Concerning the Poppy.

To the farmer the poppy is an unwelcome weed. In the old days, however, the flower was held in great esteem, being dedicated to Ceres, the goddess of agriculture. It played an important part in harvest home celebrations and other ceremonies, and was protected in the countryside. Today, in Switzerland, the poppy is used as a love token. Girls place a petal to the palm of their left hand and strike it with their right. If the petal bursts with a sharp "pop" the lover in the case is held to be sincere. If there is no sound the girl believes him false.

USE OF FORETHOUGHT AND CARE WILL THWART MANY FARM FIRES

Every Fire Suggests Preventive and Protective Measures That Should Have Been Provided.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Every time there is a fire on a farm it takes away value that never can be replaced. Either the owner must be deprived of what may have been the fruits of 20 of the best years of his life, or the insurance company will be called upon for a check, which has to come out of the premiums paid by himself and other property owners.

If there are many fires, the insurance rates increase. In mutual companies, which carry a large proportion of farm insurance, the increase is immediately felt. In a recent year there were more than 38,000 farm fires in the United States, entailing a loss of more than $18,000,000, of which 35 per cent was held to have been preventable.

Strive to Prevent Fires.

Prevention of fires was made a special subject of consideration in churches, schools, public gatherings, and farm organizations for an entire week this October. The farmer, with the accumulation of many years tied up in his buildings, may well make every week fire-prevention week.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, practically every fire is preventable, except those caused by lightning or of incendiary origin. Even when the best preventive measures fail and fires break out, preparatory measures will put the farmer and his neighbors in better shape to subdue them.

Every fire must have an initial flame, whether it be from a carelessly thrown match or cigarette, an explosion of kerosene or gasoline, an explosion of grain dust in a thrashing machine, or sparks from a sooty chimney or passing engine.

Matches never should be left loose or within the reach of children. Put them in noncombustible containers and have a pocket match safe. Better yet, use safety matches, which can be scratched only on the box.

Smoking never should be permitted around the barn or in the vicinity of inflammable matter. Matches, cigar or cigarette stubs never should be thrown where they can do harm.

Kerosene and gasoline are useful servants, but destructive when let loose.

They should be rigidly confined and never allowed to mix or change places. Kerosene lamps should be solid of base to prevent tipping over. If they are of metal, there is no danger of their breaking and spilling oil. The wick should fit tightly to prevent vapor from the bowl reaching the flame and flaring. They never should be filled in the presence of an open flame.

Gasoline cans should be easily distinguishable from kerosene cans. It is better to store the gasoline in a buried tank. At least the tank should be away from buildings. Vapor never should be allowed to escape in a close room or where there is any fire.

Stoves Cause Many Fires.

Overheated stoves and flues cause many fires. Chimneys should be built from the ground if possible, and should not be attached to any of the framework of the building so there can be uneven settling. They should be clear of the woodwork and should always be kept clear of soot.

Stovepipes should never pass through inaccessible places like a closet or garret. If they must pass through the wall, see that the stovepipe hole is provided with a good "thimble." Where walls and ceilings are near the pipe cover them with metal or asbestos. Every stove should have a piece of sheet metal under it to protect the floor from hot ashes and live coals.

Never leave inflammable rubbish near buildings. Remove it. If it must be burned, pile it in small piles, so the blaze never can get out of control. It is best not to have the children near the fire. This is perhaps a hardship. At least they can be kept from playing with the fire.

When new buildings are to be constructed proper spacing and the liberal use of concrete and masonry work will reduce fire liability. Smokehouses should never be built so that hot coals can start a blaze. Hot ashes never should be dumped in inflammable receptacles.

Fire-Fighting Equipment.

In the way of providing fire-fighting equipment much can be done without great outlay. Barrels of water on the roof and pails of water kept standing in convenient places will possibly save disastrous loss. If there is an elevated tank or a force pump, a hose connection will be found invaluable in time of need. A ladder that will reach the roof should always be available for immediate use.

Sand should be kept handy to throw on gasoline and oil fires; water only scatters them. There are a number of simple chemical extinguishers on the market, some commercial and some homemade.

With the present widespread use of automobiles, a rural fire company equipped either with motor pump or large chemical extinguisher, or both, can easily be organized and equipped. Every farm fire suggests preventive and protective measures that should have been provided. Take a little time and provide them in advance.

Poultry Like Corn.

Corn seems to be the grain most desired by poultry, but too much has a tendency to put on fat rather than produce eggs.

Cuthbert Berry Favored.

Cuthbert is one of the best red raspberries, but as a rule the reds are not as hardy as the blackcaps.

Better Quality Needed.

Better quality is needed with the live stock on many farms.

Purebreds Are Best.

The purebred sire is better than the grade. So is the purebred female.

A Moment's Carelessness May Reduce a Fine Property to Ruins.

Hogging Down Corn.
Hogging down some of the corn is an economical way of harvesting it.

Most Expensive Sire.
The most expensive sire is the one that produces no offspring.

Plant Has Peculiar Property.

Pitcher plants catch in their "pitchers" not only insects and spiders in immense numbers, but also, occasionally mollusks and crustaceans and even tree frogs and lizards. Some species of insects are adapted for living with impunity in the pitchers, where they feed on the remains of the captured insects.

Women Porters in London Market.

In the famous Covent Garden flower market in London, the work of carrying is done largely by women porters. A somewhat odd recognition of their work is received annually by these flower porters in the shape of a shawl and two or three each, a gift from the duchess of Bedford.

Roads Speedily Resurfaced.

Closing London's busy roads for several days while they were resurfaced was inconvenient and interfered seriously with traffic. A new method permits the road to be completely repaired and opened to traffic again three hours after the repair crew goes to work. Tar is vaporized in a traveling cart and pumped through the sprayer at high pressure, which forces it deeply into the bed of the road. While the tar is still hot, there are men following behind the sprayer to sprinkle fine gravel over the surface, and as soon as the tar hardens, which takes only three hours, as stated above, the road can be thrown open for traffic.—Popular Science Monthly.

Famous Persons.

Somebody who writes for the Argonaut has collected a number of insignificant facts about significant persons. Oliver Wendell Holmes used to carry a horse chestnut in one pocket and a potato in another to ward off rheumatism. Edgar Allan Poe slept with his cat and was inordinately proud of his feet. Robert Browning shuffled his feet so constantly that he wore holes in the carpet. Sardou imagined he had a perpetual cold. Count Tolstol was very rich, but he wore the cheapest clothes that he could buy. Ernest Renan wore his finger nails abnormally long.—Detroit News.

His Resolve.

"Why do you always send flowers?"
"I'm not going to have her share my candy with other guys."

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenswood, W. Va. — "For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenswood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience. Remember this, for over forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring health.

The Good Listener.

A young woman has risen to fame on the American stage by a peculiar route. The story of how opportunity came knocking at her door and found her in has just come out in a newspaper interview. It is simply this: She "listened her way" into stardom. In the background of many a man of genius you will find a good listener—usually a woman—to whom they could pour out their minds. Four such may be named: Balzac, the novelist; the composers, Wagner and Tchaikowsky, and the artist, Michelangelo. There is no question but that the good listening of four remarkable women fertilized the minds of the gifted men. The records are in their letters. Good listening is a lay confessional. It is one of the fine arts.

Ambition as Motive Power.

The right ambition can mold the nature of its mental push. Country boys have risen to financial pedestals and rail-splitters to national leadership. The right mental push put energy into action when needed. Such men have left names to encourage our youth. Every youth has a right to picture himself in high station. It takes only continued effort intelligently directed to put him there. The vision of it is the first mental push toward that end. When every effort expresses the motive of the individual he will strive for the noblest conduct. That means putting the right push into the mind and developing according to the noblest purposes in life.—Grit.

New Branch of Engineering.

Methods of regulating the humidity of the air in buildings, especially in factories where moisture plays an important part in various industrial processes, constitute a branch of engineering known as "air-conditioning."

Why guess about it— When you can know about it?

Suppose a guide said—

"This way there's a safe and pleasant road to your destination, with no risks or troubles on the way," and—

"That way there's a road that a good many have stalled on and turned back from, but you may get through."

Which would you take?

Postum is a thoroughly agreeable and satisfying meal-time drink, and you're sure that it's perfectly safe for health. Coffee contains drug qualities which disturb and harm the health of many.

Postum or coffee? Which road?

Why guess when you can know?

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.
