Ormsby chapter, D. A. R. were invited to meet with Mrs. E. Morris in Dorset Saturday afternoon. As the day was an ideal one a large delegation from Manchester accepted the invitation. At the South Dorset station they were met by the hostess and two past regents, Mrs. Jennie Burnham Thayer and Mrs. Helen Snyder. The party then visited the quarries near by, all of which are of interest to the D. A. R., as it is here that the marble used in the D. A. R. building in Washington is quarried. On returning from the quarries the party were invited to the office where several pieces of beautifully matched marble were on exhibition and all were presented with a souvenir. Later under the shade of nearby trees where the perfume of a variety of wild flowers wafted their perfumes a bountiful and delicious collation was served. It was a day long to be remembered for the interest and pleasure it afforded. An unanimous vote of thanks from Ormsby chapter was given to Ira Glover for so kindly showing the members through the various places.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF
The Following Letter is From a Prominent Railroad Official in Omaha.
R. J. G. HARWOOD, Bennington, Vt.
My Dear Sir—I am well pleased with the glasses which you fitted for me on my recent visit to Bennington. They are much more satisfactory than any I have ever had fitted either in Chicago or Omaha. Your careful and scientific method of testing the eyes was a revelation to me. And then your charges are so reasonable that no one who has any eye trouble need hesitate to consult you.
I enclose New York exchange in payment of your bill.

The country roads are beginning to show signs of drought very plainly and the need of rain is becoming more and more apparent each day. The dust is very deep and deep ruts are being made by automobiles in many places. Some farmers are already obliged to draw water for their cattle. It is seldom that conditions get as bad as this so early in the season.

One of Troy's physicians performed an act unprecedented in this city this morning, if not in all cities, when he appeared before the board of assessors and requested that the valuation placed on his personal property be increased. He said the amount was too small. As there was no chance for an argument he was accommodated. The assessors will not disclose his identity and neither will he.—Troy Press.

THE LAST IMPRESSION

It's the last impression that you get of a pair of shoes that decides whether or not you are going to buy the same brand again. No matter how well they may look when new, if they lose their shape or wear out quickly, the store that sold them can not expect to sell another pair to the same customer.
