THE PROSPECTOR has never posed as a prophet, political or otherwise, but we cannot refrain, on this occasion, from venturing the prediction that next Tuesday's election will result in sweeping democratic victories throughout the entire country. It is almost a certainty that the next congress will be democratic, and that great gains will be made by that party in the United States senate.

The El Paso Times of last Saturday was a splendid edition. It contained 52 pages and was issued to celebrate the opening of the El Paso fair, as well as to commemorate the great improvements made by the paper itself in recent months. THE PROSPECTOR congratulates the enterprising publishers of the Times, as well as the business men of the Pass City whose public spiritedness and liberality made possible the getting out of such a creditable edition.

The constitutional convention entered upon the fourth week of its labors today. The convention has been making haste rather slowly in its deliberations, but this is really commendable on its part, THE PROSPECTOR thinks. A document that is to be submitted to the voters of Arizona, besides having to undergo the scrutiny and approval of congress and the president, cannot be too carefully and conscientiously constructed.

Arizona's Rapid Growth

"Arizona's population, in 1900, was 59,620, which had increased to 122,931 in 1900 and to 204,354 in 1910. The population now is greater than that of most of the states when they were admitted, and the rate of increase for the last decade is 66.2 per cent. The area is large and much of it must ever remain waste but the rapid growth of population during the last twenty years is indicative of a progress that is not likely to stop suddenly. Older states of slower growth have been passed already, and the probabilities are that others will be left behind at the next census. Congratulations are in order for the young sister.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Some Facts About

the Great New State

An increase of 66.2 per cent in Arizona's population since 1900, is announced by the Census bureau.

Automobiles paid in fire insurance premiums last year $1,701,873.67. A very strong local company has been formed to enter the fire insurance field.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS OF INTEREST CONDENSED.

To make Phoenix the "city beautiful," street superintendent O. H. Christy has engaged a landscape gardener from Riverside, Calif., to trim all the trees along the streets and in the public parks. For the present the gardener will be in the employ of the street department, but an effort will be made to engage him permanently to superintend parking, boulevarding, and other measures to beautify the city.

Three burglaries and one hold-up occurred in Douglas. Goods valued at $500 were stolen from the Douglas jewelry store.

To boost along the territorial fair and especially that portion of it which relates to the automobile race from Tucson to Phoenix, Charles K. Fishon has charge of the amusement feature of the fair.

L. Larsen, general manager of the Bartlett-Heard Land & Cattle company, was in Prescott enroute to Phoenix. He recently superintended the shipment of several hundred head of cattle from Williams to points in Maricopa county for feeding in the Salt River valley.

That Bowie is an active rival of Tucson in the matter of the construction of new and larger shops to replace the Southern Pacific shops destroyed by fire at Tucson a few weeks ago, seems to be the opinion of railroad men who claim to know what they are talking about.

Globe is going to have a little fair of its own; and it won't be a very little one, either. It will be three nights long and as the days are growing shorter the nights are growing longer they will be almost at their longest at the time of the fair. The fair will be between the first two Sundays in December.

Apprehended while in the act of attempting to open the safe of the Butte saloon on Brewery avenue in Bisbee, a white man claiming to be a miner and giving his name as Roach, is awaiting a preliminary hearing.

The proprietors of the various newspapers and job printing establishments in Phoenix have formed what is known as the Employing Printers' Association.

A Yuma miner named John Hernandez was killed by an explosion at the North Star mine, several hours ride from Mohawk, Thursday morning.

At Phoenix nineteen of the 44 spans of the center street bridge have been completed and now that cooler weather has come, the work is proceeding more rapidly. About 50 men are employed on the bridge at present.

A special dispatch from Washington states that second Lieutenant Thomas F. Gathre, 13th cavalry, has been ordered from his present station at Los Angeles to Fort Huachuca.

Mayor Jacobus is again in search of persons who want the honor of officially representing Tucson in adjacent states. His appointment carries no financial remuneration, but will probably enable the delegate to get reduced railroad fare. One of the cities to which the mayor will send anyone who wishes to be a delegate is San Diego, California, to represent Tucson at the meeting of the League of California Municipalities from November 16 to 19. Naturally Tucson is not a member of the league, but has been invited to participate in the session.

The other gathering to which the mayor has been asked to appoint delegates is the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress in San Antonio, from November 22 to 25.

The records of Building Inspector E. C. Dietrich show that during the ten months of the present year, buildings of various kinds aggregating in value $181,797 have been erected in Tucson.

The Arizona Eastern railroad will no longer be referred to as a "barro" line. The accommodations furnished travelers on the trip between Globe and Bowie will hereafter be home-like and comfortable. The parlor car, a 1 that was needed to bring the line up-to-date, will make its initial trip tomorrow.

Work has been started on the installation of the Gamewell fire alarm system for Douglas. All of the material required, with the exception of the cabinet for the switch-board has arrived and there is nothing that need delay the work.

Yavapai county is going to send an eight-pound sweet potato to the territorial fair and expects the tuber to startle the world. But there are old timers in the Salt River valley who will demand more than eight-pound sweet potatoes before they get excited.

Six hundred head of cattle, raised in the San Pedro valley and destined for California alfalfa fields, were unloaded recently at the stockyards and will be shipped immediately to the west. They are said to be the advance guard of 25,000 cattle which will be shipped from Cochise county to California this fall.

Receipts yesterday from the mines adjacent to Prescott of gold bullion by the Prescott National bank were rather heavy, aggregating $650 from the Tiger Gold company and an unknown great producer, to which was added a bar value at nearly $3000, that also came from an unknown mine. With these shipments were a concentrated yield, that ran to a larger sum than the above total.

Admitting that they passed bogus checks to obtain funds on which to get married, two young men well known in Globe are in jail charged with forgery. They were arrested at Miami a short time before they were to have married two sisters.

There is general comment throughout the city of Tucson on the apparent lack of interest in the party primaries which are to be held in about two weeks. With one or two exceptions little or no work seems to be going on. They are evidently following the lead of Tombstone politically in municipal matters.

E. R. Firtle and W. M. Adamson expect to attend the Phoenix fair, going from Douglas to the capital city in their automobiles.

November will witness the inauguration of the regular service over the Twin Buttes extension and the trip from Tucson to the thriving border town of Nogales will be made in a little over two hours. This will mark the opening of the great commercial opportunity for which Tucson has long waited—a direct route to the west coast of Mexico. Tucson is geographically the American gateway to this rich and developing trade empire.

Many mining men are taking the field in honors following the close of the rainy season. The S. P. line to Tombstone has opened up vast stretches of rich mineral and agricultural land and Americans are quick to realize the advantage this will give those first in the field.

No city in the territory has a brighter future than Globe and a few have cause for expecting so large an increase in population within the next five years. Many of the mines now in the development stage will by that time be in operation and whatever makes for the growth and development of the Globe mining district and the Gila valley makes for a greater Globe.

Father Musser of Bisbee, formerly of Tombstone, was also in attendance. There were addresses in English and Spanish by Rev. Father Duval also formerly of Tombstone and Hon. F. J. Duffy.

Ex-Marshal Ben Daniels and family are again nicely located in their old home at the corner of Fourth avenue and Seventeenth street, and will make Tucson their future home.

Making the Arizona Constitution

The legislative committee reported the initiative and referendum proposition Saturday, leaving the percentages to be decided by the convention. It differs in no important respects from the Oregon plan.

The recall proposition is also expected. It provides for the recall of all public officers. A debate is expected, as there is some opposition to a recall for the judiciary.

The direct primary, publicity of campaign contributions before the election and the direct advisory vote of United States senators was reported favorably and the first legislature was instructed to pass the laws.

All the educational qualification propositions were reported adversely. The recall of all elective officers of the state, not excepting the judiciary is provided in a proposition introduced by the executive committee as a substitute for all similar measures presented. All officers may be recalled at an election initiated by a petition of 15 per cent of the voters.

A proposition for the protection of livestock from contagious diseases was defeated.

The liability proposition, passed yesterday, as it will be incorporated in the proposed constitution, includes the following sentences:

"That no law shall be enacted in the state limiting the amount of damage to be recovered for causing the death or injury of any person."
"Any contract or agreement to waive any right to recover damages for death or injury shall be void."

Keegan of Gila introduced three propositions relative to children. The first provides for creation of a juvenile court in each county, and prohibits the trial by any criminal court of any offender under 18.
The "before and after" campaign publicity proposition passed by a vote of 49 to 1.

Proposed Change in Criminal Procedure

Numerous inquiries have been made from outside points regarding a proposition introduced in the constitutional convention some time ago by A. R. Lynch of Graham county. As the proposition is not a long one, it is deemed best to print it in full. The proposition, which is No. 68, reads as follows:

It is hereby proposed—
Section 1. No person shall be prosecuted criminally in any court of record for felony or misdemeanor otherwise than by information or indictment; no person shall be prosecuted for felony by information without having had a preliminary examination before a magistrate or having waived such preliminary examination. Prosecution may be instituted in courts other than courts of record upon sworn complaint.
Sec. 2. Grand juries shall be drawn and summoned only by order of the superior court.

Price of Silver On the Up Grade

According to the recent metal quotations, silver has reached another high water mark, being quoted at 56 3/4 cents an ounce. This is the highest price in nearly three years. The prevailing price two years ago was around 50 cents, at which point it remained until about a year ago. Recently it has been gradually climbing until it has established new records the present year.

The advance in the price of silver means great things for the district of Tombstone in general and Arizona in particular. The price has gone up several cents during the past few weeks and this rise in silver will stimulate scores of little mines producing silver which at present lie idle and have been in that condition for years. It will make many producers in the Tombstone district of properties which otherwise were unprofitable.

Brigadier General Earl E. Thomas, commanding the Department of the Colorado, is friendly to Tucson as a location for the proposed brigade army post, and will be in Tucson November 24 for a visit.

Big returns are being received by growers of alfalfa seed, according to farmers who are in the city from the San Pedro valley. They also report fairly good crops, which will insure them good profits.

The work on the Roosevelt dam is almost completed, according to the report of the board of army engineers appointed by the secretary of the interior.

Over 215 miles of railroad were constructed in Arizona last year; this does not include spur tracks, switches, etc. Plans for many times this mileage are ready for the coming year.

Miss Lora Higgins is a Tombstone visitor for several days with friends from her home in Wilcox.

Dr. George A. Bridge is among the visiting professional men in the county seat on court matters, in the capacity of a witness.

Justices of the peace and other officers were taken severely to task by the grand jury in the report submitted to Judge Doan, signed by Foreman J. W. Cull. It is declared that a great amount of needless expense is entailed upon the citizens by alleged criminal actions whose inefficient evidence has been obtained, being held.

Constable L. R. Bailey was among the arrivals on the noon train from Lowell as a witness in the case of the Territory vs. Manlio Marez, charged with burglary.

Kindly Words for Colonel Pickett

Col. H. L. Pickett, a prominent attorney of Tombstone visited Clifton this week, and while renewing old acquaintances made for himself many new friends who will welcome his return whenever he inclines to visit them. It is a deserved honor that Colonel Pickett visited the future and first county seat of Greenlee on matters pertaining to mining interests. And that may be true, as the Colonel has the reputation over the southwest and northwest Pacific of being among the most astute mining attorneys of the disciples of H. K. Stone and Kent. But that is not all; he is informed by a Cochise County arrival that the Colonel is not only a capable and the best gentleman in a candidate for the first senatorial honor to be bestowed by the vote of Arizona, and he has so graciously announced and outlined his policy of campaign, advocating that senators should be chosen by direct primary and not by legislative body as is now in vogue elsewhere; and he is becoming manifestly more and more anxious to see the public as each succeeding legislative body chooses senators not upon merit or at the behest of public clamor, but in obedience to the dictate of the "sack." Colonel Pickett has taken an advanced step in politics and since none have assumed to question his innovation in electing senators, it would appear that even Republican aspirants, who are conspicuous only by their absence—acquiesce in Colonel Pickett's proposition to allow the "free people" to have a voice in the selection of who shall represent them at Washington.

Greenlee county democrats are pleased that the old warhorse come and mingled with them. Coming from the Sunny South, as he does, he fell among many old companions who delight to recall in reminiscences of "the old" and "the new," and as the Colonel is Tennesseean his memory of the past makes of him an admirable story teller of the present.

The Democratic party is indeed fortunate that it has such men as Colonel Pickett to advocate its principles and to see to scrupulous the failures attempted to be fast upon the public. Colonel Pickett is surely making strides toward the White House.—Clifton Era.

W. G. Wingfield of Prescott, who early in the year started a canning factory at his ranch near Camp Verde, states that the season closed with over 10,000 cans of apples, peaches, pears, and plums preserved. He says that he will increase the capacity of the cannery next year.

A daily train service between Tucson and Nogales on the Tucson-Cala-huaca line will be established some time within the next ten days, according to a statement today by R. S. Stubbs, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific. It is to be an improved substitute for the tri-weekly service now in existence.

Rushing Work on a New Arizona Railroad

A Yuma dispatch says—With 500 men at present working, the San Diego & Arizona railroad will be completed to Yuma by April 19, 1911, according to General Manager Clayton. Already 27 miles of the road has been completed and are in operation and 15 miles more are in course of construction.

There will be 10 tunnels, none of which will be over 400 feet long. The highest point on the road is to be 3000 feet and the average grade on the whole line is 1.14 per cent. Branch lines will be run to the mining and agricultural districts.

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."
