THE OTHER FELLOW'S FACE.

An Incident Like You Read About in the Arizona Kicker.

"Do you see my face?" inquired Marshal Paul yesterday, exhibiting a countenance marred by a swollen lip and abrasions on the side of the nose. "You ought to see the other fellow." The "other fellow" was a sight. One side of his face was unsightly enough, but it looked beautiful in comparison with the contusions and discolorations on the other side. The "other fellow" was a miner who had come in from Olive camp and his adventures were reminiscent of some of the episodes in the Arizona Kicker.

The "other fellow" had filled up with whisky, mounted his mule and rode along Congress street using language which threatened to crack the adobe walls on either side. The Marshal was notified and coming up tried to induce the "other fellow" to leave town. He only made matters worse and in the struggle that followed he planted one shoe in the Marshal's face and the other in his chest. Then the Marshal all but planted him. He was hammered into submission and taken to jail. He got twenty-five days in police court yesterday morning. There was a time when the "other fellow's" conduct would not have excited remark, but times have happily changed.—Star.

A Sudden Death. It becomes our painful duty to announce the death of the 4-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. ...

There is no little excitement in Florence over the recent strike of rich copper and silver ore in the neighborhood of the Buttes. W. R. Stone and W. F. Cooper brought in some rock last Tuesday that was rich beyond question. It is a copper-silver glance that will assay up to the hundreds. It is believed they have found the lost John D. Walker mine, which has been vainly searched for for so many years. Some fifteen or twenty years ago Mr. Walker brought some ore into Florence which he claimed to have found near the Buttes. It assayed 3,000 ounces silver to the ton. He could never afterward find the place. This is supposed by many to be the identical ore. Messrs. Stone, Cooper and Colton are to be congratulated on their find.—Florence Tribune.

PASSING EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Happenings Throughout the Territory Edited With the Scissors.

At Del Rio in Chino valley a murder was narrowly averted on Wednesday night. J. W. Sullivan the well known cattleman arrived in Phenix yesterday and says John Clements exchanged a half dozen shots with him that night.

There was some trouble about settlement. Later Clements assaulted an old Mexican in Sullivan's employ when Sullivan got his six shooter and ordered him to desist. Clements and a man called Bob both drew guns and Clements began firing. Sullivan returned the fire but neither man were hurt. After it was over Sullivan went to Antone's assistance when he was again fired on but fortunately the bullet missed its aim. Prescott officers are seeking Clements and Bob.—Gazette.

Never in the history of the Arizona press have the newspapers of the Territory seemed to be enjoying such general prosperity. This is well, and it is hoped they will grow more and more prosperous as there is no class or profession who do so much for the general good of the Territory and upon which the prosperity of the community so largely rests as the local newspaper.—Star.

Searching for Coal.

The eighth hole is now being sunk by the P. I. Co. in their search for coal at a location near the Brown ranch, on the Gila river. Mr. Reynolds, who has charge of the work informed a GUARDIAN representative that the prospects for finding coal are very favorable. With the present machinery a depth of 1500 feet can be reached and in case of necessity, an additional capacity of 1500 feet can be added. From the surface to the present depth, which is over 100 feet, a hard conglomerate composition was found and boring was slow. But it is expected that sinking will now continue faster. All the substance from the hole is conveyed by means of pipes, to a bosh in plain view of the engineer, when if any color of mineral is found it is at once detected. The water used for drilling is conveyed to the pipes from the river and a well, by means of a powerful pump, thousands of gallons being used every day. Should coal be found in our valley, it would not be long until it would become one of the busiest centres of commerce in Arizona.

A FOUL MURDER.

Little Ida Gaskin the Victim of Omaha Villains.

At 2 o'clock Nov. 3, the police found the dead body of Ida Gaskin, aged 11 in a vacant room on Howard street Omaha Neb. She had been criminally assaulted and choked to death. She had been missing since evening. Within an hour George Morgan, Ed Sanford and Henry Booker, three young men, were in custody charged with the crime.

Ida Gaskin's mother, a widow, lives on the third floor of a tenement house on No. 1814 Howard street. Ida was missed from her home early in the evening. Her mother searched for her, but failed to find any trace of the missing girl. At about 11 o'clock she reported to the police station that her daughter was missing. When the police search developed the murder, three hours later, a rigorous investigation led to the arrest of Booker on suspicion. While all were out of the room says Mrs. Gaskin, her little son and a Bee reporter, the little boy remarked: "I know who killed Ida." On being questioned he said that during the afternoon, "George and Ed sent me up stairs to tell Ida they wanted her."

The reporter learned that Geo. and Ed. were Morgan and Sanford and that they occupied rooms on the floor below. Hurriedly calling an officer the reporter secured the arrest of the pair. At the station most damning evidence was found on Morgan's person. Neither he nor Sanford were undressed when arrested. On Morgan's underclothing fresh bloodstains were found and he refused to say a word. Both men are nervous.

The little girl was choked to death, her throat showing plainly where the cruel fingers squeezed her tender windpipe. Booker is a driver of a coal-wagon and a friend of the Gaskin family. Morgan is a collar-maker by trade, but has been out of employment for some time. Sanford works for the Crane Elevator Company. It is the opinion of the police that the case is conclusive against Morgan.

ARRESTED FOR DEBT.

A Man Attempts to Beat His Creditors and is Taken into Custody.

Last Friday morning a telegram was received at the Sheriff's office asking for the arrest of John Hinton, of Thomas, on complaint of D. H. Ming, for debt. The telegram also stated that Hinton would pass through Solomonville on the train in an endeavor to leave the country. Under Sheriff Smith went to the depot to make the arrest but the bird had apparently flown. Smith telegraphed to Safford and found that his man had left the train here whereupon Deputy Sheriff Schwerin was sent here to effect the arrest. When the officer arrived Hinton could not be found, but upon close inquiry it was learned from Cris Madson that Hinton had hired a man and team from his livery stable to convey him to Stein's Pass, where he intended to board the S. P. train. On gaining this information Mr. Schwerin at once started across the country to intercept his man, and overtook and placed him under arrest about a mile this side of the big wind mill and returned with him to Safford, then took him back to Thomas on Saturday evening's train.

It seems that Hinton had contracted several debts at Thomas, his principal creditor being D. H. Ming, and then concluded to beat them. Accordingly he disposed of his property and boarded the train last Friday morning with his pockets full of money. When Mr. Ming learned of this he saw his only chance was to have him intercepted. Hinton had also thought of this and therefore left the train here, claiming he was going to buy goods of Campbell, but instead hired a rig to convey him to Stein's Pass.

The fact is evident that he intended to skip for, as the train was returning from Bowie it met the staff and a GUARDIAN representative who was on board saw Hinton take a position in the bottom of the buggy and cover himself with a blanket to avoid being recognized.

A Runaway.

Just at noon yesterday a team belonging to M. M. Smith, of Thatcher, came dashing down Main street without a driver and hitched to a wagon with a hay rack on, bent on mischief. Several persons attempted to stop the runaway but were unsuccessful and when they were in front of Owens' store Mr. Smith and Thos. Merrill jumped on the wagon as it passed by, and Allen Smithson about this time overtook them on horseback and caught the rein of one of the horses which checked them while Mr. Smith climbed down onto the wagon tongue and picked up the lines which were dragging on the ground, by means of which they were easily stopped. As they passed Owens' store they almost caused another runaway; the team started but the wagon ran against a tie post which held them fast.
