GREAT BRITAIN'S VOTERS RALLYING AT POLLS TODAY

Electing Fourth Parliament in Reign of King George V

UNCERTAINTY PREVAILS

No Eleventh Hour Development to Sustain Bonar Law's Prediction of Success

London, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The electorate of Great Britain swarmed to the polls by the millions today to elect the fourth parliament of the reign of King George V. No eleventh hour development has lessened the uncertainty of results. Experienced observers do not express confidence in yesterday's prediction of Prime Minister Bonar Law that the independent unionist majority would be elected.

The campaign has been unique, in that there is no great clear-cut question before the public; therefore the electors who are recording their votes must be in a puzzled mood, for not only is there no outstanding issue, but in the present perplexing divided condition of the political parties they cannot base their decisions on mere party predilections.

VERMONT IS OLDEST ACTIVE SHIP MASTER

Captain Eli Rockwell Goes to Boston to Witness Drydocking of Majestic.

New York, Nov. 15.—Officials of the White Star line today paid a tribute to the State of Vermont and to one of its best known citizens, Captain Eli Rockwell of St. Albans, master of the Lake Champlain steamer Vermont, and the oldest ship master in active service in America, by inviting Captain Rockwell to Boston to witness the dry docking there on Thursday next of the world's largest ship, the ocean greyhound Majestic. Captain Rockwell is 83.

Captain Rockwell accepted the invitation, and Thursday morning will leave for Boston, where he will become the personal guest of Commodore Sir Bertram Hayes, commander of the Majestic.

On Friday Captain Rockwell will visit the Majestic at the navy yard dock at South Boston for the purpose of taking luncheon on board with Commodore Hayes and other officials of the White Star line.

After the luncheon, and a slight rest, Captain Rockwell will be invited to dine at a Boston hotel, and in the evening to attend a performance at a Boston theater in company with the officers of the Majestic.

Captain Rockwell will be accompanied on his trip to Boston by D. A. Loomis of Burlington, Vt., general manager of the Champlain Transportation company.

EVERETT MORGAN IN TROUBLE

Former Bennington Young Man Under Arrest in New York.

Everett J. Morgan, a former employe of William L. Gokay and who left Bennington under a cloud, is under arrest in New York on the charge of larceny of $600 worth of goods from the Holden & Stone store in Pittsfield, Mass., where he was employed as window trimmer.

A police inspector from Pittsfield is in New York with a warrant for Morgan's arrest. Morgan, it is understood, will fight extradition, and it will be necessary to continue the case in the New York courts 30 days in order to secure requisition papers. The Pittsfield police have been searching for Morgan since August when he disappeared from that city.

It is alleged that the young man shipped goods from the store to a person or persons who disposed of them without profit to his employers. Morgan had been a resident of Pittsfield but six months preceding his disappearance.

A year ago last January Morgan left Bennington after he had signed a written confession that he had appropriated a considerable quantity of goods from the Gokay drug store. The articles taken consisted of cameras, cigars, toilet preparations and drugs. Much of the plunder was discovered in Morgan's room but he had disposed of cigars and several cameras.

No Harm in Skipping a Meal.

Almost anyone can fast a fortnight with no bad effects except losing weight and becoming weak. The body has stored up in it a big supply of reserve fuel. When "feeling punch," skip a meal and fall back on your reserve energy. Overeating, insufficient exercise and lack of sleep cause most bad health.—Exchange.

Their History Lost.

When the people of northern Europe were living in reed huts the Mayas of Yucatan seem to have been on the verge of their civilization. The cause of their decline is unknown. When the conquistadores came, soon after the year 1500, their temples, palaces and cities were already in ruins.

MARY MACSWINEY ON HUNGER STRIKE

SAID TO BE DYING

Condition Has Taxpayers' Favorable Change Since Morning

HER RELEASE REQUESTED

Cardinal Logue Sends Appeal to Kevin O'Higgins, Minister of Home Affairs

Dublin, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—In an appeal to the Irish people in behalf of Mary MacSwiney, who has been on a hunger strike 11 days in Mt. Joy prison, other women political prisoners in that institution declared today that Miss MacSwiney, who has been daily growing weaker, had undergone a great change for the worse since morning and it was feared that she would die.

Rumors that Miss MacSwiney had died were not confirmed by prison authorities. Cardinal Logue in a telegram to Kevin O'Higgins, free state minister of Home Affairs, suggests Miss MacSwiney's release saying that more harm would be done by detaining women prisoners than by releasing them.

SCHOOL OF MISSIONS

Congregationalists Discuss Conditions in India.

The last half of the sessions of the School of Missions began with the fifth Sunday evening in the Second Congregational church, with an attendance of 133. One fact noted was that many faces usually present were absent. It is hoped that all those members who did not come at that time will come back in force, so that the attendance may be larger than ever.

As usual an excellent supper was served at 5:30 by a division of the Ladies' Aid society. As Mr. Sleeper was ill and could not be present, Colonel E. E. Bottum and W. S. Toynton led the singing in the devotional period. The ever-popular classes then met for about forty minutes.

As the Congregationalists were invited by the Baptists to go to the lecture on "India" in the Baptist church, the special feature at the Congregational church was short. The primary department, under the direction of Miss Jeannette Perkins, gave a few statistics relative to some conditions in India, especially the marriage conditions. The primary characters were assisted by Colonel Bottum and Miss Isabel Wishart.

It is hoped that the Congregationalists will not forget the school of missions next Sunday evening at 5:30, but will come in large numbers and bring their friends, so that the attendance may go way over the top.

CHANGED IN TIME'S COURSE

Formation of Quotation Marks Not Always Exactly as They Are Seen Today.

The use of quotation marks dates from about 1550. They were not common in books of the eighteenth century in England, and when they were introduced the English printers refused to accept the French form, which consisted of two parentheses at the beginning and end of the quotation.

When the English printers decided to use quotations, they substituted two inverted commas for the beginning and two apostrophes for the end of a quotation. Later, quotation marks in imitation of these, necessitating the setting of merely one type instead of two, were cast by certain founders.

In his "Præctice of Typography," Theodore L. DeVinne in the chapter on "Correct Composition" uses nothing but quotation marks beginning with tails up and closing with tails down. He illustrates the use of the French method of double parentheses.

The introduction of quotation marks with tails down at the beginning of a quotation as well as tails down at the end is a comparatively recent innovation due to our appetite for novelty to create new forms.

In the old Ben Franklin type the beginning quotations had their tails up; in the Bodoni type of today the quotations have their tails down. The standard of American typographical practice as reflected by the trade publications as well as books treating of the subject shows in the beginning quotations have tails up and ending quotations have tails down, but the craft cannot prevent the introduction of idiosyncrasies.—Literary Digest.

Flynn's car was involved in an accident near Center Shaftsbury a few weeks ago in which Mrs. Octave Bellisle and a small girl were injured.

At the time of the accident it was reported that Flynn was at fault and it is understood that his attorney was in town yesterday to make adjustment in a proposed civil suit for damages.

In Manchester he was moved by pangs of hunger to enter the home of William Graham and to take some eatables.

WRECK PREVENTED BY BAGGAGE MASTER

T. J. Dormady Stopped Crippled Train After It Had Crossed White Creek Bridge.

Baggage Master T. J. Dormady of Troy, employed on the Rutland division, has demonstrated to officials that he can think and act with efficiency and dispatch at the right time, regardless of circumstances. For the second time within a short period he figured Monday night in a near-tragedy while in the performance of duty, and to his thoughtfulness and keen mind, can be attributed the prevention of a probable fatal accident.

RECOGNIZED POWER OF MUSIC

In All Ages the Value of Sweet Sounds Has Been Acknowledged by the Wise.

A leading educationalist has this to say concerning the value of music: "I cannot think of an ideal home without music, for it would surely be very incomplete without it. To me, the beauty of music cannot be described in words. There seems to be no state of mind that one can be in in which music is not welcome. Even in the Bible we read that David played on the harp for Saul to quiet his troubled mind. We need music every day in our home more than any other place, for the good of our mind and body."

American "Molly Maguires"

The first organization known as the "Molly Maguires" was formed in Ireland, with the object, it is believed, of generally misusing process-servers and others engaged in the prosecution and eviction of tenants, and was composed of young men who, in some localities, assumed women's clothing, blackened their faces, and otherwise disguised themselves, the Detroit News remarks.

Her position was given as 39 degrees, 31-minutes north, 50 degrees, 10 minutes west, according to calls for assistance received at the Charlestown navy yard by the shipping board. The navy yard shipping board vessel, Saucon, is hastening to her assistance.

Race of New York city, one of the country's leading baritone singers will be present.

MAKE EVERY SHADE OF TOOTH

Modern Dentist Able to Supply Every Color of Molar That May Be Demanded.

The manufacture of sets of jet black false teeth represents an out-of-the-way side of British enterprise. It will be news to most people that there is a definite trade in black teeth between England and the Orient, rendered necessary by the practice, so popular east of Suez, of chewing betel nut. As a masticatory the betel nut leaves chewing gum far behind, for it is reckoned that one-tenth of the human family indulge in it, but it stains the teeth of its votaries black as ebony. Hence, when they need artificial teeth to replace losses, those teeth must be black.

Asahikawa and districts in Hokkaido, Japan, suffered an unusual drop of temperature on June 24, 1922. All the lakes and streams freezing. Such an experience at that time of the year has only been recorded once before in those localities. That was 35 years ago when the rivers froze on July 2. Serious damage was done to crops.

STARVATION FACES VICTIMS OF CHILE QUAKE DISASTER

Known Dead in Atachama and Coquimbo Provinces 1500

MANY TOWNS INUNDATED

Thousands of Families Wandering about Lacking Shelter and Clothing

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 15 (By the Associated Press)—Scarcely a house remains standing in the Valiente valley in north Chile as the result of the earthquake and marine disturbances last week. In the provinces of Atachama and Coquimbo the known victims number 1500, but it is expected that this will be substantially increased when communications are resumed with the small villages in the interior. Twelve hundred miles of the coast line felt in varying degrees the effects of the great tidal waves which followed the earth shocks, and for a large proportion of this distance seacoast towns and villages were inundated. Now nearly five days after the disaster, thousands of families are wandering about the countryside. Their distress is great, for they have little clothing and few supplies.

WILL TEST MILK FOR BUTTER FAT CONTENT

County Agent Will Be Assisted by S. G. Judd, State Dairy Specialist.

Unusual success has thus far accompanied the farm bureau community meetings being held throughout the county this week. At the Manchester creamery Monday night there was an attendance of 75 and last night, at the new Community hall at Pownal, a startling crowd of 130 people turned out and as one person said, "It was the best and biggest meeting ever held in Pownal."

To aid farmers in studying the value of their individual cows, County Agent W. T. Teabout has planned a "test day" at the farm of Egbert Amidon on the East Pownal road.

Thursday morning, assisted by S. G. Judd, state dairy specialist, the county agent will receive samples of milk and test them for their butterfat content. Those wishing to have individual cows tested should save a little of both night and morning milk in separate bottles and bring as many samples as they wish to Amidon's farm Thursday morning. There will be no charge to Farm Bureau members.

FIGHTING CANCER

What To Do if a Person Shows Signs of Disease

Cancer is curable early. It is incurable later, but the suffering may still be relieved. Therefore if you have any sore or bunch that does not heal or go away, or any unusual discharge, consult your doctor at once. Do not be afraid. Fear may cost you your chance of cure. Do not wait for pain. Pain comes late when cure is much less certain and is often quite impossible.

Do not pick, pinch or squeeze chronic sores or bunions, as such action will make cancerous growths grow worse and will cause them to spread more rapidly and more widely. There is no medicine or diet that will cure cancer. There is up to date, no serum that has proved its ability to cure cancer as anti-toxin cures diphtheria.

The cure for cancer is one and one only, namely, the early and complete removal or destruction of the cancer. Radium and the X-ray cure cancers in some cases, but by far the most certain cure is removal of the cancer by operation. In many cases the operation is not severe. The earlier it is the less severe it will be. Do not delay.

With cancer procrastination is the thief of life. There will be a Free Cancer Clinic at the Putnam Memorial Hospital on Friday, Nov. 17, from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.
