Judge W. V. Allen is holding court this week at Niobrara. The Pioneer of that town thus alludes to him and his procedure as judge: "Judge Allen, the former United States senator of Nebraska who made meaning to the name of populism in this country, opened court Tuesday. The judge has softened considerably since he presided in the same capacity six years ago, which was broken by his election to the upper house of congress. The judge takes up too much time in his "lectures" to the bar and jury, but as they are all of a pleasant and pointed nature, perhaps it is the only time many of them have to listen to a few truths. Knox county ought not to be made to pay for those lectures however. The term otherwise is going along smoothly and promptly but not with that undue haste characteristic with Judge Robinson, who seemed always to rush matters as Sunday approached that he might be home with wife and babies—a very commendable desire but not always satisfactory with the public."

A. J. Durland is arranging to fit up the Marquardt hall as a place of public entertainment, and for that purpose workmen will begin at once to put in a stage, scenery, and have the room properly seated. The public will welcome the enterprise of Mr. Durland in thus providing what the town has so long needed. The new hall will be formally opened on Monday evening, May 29, by the Sanford Dodge company, who produced Richard III in this city last year before a critical audience, and gave good satisfaction. The company will appear in the new hall two nights, Monday the 29th and Tuesday the 30th. The first night that strong Shakespearean play "Othello" will be given, and the second night a new play entitled "The Prisoner of Spain" will be produced. Mr. Durland announces that if his efforts to give the people a place of amusement are met with a substantial response in the way of patronage, that he will soon make further improvements in the hall, by raising the ceiling, putting in a permanent stage and new scenery, and rearranging the whole interior so that it will be a creditable amusement hall. It is certainly to be hoped that the opening nights will show such a desire for a place of entertainment that Mr. Durland will feel warranted in going on with his contemplated improvements.

"Doctor, what is free alkali?"

"The alkali used in the manufacture of soap is a strong chemical and is destructive of animal and vegetable tissue.

"Pure soap is harmless, but when the soap is carelessly or dishonestly made, alkali is left in it and it is then said to be 'free.' Soap containing free alkali should not be used where it may do damage.

"In the medical profession, in sickness, in surgery and in the hospitals we use Ivory Soap because it is pure and contains no free alkali."
