The Need of Greater Attention to Good Cooking.

The farmer feeds the world, and that is his chief contribution to its welfare. How does he feed his own family? It must be owned that the farmer's family is too often underfed, and the food lacks the requisite nutritive value and palatableness; and this is not because of niggardliness, but ignorance of food-stuffs and the modes of preparing them.

MRS. TENNY FILES BILL.

Seeks Absolute Divorce And Alimony From George O. Tenny.

Richmond.—George O. Tenny, president of the Atlantic Bithulthic Company, member of the Commonwealth and Westmoreland Clubs, in this city, and prominent in society and club circles in Massachusetts, Alabama, Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina, is defendant in a suit for divorce instituted in the Chancery Court of this city by Mrs. Tenny, who, with her daughter, Miss Aleda Tenny, is now occupying apartments at the Jefferson Hotel. The filing of the suit has created a social sensation in Richmond.

The wife seeks an absolute divorce and alimony sufficient to sustain her present position. She says her husband is a very wealthy man deriving an enormous income from his large holdings in the Atlantic Bithulthic Company and his salary as president of that corporation.

While no woman is named as co-respondent in the bill of complaint, Mrs. Tenny's declaration carries the charge that Tenny had at different times in the last few years had many feminine companions while she and their daughter were living in Arizona and California for the benefit of the daughter's health.

Judge Daniel Grinnan, of the Chancery Court, has issued a decree by the terms of which Tenny is required to pay his wife, pending the action for divorce, $200 a month for the support of herself and daughter, and $100 cash for her immediate needs. Tenny is enjoined by the decree from removing his tangible personal property beyond the jurisdiction of the court or disposing of his stock in the Atlantic Bithulthic Company.

STORM IN VIRGINIA.

Live Stock Drowned And Buildings Washed Away.

Roanoke.—One of the worst hailstorms in the history of Montgomery County swept over the Shawsville section. The storm approached from the west. Hail fell as large as hen eggs, and in some cases rolled down embankments and drifted several feet deep. The wind was terrific, the thunder deafening and the lightning almost blinding, while the rainfall is said to have been like water pouring over a dam.

Small branches washed away houses and drowned cattle and hogs. Many persons fled from their houses in water waist deep. Among other buildings washed away was the colored people's hall at Shawsville. Many bridges were washed away also. The tomato crop in that section is almost entirely destroyed, and the canneries are endeavoring to cancel their orders for thousands of dollars' worth of cans. It is feared that all the fish have been killed by the thick, muddy water.

Mr. Byrd is survived by his wife and a young son, also his mother and father, who reside in Gloucester County.

Damage by Lightning.

Norfolk.—During a thunderstorm lightning struck the Norfolk Silk Mills at Lamberts-Point. The lightning set fire to the window frames in the tower, but the blaze was extinguished by the rain, which was falling heavily at the time. Mrs. L. H. Valden, 37 Avenue B, was stunned almost to death by a bolt of lightning which struck some part of her house about the same hour that the lightning struck the flagstaff on the tower of the silk mills. She was unconscious for an hour. Several stores in Portsmouth were fired by lightning bolts.

Overstudy Killed Her.

Suffolk.—As the result of overstudy, which brought on a brain affection, Ollie, 10-year-old daughter of Frank M. Pierce, died at Driver. Though frail and ailing, the child studied night and day and at the high school closing she received promotion and the class prize. Early this week she was stricken speechless and never rallied.

WOMAN GETS TWO YEARS.

Mrs. Mary E. Campbell Convicted Of Killing W. A. Amos.

Harrisonburg.—The trial of Mrs. Mary E. Campbell, wife of William M. Campbell, for shooting and instantly killing W. A. Amos, brother of the late Sergeant Amos, of the Richmond Police, at Buena Vista, on April 6, which had been in progress for two days, resulted in a conviction of manslaughter. A verdict of two years in the penitentiary was returned by the jury.

Willis and Robertson, of Buena Vista, and Hugh A. White represented the defendant. M. S. Rucker, attorney for the State, prosecuted the case. Judge W. P. Houston presided.

The killing of Amos occurred while Amos was making an effort to enter the home of Mrs. Campbell, where his wife, who had deserted him, had taken refuge. Mrs. Campbell, a sister of his wife, fired upon him with shotgun and revolver. He was instantly killed. Amos had made peace with his wife, and on his return from a trip to Richmond found that she had left his home and gone to her sister. He followed her and demanded admittance. He was fired upon and killed. Few believed that Mrs. Campbell would be found guilty.

Ant Hills and Files.

A recent traveler in Central Africa describes an interesting use of the soil of ant hills. It appears that it makes excellent bricks, of which houses are built. The natives tread it with water into a dough-like substance, which is shaped in rough wooden moulds. It is then dried in the sun, and afterward baked in native kilns. The same substance is found to make excellent tennis courts. It is mixed with water into a thick paste, spread on the ground and smoothed over with the hands. The same traveler tells us how the natives in the neighborhood of Lake Nyassa esteem a species of fly as an excellent article of diet. It is known as the "kungo," and appears to be peculiar to the lake. At certain seasons of the year they appear in enormous numbers and are sometimes blown in myriads over the land. If it happens near a village the natives come out eagerly to gather them up. They make them into what they consider a delicious confection.—London Globe.

Our Flag at Monrovia.

The appearance of the United States flag, borne by a small cruiser of the United States Navy, is said to have been hailed with rapturous delight this week by the populace of the Liberian capital. The circumstance is gratifying as an assurance of the sentiments with which that flag is regarded and of the esteem in which the United States is held by a distant people who have too often had little cause for thinking of us at all. Doubtless it is to be interpreted chiefly as a tribute to the known power of this country and to the efficiency of its active interest wherever it may be manifested in the affairs of the world, rather than as a very direct token of gratitude or affection. Liberians know that the United States flag stands for something definite and beneficent and that the ship which bears it is an earnest of a fleet competent to command for the flag abundant respect in any quarter of the globe.—New York Tribune.

L. Sevier Resigns.

Gives Bell As Memorial To Wife.

Richmond.—Edward Banks, of Wilmington, Del., has presented to the Church of the Good Shepherd, at Forest Hill Park, a 1,000-pound bell as a memorial to his wife, Mrs. Margaret Banks, who died several weeks ago. It is three feet in diameter and has a peculiarly deep, rich tone, being cast in the key of G sharp.

MRS. EDDY'S HOME OLD GOLD AND MAHOGANY.

She Goes Out Driving and Shows Agility and Strength—Her Own Portraits the Best.

A reporter was received recently in the home of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, in Newton, Mass. He was the first person other than a Christian Scientist who has had the privilege of examining the home of the founder and leader of the Christian Science movement.

Escorted by her maid, Mrs. Eddy entered her carriage soon after 1 o'clock and seemed to have extraordinary agility and strength. Next July she will be eighty-eight. Comfort rather than splendor has been the aim in furnishing Mrs. Eddy's home, and the decorators had in mind simplicity rather than ornate display. Entering from the main portico, a small anteroom is encountered.

Along the left side there is a mahogany settee and in the rear of the heavy white doors of the main entrance. These doors open into the main hall, which runs the width of the house and opens upon a veranda in the rear, whence a magnificent view of Brookline, the Newtons and beyond is obtained.

This hall, as well as the straight stairway and the main hall above, is carpeted in a rich, dark red and simply furnished with a few mahogany pieces. The tapestry paper on the walls is of a warm, red tone.

Opening on the left, immediately beyond the main entrance, is the large drawing room.

The furniture is old gold and mahogany, and the decorations are all in a general color scheme of sea rose. The soft, silky carpet and the wall tapestries are in this tone and afford a perfect setting for one of the most precious of Mrs. Eddy's many prized possessions. This is a rug made of the backs of thirty-six elder duck skins, and it is usually displayed over the back of a small couch placed between the windows of the left side. A handsome Louis Quinze centre table, in gold and onyx, is one of the pieces typical of the furnishings.

This large drawing room opens into the small drawing room. To the right of the connecting doorway is a splendid portrait of the Christ in tapestry, with a suitable inscription embroidered above.

Some of the best pictures are those in the main hall. Three of these are striking oil paintings of the founder and leader of the Christian Science movement, covering several years of her life. One of the best is a canvas four feet in length, standing against the wall near the centre of the left side, depicting Mrs. Eddy as she appeared about twenty-five years ago.

Mrs. Eddy's apartments open from the upper hall and are also directly connected with the lower floor by an elevator, which debouches near the carriage entrance door. This suite comprises a bedroom, bath and study. A system of bells connects her apartments with the rest of the house. A side hall opens from the main hall on the right opposite Mrs. Eddy's private suite, and from the left of this hall opens Mrs. Frye's apartments. They are furnished with mahogany, and comprise a study and office, a bedroom and a bathroom.—New York Press.

Are You Sick?

Much sickness is due to a weak nervous system. Yours may be. If it is, you cannot get well until you restore nerve strength. Your nervous system is nature's power house; the organs of your body get their power from it. If the power is not there, the action of the organs is weak, and disease (sickness) follows. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick because it soothes the irritated and tired nerves and gives the system a chance to recuperate. Try it, and see if you do not quickly feel its beneficial effect.

"I was given up to die by a leading doctor. Got one of Dr. Miles' Nervine and found that Dr. Miles' Nervine fit my case. From the very first dose I took I got better. I am better now than I have been for years, and do all my own work on the farm. That's what Dr. Miles' Nervine has done for me, and I am glad to recommend it to others."

JOHN JAMES, Riverton, Neb. Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Nervine, and we authorize him to return price of first bottle (only) if it fails to benefit you. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
