

THIS WOMAN TOLD TO CHOOSE

Between Operation and Death. Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Des Moines, Iowa. — "My husband says I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a serious female trouble and the doctors said I could not live one year without an operation. My husband objected to the operation and got me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon commenced to get better and am now well and able to do my own housework. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman as a wonderful health restorer." — Mrs. BLANCHÉ JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from highly prized roots and herbs, has for forty years proved its value in such cases. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Albany business typifies this ideal. In Albany a man can get real value for his money. A woman can find herself surrounded by a wonderful assortment of the newest, best, most stylish modes in suits, coats, gowns, frocks, furs, millinery, footwear. She can find the latest designs in furniture, carpets, rugs; the newest notes in jewelry and silverware. Dependable hardware and sporting goods attract men and women alike. There is everything, for all the family, in all phases of its life.

Buying in Albany means saving money. It means satisfaction with quality, quantity and price.

The Associated Retail merchants propose to prove this to the entire Capitol District next week, October 15-20, at a "Buy it in Albany" demonstration when their stores will be filled with the newest and best in every line.

They extend a cordial invitation to shoppers to visit them and make critical inspection. To see is to be convinced. They are content to leave the verdict to the buying public.

PLAYING THE MISER
never got anything out of life for anyone. Raking in the shekels for the shekels' sake conduces only to misery in the long end. On the other hand, reckless extravagance, playing fast and loose with one's heritage or earnings, produces exactly the same result.

The golden mean is using one's money sensibly to enjoy the comfort of life as far as possible, and still put by for a rainy day.

There is only one way to do this. It means expenditures wisely considered. It means buying for quality and service, and to that end, one must go to the tradesmen who make

In reply to women asking "How Can I Help," Major Gen. Wood says: "If you love your husbands and brothers, see to it that they are given a sporting chance; that they are well trained, well led, and well prepared in time of peace."

Has Two "Mermaids"

J. E. Smith, a Spaniard, residing in Hamilton, Ont., possesses two creatures that are probably unique. He considers them to be mermaids. Though these are described as "fabulous" or "fictitious" creatures in the dictionaries, those of Mr. Smith have heads shaped like those of human beings and bodies that are distinctly fish-like. One is much larger than the other, and is considered to be the mother, and reckoned to be 300 years old. Both have fine hair like a human being, and a small mustache and beard. The head is attached to a human-like neck which merges into the fish-like body, and the arms are like those of a monkey, only that the fingers are webbed. It is said that the "mermaids" were found in the wreck of a ship in the Arabian sea.
