LOOKING BACKWARD TWENTY-FOUR YEARS

MONDAY

A quarter of beef from the recently wrecked load at Walnut Gulch, has turned up at Long Branch station, high and dry.

Mrs. Gallen has returned from the ranch, where she has been taking a short vacation.

Tom Sorin, one of the founders of the first daily paper in Tombstone, can be found at the Prospector office in future.

A woman with 25 children was found in Wilcox, by census enumerator Pool.

Monday has been set as the day when the county board of equalization will be blessed with an audience of kickers.

The new Chinese minister when told that his countrymen come to America merely to get all they can to carry back to their native country, suavely replies that is precisely the case with Americans in China.

Of the cities in Arizona, Tombstone is third in size of population, second in size of acreage and first in size of importance—politically.

El Chees Chow, the Apache convict, refused to accept the sacrament and died a consistent heathen, as he had lived.

C. S. Fly reports having seen no Indians in the Chiricahua mountains or heard of any during his four weeks stay there in the heart of the mountains.

TUESDAY

The bridge which crossed the San Pedro at the Snake ranch, was washed away during the late heavy rain and left on dry land about a mile below its former location.

Territorial papers are cautioning people to beware of skunk bites, which are said to result in hydrophobia, but as no sane man would deliberately sit still and let a skunk bite him, the value of the advice isn't apparent.

And now Don Cabezas claims that it has not been enumerated. Next? Mohave county has advertised for bids for building a court house and fire-proof vault.

The Kingston Shaft wants New Mexico and Arizona consolidated and admitted as one state. That might do and name the new state "Mexizona."

A Japanese who applied for admission to the California law college was rejected on the ground that he was a Mongolian. The gentleman, by name Mr. Yoshikawa, brought suit for damages and returned to Japan to collect funds to prosecute the case, being determined to settle in the courts of California the vexed question "are Japanese, Mongolians?"

An Arizona exchange says the appointment of R. S. Hatch as assistant prison superintendent, is a case of placing the top rail at the bottom of the fence.

WEDNESDAY

Robert Ingersoll allowed a poor cigar-maker to use the Ingersoll name as the brand of his cigars, and furnished also this motto for each box: "We shall smoke in this world, but not in the next." The cigar-maker made $9000 within nine months.

The popular czar among small boys at present is rearing young mocking birds, which may be found in abundance in the outskirts of town. The male and female are so much alike in general appearance that many an amateur takes faithful care of a bird for months, hoping to have a fine singer, and is rewarded at last by finding an egg in the cage.

Mr. W. W. Rodehaver, who has been for several weeks acting temporarily as foreman of the Prospector office left today for Phoenix, taking with him the best wishes of the staff.

But one paper has been found thus far that thinks the census returns of its county just and true. This is the Kingston, N. M., Shaft.

Mr. Larry Geary left this morning for Tucson.

Mr. Frank Wolcott received a very painful bite from a scorpion yesterday.

Mrs. E. B. Gage entertained a number of her young friends at lunch today.

The superintendent of the Sterling Silver is making some improvements in the company's office on Toughnut street.

With the funding of the county debt under the new funding act, Yavapai county can be run on a cash basis.—Journal Miner.

THURSDAY

Mr. Frank Earle left for Turquoise this afternoon.

The Territorial Insane Asylum is out of debt. The Republican board having just paid the last indebtedness of nine months standing.

"First eastern mail this afternoon since Monday afternoon. Washcut near Bisbee.—Phoenix Herald.

The Bisbee railroad is a very important one we cordially admit but its washouts do not stop the eastern mails on their way to Phoenix.

A telegram was received from prosecuting attorney Stilwell today telling Justice Johnston to discharge Louis Corona. The latter has been in jail on a charge of having murdered Tom Hannon.

Two-hundred and sixty-seven defunct Chinese left for China last month from San Francisco. They did not apply for return papers.

The Dos Cabezas gold mill started up last Monday.

FRIDAY

A large number of Benson taxpayers came up today in response to notices sent out notifying them of the raise on their assessments.

Several parties contemplate making stamping expeditions to the Huachuacs next week.

The tax-payers of Wilcox and Benson are going to attend the political of the man who suggested a raise on the assessments.

Dr. Douglas, the famous physician who attended Gen'l Grant, is now a charity patient in a New York hospital, suffering from paralysis. His practice yielded him a princely income $12,000 alone having been received from General Grant. Now he is penniless and an invalid, and his wife is endeavoring to eke out a living by taking boarders.

The Journal-Miner says some of the richest ore ever taken out of the Silver King was struck recently on the 130-foot level in the new shaft. The ore consisted of gold sulphurets, running several hundred dollars to the ton.

Mr. John Slaughter returned last night from the San Bernardino ranch. He reports abundant rains in that vicinity and grass in many places between Mud Springs and the line is more than a foot high.

100 TONS OF HAY GOES UP IN SMOKE

SAFFORD, July 19.—Sunday evening about 7:30 o'clock, a haystack on Richard Sayton's ranch, just north of town, was discovered on fire. An alarm was turned in and the fire department quickly responded.

When the firemen arrived on the scene, two other haystacks had caught fire from the first and were burning briskly, with no chance to save them from total destruction. The firemen and citizens went to work to save the adjoining property and succeeded in confining the flames to the haystacks.

About 100 bales of hay was burned, part of which had been baled. Mr. Layton lost sixty tons and the balance of less fell on C. L. Alfred, who was operating the farm.

Mr. Layton was in town Monday and expressed his heartfelt thanks to the members of the fire department and citizens who responded to the alarm and gave their best efforts to prevent further damage by the fire.

From Monday's Daily.

Work Started
At the Payla, a property lying some two miles west from Courtland, work is being resumed under the direction of John Gleeson, the mining man of Gleeson. The work at present is confined to cleaning out the shaft and putting in new timbers. This property has not been worked for some two or three years, but quite recently a car load of ore was shipped from the old dump that is believed will pay well for the effort.

Hayrurst Here
Constable Hayhurst of Douglas was a visitor in the city today.

Another Rain

R. A. Woodruff, of Douglas, arrived in the city this morning and has taken the position of county stenographer in the office of County Attorney J. F. Ross. Mr. Woodruff's family will arrive in a few days to make their home here.

Night Shift
A night shift has been added at the mill of the Imperial Guard Mines Co.

Band Meets Tonight
The members of the old Tombstone city band will meet at the K of P hall in the city hall building and plans will be formulated and discussed for the reorganization of the Tombstone City band with a greatly increased membership over the old organization, which could go toward what new instruments would be needed. There are quite a number of new residents in the city who play some kind of an instrument and there is no doubt but what Tombstone can produce one of the best bands in the state.

Douglas Secretary Here
Oscar K. Goll, secretary of the Douglas Chamber of Commerce & Mines was a visitor in the city yesterday and today on business matters. He will remain here until tomorrow before returning home. Mr. Goll states that Douglas at present is looking to paved streets which will put it in the class of the best.

Good Roads Conference
It has been decided that the next conference of the Arizona Good Road association shall be held at Flagstaff in the latter part of September. An informal ballot taken by the membership showed that a great majority of the delegates preferred the latter date to that at first expected. It was the original intention to meet during the session of the state tax conference to be held this month.

On Court

Returned home
Miss Nora Thiel returned home this morning from the Pyreath ranch in the Huachuca mountains, where she has been visiting for the past several weeks.

Travelling Auditor
Travelling Auditor V. A. Holzer of the Western Union Telegraph company was a visitor in the city yesterday on regular inspection.

Picnic in Mountains
Yesterday about thirty young people of this city journeyed to the L T I ranch, in the Dragon mountains in a hay rack. They spent the day climbing the steep mountain peaks and enjoying the shade of the large oak trees, returning home late in the evening.

A sumptuous "spread" which had been provided by the young ladies of the party was a feature of the day, after which the entire party went on a climbing expedition in the mountains. A splendid view of the surrounding country can be had from the Dragon mountains on this side of the famous Cochise Stronghold and many beautiful views were taken by those who brought along kodaks. The return trip via the hay rack was well enjoyed and a tired party were glad to arrive home reporting a grand time.

From Tuesday's Daily.

AT RAILROAD BALL IN DRY ARIZONA

The following little ditty from the Lordsburg Liberal depicts the occurrences of a Railroad Ball in dry old Arizona. Railroad men and others may find it interesting. It follows:

At the Railroad Firemen's Ball which was held here last night, a boomer switchman, carrying an excess tonnage of that brand of moist damnation known as "bootleggers Delight," an unmanageable breath and an alcoholic impediment of locomotion, doubled up the incline and landed his load in two trips. He then proceeded to amalgamate with the merry crowd of terpsichorean revelers and from sundry torrid remarks conveyed to all within hearing of his booze-corroded voice that he was the General Manager of the Universe, having right of way over everything on the line; all others to pull into sidings and give him the main line for he was the great and only Casey Jones. While thusly testing his air someone humanely hit him between the veriform appendix and the watch pocket with a beer bottle (empty.) When he had assumed the perpendicular and was engaged in checking up the wreck, Floor Manager Bumpus threw the derail and Casey Jones hit the down grade, running wild until he made a rear end collision with Marshall Dorsey. Dorsey complained into Casey Jones and pushed him into the municipal roundhouse for repairs and general overhauling. This morning Judge Schmidt inspected him, marked him "bad order," and sentenced him to 90 days in the "back trip."

SCOTT GETS JUDGMENT FOR $30,000

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—The libel suit brought against the Los Angeles Times by Joseph Scott resulted today in a verdict for the plaintiff of $30,000 damages. The case was conducted by John Mason Ross, junior member of the Bisbee, Arizona firm of Ellinwood & Ross.

Joseph Scott is widely known throughout Arizona and California. He is one of the Republican leaders of the latter state, is high in the councils of Knights of Columbus and a prominent member of the bar of the southwest. He has taken an active part in the famous Costello litigation before the Arizona courts.

Mr. Scott alleged that the Los Angeles Times libelled him by making a charge that he had taken advantage of client in the conduct of divorce proceedings. Suit was joined and Mr. Scott immediately sought the assistance of John Mason Ross as counsel. Because of warm professional as well as personal ties, the Arizona lawyer consented to enter the case.

ARIZONA WINS IN OIL RATE CASE

PHOENIX, July 20.—In a decision handed down yesterday in the oil rate case, the interstate commerce commission sustained the contentions of the Arizona corporation commission, and declared existing rates from California, Kansas and Texas points to Arizona to be unreasonable. A reduction of fifty cents per ton on fuel oil from Bakersfield to points in this state was prescribed, and other reductions in the rates on fuel and oil ordered. The Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads were defendants in the case.

Although until copies of the decision are received at the offices of the commission it will be impossible to state exactly what the effect will be, it is known that the reduction in oil rates prescribed by the interstate commerce commission will result in a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars to the consumers of this state. Fuel oil is used in practically all the big mining camps and on all the railroad of the state, with the exception of the Santa Fe main line between Lupton and Winslow, where coal from the Gallup field is used for fuel. Outside of a few cities, where manufactured gas is available oil is the most important fuel, and the saving on this item alone will be enormous, while the large mining companies will profit greatly by the reduction.

Battle With an Ostrich
J. W. Heffner had a battle with his male ostrich the other day and was forced to kill the animal in order to save himself. The bird had tried to prevent horses from entering the field, when Mr. Heffner sought to drive him away the ostrich made a lunge at him and attempted to strike him with his foot. Mr. Heffner brought his club down on the ostrich's neck and in a few minutes he was dead.—Chandler Arizona.
