THURSDAY TOPICS.

The telephone men are busy putting in new phones.

Mrs. J. S. McClary entertained the Tuesday Thimble club this afternoon.

The new apparatus at work on the town well is working finely. Progress toward China is being made at the rate of 20 feet a day.

Theod. Sprecher received word yesterday, dated Cheyenne, Wyo., March 27, from Perry Williams, that a fine eight-pound girl had been received at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rouse entertained a few friends on Monday evening, at their residence on Fourth street, with phonographic selections, piano, etc., as well as general good nature.

The wife of A. H. Merchant, general freight agent of the F. E. & M. V. railroad, died at Omaha yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Reynolds left for that city this noon to attend the funeral.

March is evidently going to depart with the same leonine demeanor that has characterized its entire career this season. The wind blows from the northeast today loaded with chilliness from the Minnesota snow banks.

Yesterday was the sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds was happily surprised by greeting a few friends at a 6 o'clock dinner who had been invited by Mrs. Reynolds in honor of that event.

In response to the invitation issued by Damasus Commandery, Blue Lodge Masons will meet at Masonic hall on Easter Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and go in a body to attend services at M. E. church. All Master Masons are invited to join in the observance of the occasion.

A box supper will be given under the management of the Royal Neighbors of America Camp at Hoskins, on Wednesday evening, April 5. The price will be 25 cents, a supper for two. All Woodmen and their lady friends are cordially invited as well as every body else. Each lady attending is requested to bring a box provided with supper for two, and place her name inside the box.

The stereopticon lectures which have been held in the Baptist church the past three evenings by Mr. E. Adams have been exceptionally fine and have proved a delight and an education to all who have attended. It is no exaggeration to say that Mr. Adams has, by all odds, the finest outfit ever used in Norfolk. The machine is the best that Colt manufactures and the views are varied and entertaining. Tonight the entertainment will be repeated at the Baptist church and the price for children will be 10 cents. It is hoped that a large number of the pupils of the public schools will avail themselves of an opportunity to see and hear a really creditable stereopticon lecture. The house should be crowded.

Some of the boys about town are stretching wires across the walks after dark, and unsuspecting victims are entrapped. This may seem very funny for the boys but to those who on foot or on wheel are obliged to use the sidewalks it is very annoying and is liable to lead to serious injuries. Last evening a young lady riding her wheel on Norfolk avenue, on her way from her home down town, was saved from a heavy fall by the warning raised by a gentleman who was walking in front and had come onto one of these wires just before she reached it. The lady who is perpetrating this senseless kind of smartness are advised to quit their nonsense. If persisted in, it will prove a very live, hot wire to some of them.

Cemetery Association.

The trustees of Prospect Hill Cemetery association held a meeting Tuesday afternoon, and organized by the re-election of S. S. Cotton as president and L. Sessions as treasurer. Upon motion the chair appointed C. B. Durland, Mrs. Rainbolt, Mrs. Powers, W. J. Gow and L. Sessions as a committee on the care of grounds.

Bill of the county clerk for recording revised plat of grounds was allowed and paid.

L. Buckendorf submitted a proposition to furnish a flower bed upon the grounds.

The trustees wish to correct an error, which crept into the report of association meeting of one week ago as furnished the press for publication, in which the item of expense named "other expenses including interest on note at bank $296.31," is too large by $163.47, and should read $132.84 instead.

FIGHTING THE FILIPINOS

BATTLE AT THE WATERWORKS.

The First Encounter With the Insurgents. Valiant Work by the Nebraska Boys. Contests Every Day—Longings For Home—Routine of Camp Life Reinforcements Expected.

MAMILA, FEB. 20—My Dear Sister: As it is sometime since I received your letter I will now drop you a few lines to let you know how I am getting along. I suppose you will hear about the battle we had, long before this reaches you. We had a hot time for two days. The fight started from the outpost number 2 about 8.30 Saturday February 4.

We fought all night and the next day and didn't quit until four o'clock Monday afternoon. Then we went back to camp, packed our boxes, rolled our blankets, filled our haversacks full of shells and started out again.

We marched about two miles toward the water works and rested there till noon.

Then we started for the water works again which were about six miles from camp.

We hadn't more than started when the insurgents opened fire on us from a hill where they had entrenched themselves. We got under cover as soon as possible and the Utah battery returned the fire. It only took a few shots to knock their trenches all to pieces. Company C was in the lead all the way. After we got the insurgents out of the trenches and got on the hill we could see them going over the other hill.

In a few moments we were on the other hill and there we fought for about 15 minutes. I tell you the bullets flew around us for awhile but we didn't notice that so much for we were shooting all the time as fast as we could load. Five of our boys were wounded. They are at the hospital now.

We are still at Camp Santa Mesa. The regiment is at the waterworks camping in shelter tents. If this trouble hadn't come we would probably have been on our way home within a month. As it is we shall have to whip the insurgents first and there is no telling when we shall get away.

I haven't been feeling well for the past week. I was in the hospital for three days. The smell of the medicine was horrid and I couldn't stand it. I told the doctor I was feeling well and got out of there and went out to Camp Santa Mesa. Several of the boys are there. Those that are not able to fight guard the camp.

There are six regiments of regulars on their way to Manila. Three regiments which left Frisco in January are due here now. There are three regiments from New York which sailed around the other way.

We have had quite a time with the insurgents lately. We have one or more scraps with them every day. I have been in three battles already. Every night we were on outpost duty from 7 p. m. to 6 a. m. It was no snap I can tell you. A fellow never knew what time a native would jump out of the brush and hit him.

Sometimes a company of insurgents would come and fire a shower of bullets at us. In the day time we would march up into the mountains and look for the enemy. Some times we would find them but mostly we wouldn't. Every day we would burn a village. The Washington and California regiments have been fighting steadily for two weeks. They are two miles north-east of us.

The last battle we had was at the waterworks. Our captain was shot twice and our second lieutenant once. Both will recover. We only have five wounded besides Captain Lien.

After our officers were shot Co. M was sent out to take our camp while we were sent back to guard Camp Santa Mesa.

We were glad of the change. We had been out on the firing line for two weeks and during that time we hadn't our clothes off except when we went in bathing in the river.

The Mauser bullets are flying over our camp at all hours of the day and night. We are used to them now and they don't keep us awake any longer.

It seems strange that as I am writing you I can hear the cannons across the river roar and the rifles crack.

I haven't got cold yet but I wish that I was in the land of the living where I could lay down in peace and get one good night's rest.

When you see Mrs. Owen tell her Frank is well. He is on guard tonight.

I will have my picture taken and send it to you as soon as I have a chance. Several of the boys have kodaks, but we are too busy now.

It is getting late and I must close. Remember me to the Spears and other friends.

Your brother,
JULIUS NELSON.

New gasoline-gas lamps are being placed in a number of the stores and offices about town this month. They are of a new pattern and a decided ornament to the stores compared with the old oil lamps.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Miss Mamie Bley, Wednesday evening, by a few of her friends. By the volume of the noise proceeding from that locality it would seem that those interested had a most enjoyable evening.

Monroe Smith's youngest child has been seriously sick the past week. Saturday Dr. Bear of Norfolk was called down in consultation with Dr. Long of this place. The child is not expected to live, as it is suffering from spinal meningitis.

It now means the survival of the fittest! We propose to be in the thickest of the fray—right on the firing line. Our method of doing business should be pretty well known to the people of Norfolk and vicinity. We have always aimed to lead, and we want to say that we have the largest and most exclusive display of TRIMMED GOODS outside the large cities. We would be foolish to make an assertion that we could not prove, therefore, we earnestly invite you to visit our store and see for yourself. Our motto will be as before: We will fit your face with a becoming hat or we will not sell you one.
