GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

LEADER OF NEGRO RACE IS DEAD

TUSKEGEE

Booker T. Washington Passed Away on Sunday

LEFT NEW YORK ON FRIDAY

Famous Teacher Realized End Was Near and Wished to Die at Home.

Tuskegee, Ala., Nov. 14.—Booker T. Washington, foremost teacher and leader of the negro race, died early today at his home near the Tuskegee institute, of which he was founder and president. Hardening of the arteries following a nervous breakdown caused death four hours after Dr. Washington arrived from New York.

Although he had been in failing health for several months, the negro leader's condition became serious only last week while he was in the east. He then realized the end was near. But was determined to make the last long trip south. He had said often, "I was born in the south, have lived all my life in the south and expect to die and be buried in the south."

Accompanied by his wife, his secretary and a physician, Dr. Washington left New York for Tuskegee at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. He reached home last midnight, and died at 4:40 this morning. His last public appearance was at the national congress of Congregational churches in New York, where he delivered a lecture October 25. His wife, three children and four grandchildren survive.

John H. Washington, a brother, is superintendent of industries at Tuskegee institute.

The funeral will be at Tuskegee institute Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Booker T. Washington was by no means the first of his race in this country to demonstrate that there is no color line in brains, but he became even more of a national figure than the man he succeeded as leader of the negroes in America, Frederick Douglass.

While opinions may have been at variance at times as regards Mr. Washington's private character, no variance was possible when his intellectual merits were considered. He was an organizer for good among his people. He constantly preached common sense to a race as impulsive as children.

Probably no negro that ever lived was more honored by white men than Mr. Washington. President Roosevelt had him to the White House for dinner, greatly scandalizing some sorts of opinion in the south thereby, but creating throughout the country as a whole a more favorable impression. Andrew Carnegie, whose rise from poverty and menial labor was in some respects not unlike the career of Booker T. Washington, once remarked that history would tell of two Washingtons—one white, the other black; both fathers of their peoples.

It was through the generosity of Mr. Carnegie that Washington was left free to devote his life to the cause of educating negroes. Mr. Carnegie gave $600,000 to the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial institute at Tuskegee, Ala., the school made famous throughout the world.

BUYERS NEWSPAPER

Former Bennington Visitor Goes to Pennsylvania.

William C. Temple, lately of the Boston Globe, who has been in North Adams visiting his mother, Mrs. Ellen C. Temple, left Friday afternoon for Pennsylvania where, in partnership with Walter L. Sanborn of Medford, he has bought the Reporter, a weekly newspaper published in Lansdale, Penn.

Mr. Temple began as a newsboy in that city on June 18, 1894, selling the Weekly Transcript and later when the Daily Transcript was started he built up a route in the Walnut street and State street districts which he continued to develop until September, 1903. At the end of these nine years of consecutive service he had been handling the Transcript longer than any other boy in the business at that time. In 1906 he became a "sub" reporter on the Transcript and subsequently went to Springfield and Boston papers where he was a copy editor.

SUICIDE AT GOSHEN

Despondent Farmer Blew Side of His Head Off.

Brandon, Nov. 14.—Despondency due to illness and depression over a term in prison which he recently underwent drove Fred White, a farmer of Goshen, to take his life with a rifle at his home yesterday afternoon. In the absence of his wife from the house he pressed the barrel of a 45-70 rifle to his head and pressing the trigger with his toe, literally tore off the side of his head.

White was recently released from the state prison at Windsor where he had been serving a sentence for larceny. He was taken ill with pneumonia soon after, but had recovered sufficiently to permit of his being around the house. About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon he sent his wife to the barn to do the evening work and during her absence he killed himself. He was found by her lying beside the bed upon which he had been sitting.

White, who was 32 years old, is survived by his wife, a five-year-old son, a six-year-old daughter, his mother and three brothers, William White of Goshen and George White and Frank White of Leicester.

AEROPLANE BOMBS KILL 30

Three Austrian Aircraft Raid City of Verona

London, Nov. 15.—A dispatch from Rome says that 30 persons are dead in Verona as a result of three Austrian aeroplanes dropping bombs on the city. Thirty other persons were seriously and 19 slightly injured. The bombs of the aircraft found most of their victims in the principal square of the city, where citizens and peasants from the outlying districts were attending the market. Nineteen persons were killed by one bomb. The aeroplanes visited various parts of the city, but none of the missiles dropped by them fell near any of the military buildings.

PRINCE ALBERT ILL AGAIN

London, Nov. 14.—Prince Albert, Second Son of King George, is recovering from an obstinate gastric disorder and will have to stay in London a few weeks to undergo special treatment.

Prince Albert, who is a midshipman in the British navy, was stricken with appendicitis in August, 1914. After undergoing an operation he rejoined his ship in February of this year. He is twenty years old.

CHILD SCALDED FATALLY

Little One Fell Into Tub of Boiling Water

Rutland, Nov. 15.—Walter Henry four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duprey of No. 30 1-2 Howe street, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Rutland hospital as the result of burns received Saturday afternoon when he backed into a tub of scalding water. The child was conscious practically 15 hours and suffered the most intense pains.

POPE LEAVES VATICAN

Departs from Custom of Pontiffs—Visits Church of Saint Anna.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 14.—Pope Benedict has made an important departure from the custom of the Pontiffs by visiting the church of Saint Anna, adjoining the apostolic palace, and thus going outside the Vatican precincts, according to the newspaper Giornale d'Italia. Since the fall of temporal power one form of papal protest against the new order of things has been the seclusion of the Pontiffs in the Vatican.

SNOW IN THE EAST

New York, Nov. 15.—Snow storms are reported all through the east, in eastern New York and as far south as Pennsylvania.

AUSTRIA CLAIMS ANCONA TRIED TO ESCAPE

Warning Shot Fired Across Bow of Italian Liner

PANIC REIGNED ON BOARD

Only a Few Boats Lowered and Were Occupied Principally by Members of Crew.

Brian, Nov. 15.—The Austro-Hungarian admiralty yesterday officially announced that the Italian steamship Ancona attempted to escape at full speed after a warning shot had been fired across her bow, and that the vessel stopped only after being shelled several times by an Austrian submarine. The submarine commander, it is further asserted, allowed the Ancona's passengers and crew 45 minutes to abandon ship, after which the vessel was torpedoed, sinking three-quarters of an hour later. The report that the submarine fired on the life-boats is denied. The statement issued by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty, after declaring that the foreign press had spread false rumors regarding the Ancona incident, says the sinking took place as follows:

"The submarine fired one shot in front of the Ancona's prow, whereupon the steamer fled at full speed, in accordance with the order issued by the Italian authorities, which instructs ships' commanders to flee or to sink the submarine. The submarine pursued the steamer and, continued firing, but the vessel stopped only after being hit several times.

"The submarine allowed 45 minutes for the passengers and crew to abandon the steamer on board of which panic reigned, but only a small number of boats were lowered and these were occupied principally by the crew. A great number of boats, probably sufficient to save all the passengers, remained unoccupied. After a period of 50 minutes and as another steamer was approaching, the submarine submerged and torpedoed the Ancona which sank after an additional 45 minutes. If any of the passengers lost their lives this was due to the fault of the crew, because the steamer tried to escape after it had received orders to stop, and then the crew saved only themselves and not the passengers.

"Reports published in the foreign press that the submarine fired on the Ancona's lifeboats are mendacious inventions. When the steamer stopped, the submarine ceased firing."

COLLAR BONE BROKEN

Everard Brown Hurt When Automobile Turned Turtle.

Everard Brown, aged 21, a weaver employed at the Holden, Leonard company woolen mill, and who lives on Mill street, sustained a broken collar bone Saturday afternoon when his automobile in which he was a passenger overturned at Danby. He was on his way to Rutland with 14 other members of the Hinstler football team for a game with the St. Peter's Athletic club eleven. The accident and mishaps to other automobiles conveying the players delayed the team so that it did not arrive in time for the game which was postponed to Sunday when the Rutland boys won by a score of 32 to 0.

Three Ford cars owned and driven by Eugene LaFortune, Elmer Mattison and James Bushlee were engaged to take the team to Rutland, leaving the village late in the forenoon. The LaFortune car was delayed by blow-outs and the steering gear on the Bushlee car was injured early on the trip. While attempting to pass a motorcycle with side car attached in the village of Danby, the Bushlee car went into the ditch. When they realized that an accident was inevitable, five of the six occupants of the car jumped and escaped without injury. Brown was unable to leave the car as quickly as the others for the reason that one of the boys was sitting on his lap. The car turned over and Brown was caught underneath. He was extricated as quickly as possible, a Danby physician attended to the fractured collar bone and the boy returned to Bennington by train.

The windshield of the car and some of the lamps were broken but the engine and running gear were intact so that the driver and his four passengers were able to complete the trip to Rutland.

Y. M. C. A. WORK

Union Service Sunday Night in Support of Association.

A good-sized gathering from the various churches assembled at the Congregational church last evening to hear Prof. W. J. Campbell, of the Springfield Young Men's Christian Association, speak of the work of the Association.

Those who expected a lot of statistics and generalization were happily surprised in a simple, illuminating way. Prof. Campbell made plain just what the Association stands for and how it does its work.

The Association is not simply a fine building on a corner lot containing a gymnasium and games as an end in themselves. These are its tools with which it does its real work, the drawing out of character, Christian character, to find its expression in service, said Prof. Campbell. And with great conviction he stated that no young man would fail to enter into a "vital" religious program. In fact, there are more young men participating in the religious activities of the Y. M. C. A. than in the physical department, contrary to general belief.

He linked the church and the Association inseparably, and said the Association's failures was often the church's failure. Finally Prof. Campbell said there is no boy problem. Rather, it is a man problem, and as the men are, so will the boys be.

A generous collection was given, half of which will go for Armenian relief and half to the work which the Y. M. C. A. is doing in European prison camps substituting competition in kindness for the policy of reprisals.

A quartet of students from Williams College Y. M. C. A. sang and led in the singing.

REDUCING FIRE DANGER

Forestry Department Encourage Lumbermen to Reduce Fires

In order to reduce the danger of fire after lumbering, the Vermont forestry department is introducing a novel method. In New-York there is a law requiring all lumbermen to lop the branches from trees when cut so that they will reach the ground and speedily decay. There is no such law in Vermont and it is the practice among our lumbermen to leave the ground covered with slash in such a way that it soon becomes very dry and is almost sure to burn in time. Lumbermen are interested in protecting their mead forests from fire, but as a rule seem to care very little what happens to their land after cutting. During the past few years the state has been called upon to pay several thousand dollars for extinguishing large fires which are really due to the carelessness of land owners in leaving a fire nuisance.

In order to encourage the proper disposal of slash the state forester offers a prize to the lumber company that makes the best disposition of its slash during the winter of 1915-16. The prize offered is the maintenance during the fire season of 1916 of a state or federal patrolman to protect the holdings of the company making the best effort to protect itself. This patrolman will be in addition to the regular force which has been maintained the past two years.

In offering this prize the forestry department does not impose any impossible conditions. It does not specify in what way the slash shall be disposed of. It does not require that the slash throughout a cutting shall be disposed of. It may be on a strip along the edge of the cutting. It is, however, stated that no applicants will be considered who have not made some disposal of slash over an area of at least 100 acres. All companies desiring to be considered in this contest should notify the forestry department before March 15, 1916, in order that their lands may be inspected before the spring fire season.

SEVERE RUSSIAN REVERSE

Berlin Claims Czar's Troops Have Been Driven from the Sty.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—The Austro-German forces are reported to have cleared the Russians from the west bank of the river Sty. Here in Berlin the victory is considered one of the most important in the operations in that zone.

TWO DEER REPORTED

First Kills of Present Season in Pownal.

Charles Pratt of Pownal shot a fine buck this morning near Mason Mill. Raymond Barnes of North Pownal is one of the first successful deer hunters of the present season.

ADRIATIC IS SAFE

Rumor that the White Star Liner Had Been Sunk Untrue.

New York, Nov. 15.—The rumors that the Adriatic of the White Star line had been torpedoed and sunk are untrue. The liner is safe in port at Liverpool.

SERBIANS LOSING GROUND IN EVERY ENCOUNTER

Forced Backward by Both Bulgarian and Teuton Armies

FRENCH REPULSE BULGARIANS

Serbs Driven from Mountain to Mountain Inflict Severe Losses Upon the Enemy.

Sofia, Nov. 15.—The Bulgarians, Germans and Austrians are scoring successes in all parts of Serbia, according to the reports being received at the war office.

Paris, Nov. 15.—The war office reports that the attacks of the Bulgarians on the French along the Tzerna river in southern Serbia have been repulsed.

London, Nov. 14.—The Serbians are falling back from mountain to mountain range before the advance of the Austro-German forces, which report the capture of a thousand or more prisoners daily, a few guns and quantities of stores. They are fighting continuously, however, and are inflicting considerable losses on their pursuers.

Along the eastern front the Serbians appear to be holding their own against the Bulgarians and are making a stand on the western bank of the Morava river. So stubborn has been their resistance, the Bulgarians have had to call for assistance from the Austro-German artillery in their effort to drive the defenders out of Gatchanik pass. Thus far they have been unsuccessful.

The British and French troops, which are receiving reinforcements are also meeting with some success, and besides repulsing the Belgian attacks, have undertaken small offensive movements with good results. The Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, however, made such progress from the beginning of the campaign that it will take serious work now to check them.

For the moment the political situation is graver than the military. The central powers have again protested to Greece against the landing of allied troops at Saloniki. King Constantine is reported to have replied that as Saloniki is an open port there has been no infringement of Greek rights in the landing, and that Greece will remain neutral until one of the belligerents has transgressed against those rights.

France and Italy, who has now joined her allies by sending a warship to Saloniki, are particularly anxious as to the attitude of Greece.

The Russians have definitely repelled Field Marshal von Hindenburg's drive toward Riga and Dyvink and along the Dvina river and have themselves taken the offensive, but apparently owing to the state of the ground have been able to make only slow progress in the marsh region west of Riga.

Along the Sty river, in the south, the Austro-Germans, by a counter stroke have pierced the Russian lines and captured 1,500 prisoners, according to the Berlin official statement. These strokes are about all that can be expected on the eastern front, while the soft weather continues. On the western front there have been no vents of importance.

TWO AMERICANS SAVED

Embassador Page Gets Names of Those on Board.

London, Nov. 15.—So far as Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador at Rome, has been able to ascertain from the official reports received through the Italian government and from the British consuls at Bizerte and Tunis the following American citizens were on the Ancona: Dr. Cecile T. Grell, Alexander Patisso and his wife and four children; Mrs. Francesco Messolo Lamuta, Pasquillo Lauriano and Mr. and Mrs. Giuseppe Torrisi. Of these only Mrs. Grell and Torrisi are among the survivors. The opinion is expressed at Rome that it was the same submarine proceeding from Gibraltar or from the Aegean sea, which first sank the Ancona and then the steamer Firenze.

All the reports agree that the submarine was a very large one—about 200 feet long. It has been decided that the survivors of the disaster will be sent back to Italy by the Italian consuls at Bizerts, Tunis and Malta when vessels for their transportation are available.

MUST REVIVE OLD STANDARDS OF RIGHT LIVING

Judge Alden Addresses Fortnightly on "The Needs of the Hour"

TOO MUCH COMMERCIALISM

Evils of Politics Natural Outgrowth of Our Present National Life.

The annual Social Science day of the Fortnightly at High school hall Saturday afternoon was one long to be remembered by the large audience present. Judge George D. Alden, of the Massachusetts bar, gave an address which was pronounced by many to be one of the finest ever heard in Bennington. His subject, "The Needs of the Hour," was handled in a manner to bring the minds of his listeners to the highest conception of right living and thinking, and was a wonderful appeal to young and old of both sexes for fundamental truth and sincerity in all relations of life. That the Christ is our one model of all that is best worth striving for, is not a new statement, but the way in which Judge Alden presented his analysis of life as it is today, and the way he had of picturing the depth of the heart and soul of mankind, stripped of all artificial veneer, made his statement stand out as a shining light.

His arguments that the greed and graft of political life is the natural outgrowth of material life, that commercialism has become the popular idol, and that the God of our time, and that only by a awakening to the old national standard of truth and loyalty can our country sustain its greatness in the future, were pregnant with a wisdom, earnestness and also with many touches of original wit that kept his listeners well engrossed throughout. No man could attend his discourse and fail to take from his "discourse" some thought which would be helpful in every-day life and service.

It is seldom indeed that the opportunity to hear so practical a speaker as Judge Alden is extended to our citizens, and the "discourse" which our local women's club has established of presenting its finest program of the season to the largest number possible is well worth doing.

The afternoon was in charge of the social science committee, Mrs. Warren E. Putnam, chairman, and was opened with music. Miss Hazel Hart played a group of piano solos by Edward Schmitt, giving great pleasure.

At the opening business session the acting president, Mrs. Henry W. Terrell, presided for the first time this season. One new member was welcomed to membership. All members who would take one hour of the day, by creating Christmas seals were asked to report to the assistant treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Stone, and purchase one seal. The evening was given. The students of November 27, at High school, by Prof. Alden H. Appelman, took the "The Future" subject in the "Social Literature" and there will be music from George's "Faust."

JOHN T. DICK DEAD

Head of Arnold Print Works Engraving Department.

John T. Dick, for the last 25 years superintendent of the engraving department of the Arnold print works, North Adams, died soon after 11 o'clock Saturday night at his home, 52 Quincy street, after an illness of two years. Mr. Dick was born in Manchester, Eng. January 23, 1842. When a young man he came to this country and located in Lawrence where he remained until 25 years ago. At that time he went to North Adams, where he had since made his home. He was a very capable man and was considered an authority in his line of work. He was a vestryman of St. John's Episcopal church and a member of Greylock lodge of Masons. He is survived by his widow, four sons, Sidney W. Albert J. Malcolm Percy of North Adams, a step-daughter, Miss Sarah Bower of New York city, and a sister, Mrs. James Ecclesley of North Adams.
