It was proposed to have the Ladies' Cornet Band participate in the inauguration ceremonies attending the induction of Governor Dietrich into office, this week, but proper connections were not made with the transportation companies, and the plan fell through.

The state papers report that the commissioner of the general land office has made a ruling that homestead entries can be made over the "reservoir claims" which created so much excitement a year ago last spring, but up to date the local office has not received any instructions to that effect.

The teachers of Valentine schools returned Saturday night, closing their vacation, and begun school Monday morning with a good attendance. School will continue later in the spring to make up for the time lost during the last two months. Send every child to school that is of school age. "Let Education form the common mind; for as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

Dave Fowler and Harry Harper had a fisticuf bout last Friday about one o'clock but they were called down by the marshal and taken before Judge Towne who assessed them $5.00 each and costs. The trouble was over some horses that Harper was trying to get possession of belonging to his brother-in-law to winter and which Fowler and the Cogswell boys refused to give up, Harper claiming that one of the horses was being worked.

Raffenburg Bros. of Wlota, Iowa, have just shipped in a car load of young Thorobred and graded Short-horn bulls to Valentine and hold them at the stockyards. They range in age from eight months to three years, all good colors, well built with heavy bodies and short legs. They are said to be the best lot of thorobreds ever brought to Cherry county, by several of our most prominent stockmen and shippers. Any one interested in grading up his herd will do well to come in and see them before they are all sold.
