JUNE 1 KNOWN AS RE-EMPLOYMENT DAY

National Prosperity Association Helps Restore Work to 5000 Men—Evidences From Pittsburg That Good Times Have Come Again.

St. Louis.—The Simmons Hardware Company, the Ferguson McKinley Dry Goods Company and the Ely Walker Dry Goods Company are among the manufacturing and jobbing companies which decided to re-employ several thousand idle workmen on June 1. The National Enameling Company and the Holmberg Furnace Company have also decided to join the advance guard in the re-employment movement, as the National Prosperity Association was advised that these companies had already begun putting a percentage of their idle employees back to work. The corporations mentioned will re-engage 4000 to 5000 men in their factories and shops.

The Executive Committee of the National Prosperity Association at its last meeting fixed June 1 as re-employment day. It concluded to call on all the manufacturing, mercantile and financial corporations of St. Louis to give work to as many idle men as possible, and even to recall more men than are needed right away. The plan has taken definite shape in St. Louis, and the committee expects to have a comparatively large list of companies which have acceded to the request. The committee also approved forms of letters to manufacturers, merchants and financiers of St. Louis and other cities regarding re-employment day. Railroad officials are also included. Officers are requested to call all parts of the country are requested to notify the association as to the number of workmen and clerks who will be re-employed and the date when the men will be taken back.

SCIENTIST SURE HE HAS FOUND GERM OF PARESIS

Dr. John D. O'Brien Cites Several Cases Which He Asserts He Has Cured—Experiments Along Same Line as Those Which Demonstrated Existence of Diphtheria and Tuberculosis Germs.

Massillon, Ohio.—In the laboratory of the Massillon State Hospital Dr. John D. O'Brien reiterated a statement recently made by him before the American Medico-Psychological Association's Convention at Cincinnati that he had discovered the germ of paresis, and that the disease is curable. He summed up the results of his experiments in these two declarations: That paresis undoubtedly is a germ disease and that the germ has been discovered; that while in the experimental stage, sufficient tests have been made to show that paresis is curable, and that he has specific cases to point to as definite results. Dr. O'Brien does not believe it would be proper to make public the names of the patients whom he asserts the treatment has cured, but he gives the specific cases as a newspaper man of Washington, D. C., who was treated for paresis and is again at work, cured; a civil engineer of prominence in Nashville, Tenn., who is cured and at work, besides a number of people in Ohio who were brought to the hospital with acute forms of the disease and cured. Others who are now at the hospital still progress toward recovery. Dr. O'Brien has at hand, in addition to his own statements and reports from hospital authorities in regard to the successful treatment of paresis, patients' photographs which show the hysterical form of attack when brought to the Massillon State Hospital, and the patients when discharged from the hospital as cured. "I know," said Dr. O'Brien, "that it is a bold statement to make that the germ of paresis has been discovered. Many scoffed when the germ theory of diphtheria and tuberculosis was advanced. We feel warranted from the number of cases treated and from the satisfactory results of the experiments made, in stating without qualification that paresis is a germ disease. We also feel that, from the work done, we have found the bacillus. We have cured patients, are helping many now and expect to go forward with the work." Dr. O'Brien has confined his work to living subjects; no pathological investigation has been done on post-mortem subjects. He now has germs in cultures. He says that, like a farmer, he is seeking to find the best culture, and he has found that the serum extracted from patients, and to that end is doing considerable experimenting. Dr. O'Brien began his experiments by taking serum from the spinal columns of living patients. With this he treated dogs, rabbits and rats, with results which proved that the animals inoculated contracted well-developed forms of paresis. He then used the treatment on human patients.

BASEBALL NINE ADOPTS A BABY.

Nineteen Months Old Child Abandoned by Mother on Train Becomes "Mascot" of Houston Club.

Galveston, Texas.—The adoption of a nineteen-months-old baby by the Houston Professional Baseball Club has just been announced. On a train on which were riding the members of the Houston team, of the Texas League, the players noticed a woman and a curly-haired child. The woman requested W. E. Hester, a pitcher, to hold the child for a few minutes, then stepped into another coach and left the train at the next station. A note found on the child gave its name as Edmund Winters, and the ball player decided to adopt the boy. Before the end of the journey every member of the club fell in love with the abandoned baby and entered into a compact to care for the little one, electing it the mascot of the club. At the games in Dallas and Fort Worth the mascot was exhibited in the grounds during the game, and was showered with money from the audience, and at Houston collections were taken up, and the baby now has a fund of more than $2,000 to its credit and still growing. Offers from some of the wealthiest families in the State to adopt the child have been refused and the baby mascot will not be parted with by the club. The mother, who is less than eight years of age, was found in Hillsboro and her tragic story unfolded. She had lived with a drunkard father until twelve years of age, when she ran away from him. Before she was sixteen years of age she was married, and after the birth of her child her husband deserted them and disappeared. The child-mother found employment in a packing house at Fort Worth, earning $6 a week. Recently the packing house cut down the number of its employees, and the mother, determined that the baby should not starve, gave it to the ball player.

Judge Rules that Stock Yard is a "Hotel For Hogs."

East St. Louis, Ill.—Judge Francis H. Wright in the United States Circuit Court decided that although the National Stock Yards here has several miles of tracks, engines and cars and other equipment it was not a common carrier and is not subject to Federal railroad laws. The Stock Yards attorney contended that his clients were conducting a "hotel for hogs and other live stock" and not a railroad. In this he was sustained by the court.

Stub Ends of News.

Rear-Admiral Sperry took command of the Atlantic battleship fleet. Secretary Taft arrived in Washington, returning from his trip to Panama. A bill to create an Appalachian forest reserve was passed by Congress. The battleship fleet sailed from San Francisco for ports on Puget Sound. Frank City, Mo., returned to the city.

COMMERCIAL COLUMN.

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

R. G. Dunn & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Encouraging reports predominate, and for the first time in six months the indications of improvement are well distributed throughout all departments. Gains are small in many cases, and unfavorable weather has retarded retail trade at some points, while comparisons with last year still shows decrease, but as compared with preceding months satisfactory exhibits are found everywhere. In all the leading manufacturing industries orders increased and output enlarged.

Lower prices for pig iron brought on a large tonnage of new business, and furnace operators did not find it necessary to make further concessions, although several prominent consumers are waiting for still better terms. Buying was most liberal in foundry iron, and several contracts covered deliveries far into the future. Many duplicate orders are reported for woolen goods, a much healthier situation existing than for some time past. Although some lines are more active than others, both fancy and staple wools sell freely, some mills running overtime on resist fabrics, but clothiers discriminate against wool goods, except the finer grades.

The rapid water erosion of parts of Cape Colony is attributed chiefly to burning of vegetation and the starting of gullies by cattle and wagons. Once started, the erosion is very rapid, and the Ongers or Brak River, which did not exist 60 years ago, now averages 300 feet in width and 15 feet in depth.

NO SKIN WAS LEFT ON BODY.

Baby was Expected to Die with Eczema—Blood Oozed Out All Over Her Body—Now Well—Doctor Said to Use Cuticura.

"Six months after birth my little girl broke out with eczema, and I had two doctors in attendance. There was a patch of skin left on her body, the blood oozed out just anywhere, and we had to wrap her in silk and carry her on a pillow for ten weeks. She was the most terrible sight I ever saw, and for six months I looked for her to die. I used every known remedy to alleviate her suffering, but it was terrible to witness. Dr. C. C. CUTICURA, however, recommended the Cuticura Remedies. She will soon be three years old and has never had a sign of the dread trouble since. We used about eight cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment. James J. Smith, Dumfries, Va., Oct. 11 and 22, 1906."

Guarding Bank of France.

Like the Bank of England, the Bank of France is now guarded every night by soldiers. But within quite recent time the officials at the French bank resorted to a very novel method of protecting their bullion.

This consisted in engaging masons to wall up the doors of the vaults in the cellar with hydraulic mortar as soon as the money was deposited each day in these receptacles. The water was then turned on and kept running until the whole cellar was flooded. A burglar would be obliged to work in a diving suit and break down a cement wall before he could even begin to plunder the vaults.

When the bank official arrived next morning the water was drawn off, the masonry torn down and the vaults opened.—Strand Magazine.

A Red-Eyed Chicken.

Mr. George Ladenburger has a sure-enough curiosity in the possession of a red-eyed chicken.

It is not the eyelids that are red, as might be inferred, but the eyes themselves. The eyeballs are not bloodshot or inflamed, but are of brilliant crystal red, while the sights are also red, but of a darker hue.

So transparent are the eyes that when the head of the chicken is held between your vision and the sun, it appears as if the sun were shining through from one eye to the other and the head lighted up inside. The chick is healthy and lively, and can see as perfectly as any in the brood.—Dover (Ky.) News.

Dignity of Authorship.

One of the abler modern writers made this confession the other day: "I am so devoted to my wife that I allow her to break in upon me whenever she pleases. Naturally, she cuts into my line of thought and often destroys the continuity of genius. The only way for me to do a good day's work is to quarrel with her, to make her so angry that she will cry, fuss, break a few dishes, smash a kitten, scald a puppy of two, then go to her room and stay there. By the time I have done a day's work she is in excellent humor and tired of being alone. Then we make up."—N. Y. Press.

DR. TALKS OF FOOD

Pres. of Board of Health.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food, known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out, and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Anyone who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." Diet For Sleeplessness.

Dr. William Stevens says that insomnia is not a disease itself, but the effect of an unhealthy condition of body or mind. When the cause is removed the insomnia may be expected to disappear.

Every physician has had stubborn cases of it which would not yield to any treatment and for which a change of air or of scene became necessary. But such cases as these should not occur, and do occur only when the sufferer has neglected precautions that should have been taken when the trouble first made itself manifest.

Insomnia results from causes which can be removed if attended to in season. The most common cause is indigestion of the digestive organs. Either unsuitable food, causing indigestion as a feature of indigestion, or insufficient food, causing the patient to be kept awake by hunger.

There are few things which can be universally recommended as diet for sleeplessness, since what will agree with one man will disagree with another. But two things that may almost always be recommended are lettuce and celery.
