Death Record of a Monster Wave.
The greatest waves—apart from the true earthquake wave—are those caused by tornadoes or circular storms. In such a storm the barometer may be lower by three inches in the center of the storm than at its edge.

The consequence of this tremendous reduction of pressure is that the sea in the vortex rises high above the usual level and in this way are produced waves of appalling size and height.

It was a wave of this type which, in the dreadful tornado of 1876, swept upon the mouth of the Ganges and drove in over an area the size of Devonshire. By marks upon the trees it was ascertained that this great wall of salt water rolled in forty-five feet high. The damage done was appalling, and more than 100,000 unfortunate natives were drowned.—London Times.

THE BRIGHT SIDE.

Look on the bright side always. Pessimists are ever in the rear and never in the van in the march of progress. Your successful men and women are never chronic grumblers.—Bishop Samuel Fallows.

Consigners whose goods are passed upon will hold themselves in readiness to fill orders at twenty-four hours notice during September.

placed here last October. Subscription for the new loan will be received by J. P. Morgan & Co., and the other syndicate members at 99 and interest, yielding slightly over 5 1/2 per cent. Subscription books will be opened at 10 o'clock Wednesday and will close Monday or earlier, in the discretion of the bankers.

The two-year gold notes, which will be dated September 1, 1916, in addition to being a direct obligation of the British Government, are to be secured by deposit with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., New York, of bonds and stocks having an aggregate value of $300,000,000. If the pledged securities depreciate in value because of change in market price or in rates of exchange, the Government is to deposit additional securities with the trust company so that the value of the pledged securities shall at all times equal at least 120 per cent. of the principal amount of the notes outstanding.

The notes are redeemable on 30 days' notice at 101 and interest prior to September 1, 1917, at 100 1/2 thereafter prior to maturity. The Government reserves the right to sell for cash any of the pledged securities, and in that event the proceeds of the sale are to be received by the trust company and applied to the retirement of notes by purchase, if obtainable at prices not exceeding the redemption price, and otherwise by lot at the redemption price.

The $100,000,000 of collateral that will be deposited back of the notes is to be divided into three groups as follows: Stocks, bonds and other securities of American corporations worth $100,000,000; bonds or other obligations of the Dominion of Canada, either as maker or guarantor, and stocks, bonds or other securities of the Canadian Pacific Railway worth $100,000,000; and bonds or other obligations of the governments of Argentina, Chile, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland and Holland worth another $100,000,000.

Pending the arrival and deposit of these securities, the British Government is to deposit with the trust company at the time of issue of the notes, either approved New York Stock Exchange collateral of aggregate value equal to that of the undelivered securities or cash equal to five-sixths of such value. The Government is to have the right also to make substitutions of securities in the permanent collateral, but such substitutions are not to vary the relative amounts in value of the three groups at the time held by the trust company. Valuations of securities are to be approved by J. P. Morgan & Co.

Principal and interest of the notes will be payable in United States gold coin at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., without deduction for any British taxes, present or future. They will be issued in coupon form in $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 denominations, and temporary certificates will be delivered pending the engraving of the definitive notes. Amounts due on allotments will be payable in New York funds to the order of J. P. Morgan & Co., the date of payment to be given in the notices of allotment.

Bankers forming the syndicate which is making the public offering are as follows: J. P. Morgan & Co., First National Bank, National City Bank, Harris, Forbes & Co., Wm. A. Read & Co., Brown Brothers & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Guaranty Trust Co., Bankers' Trust Co., Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., all of New York, Central Trust Co., of Illinois, Chicago, and Union Trust Co., Pittsburg.

A Season of Torture for Some

Hay fever causes untold misery to thousands. Asthma, too, counts its sufferers by the hundreds. No remedy has proven more beneficial for hay fever and asthma, as well as coughs and colds, than Foley's Honey and Tar. It soothes that raw, rasping feeling in the throat, relieves hoarseness and wheezing, brings comfort by making breathing easier, heals inflammation, and by allaying these disturbances permits refreshing, natural slumber. Contains no opiates. Sold Everywhere.

For Sale

I offer a few moderate priced dwellings for sale as follows:

At $1800—a two story dwelling renting for $222 per year.

At $2200—a two story dwelling adapted for two small families or which could be used as a one family house.

At $2800—a two story house which could not be built for the price at which it is offered. This house is suited for either one or two families.

At $2800—a neat single dwelling with large lot, a bargain for some one seeking a home.
