to rest this afternoon, the body being accompanied to its last resting by a large number of friends of the deceased.

A MEETING OF THE PRESIDENTS

Taft and Diaz Were the Honored Guests of El Paso and Juarez at Great Demonstration

COCHISE COUNTY IS WELL REPRESENTED

(Special to THE PROSPECTOR)

EL PASO, Oct. 16.—The sun rose brilliantly today even in this land of magnificent sunrises. The city has blossomed out into a mass of color. Even before the first faint streaks of day were visible, crowds were thronging the streets seeking the best point of vantage from which to view the parade and witness the meeting of Presidents Taft and Diaz, the first event of the kind in history.

When President Taft arrived this morning he found fluttering flags, pennants and streamers, with pictures of the two presidents everywhere. In Cleve and square and other prominent localities, the large grand stands are thronged with people.

At 10 o'clock President Diaz, accompanied by his bodyguard, a regiment of Zapadores, a regiment of infantry and one regiment of artillery, crossed the bridge from Juarez and landed on American soil. The party were met by Secretary of War Dickinson and Governor Campbell of Texas and his staff and escorted to President Taft's carriage. The two presidents, side by side, were driven to the "Welcome" arch had been erected in front of the building and under the

TAFT'S PROMISE OF STATEHOOD

Pledges His Assistance in Speech Made at Phoenix

President Taft is heartily with Arizona in her aspirations for statehood. This fact was made clear by his speech at Phoenix this week. With all his earnestness he said, facing the vast gathering of Arizona citizens:

"I want to congratulate you on having such a territory; and on having such energy and such enterprise as have called forth from the Republican party the pledge that you shall have statehood. And in order to establish my relations with you early, I want to say, that so far as I am concerned I am going to help carry out that promise so far as I can."

The Republican thinks that the president will succeed in his efforts to have congress to its share and that a bill admitting Arizona will become a law before the end of the coming session, appears at this time to be a practical certainty.

arch the first meeting of the rulers took place. After a private conference, the Mexican president retired to Juarez under American military escort.

At 1 p. m. Taft crossed the river to pay his respects to Diaz, and the demonstration in point of impressiveness was one of the most magnificent ever witnessed. The military display by Mexico is in every respect equal to that on this side. At 3 p. m. President Taft returned to the American side under military escort. At 5 this evening he will again visit Juarez to attend the banquet to be given by President Diaz. The American president will also be given an opportunity to witness a bull fight, great preparations having been made for this feature of the entertainment.

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and would not know of medicine. My tongue was coated with green mucus, my breath leaving a bad odor. The doctor said I had indigestion. I started on Cascarets and after taking them I was willing and able to eat and sleep better than ever. I should like to see some of the thousands of others who are suffering from such troubles."
