Norfolk Responds Generously to Call for Help.

HANDSOME FUND FOR HERMAN.

Citizens Give Promptly to Assist Those Made Destitute by the Awful Storm of Tuesday—A Portion of the Fund Telegraphed This Morning.

NORFOLK, Neb., June 16.—C. W. Burdick, mayor, Herman, Neb.: Draw on Citizens National bank here for one hundred dollars, our citizens' contribution for your sufferers.

The mayor was enabled to send the above telegram after the committee announced last evening had been at work only two hours this morning. The committee did not stop then, however, but kept right on with the canvass and by noon had swelled the fund to $122.25. This afternoon the mayor is still at work seeing those who were missed this morning and by night considerable more will be added.

Not for a long time has there been such a spontaneous response to an appeal for assistance as Messrs. Simpson, Luitart and Gow met this morning when they asked that the people contribute of their plenty to the destitute and suffering at Herman, whose all was swept away from them by a terrible cyclone Tuesday evening.

In other cities in the neighborhood relief funds are being speedily raised for the benefit of the afflicted at Herman. At Sioux City yesterday $210.00 were raised within an hour, while large contributions have been sent from Omaha, the World-Herald alone having sent four shipments of supplies.

Following are the names of those who had contributed to the fund up to noon today:

Mrs. W. A. Anderson, who was among those reported fatally injured in the Herman cyclone, was at one time a resident of Norfolk. Her husband conducted a harness shop at this place a few years ago.

Miss Gertie Klientz has taken the position of night operator at the telephone office, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Anna Lobnow, who is now one of The News force.

S. R. McDonald came down from Pierce yesterday to take the cadet examination, but as he had not taken all the studies in which they were to be examined, he returned home last night.

Chino Champion, June 9: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rose arrived here the first of the week from Nebraska, and will make their home here. Mr. Rose will have a position in the office of the sugar factory. He was formerly bookkeeper in the Oxnard's factory at Norfolk, Nebraska.

A gay party of young people, consisting of Sol Mayor, Dr. Parker, Robert Johnson, Arthur Pilger, and the Misses Ada Butterfield, Allie Johnson, May Bates and Elizabeth Davenport, drove out to the Yellow Banks this morning to picnic.

A telephone message from Schuyler this morning stated that the mother of the Messrs. Sprecher, who has been lying dangerously low all the week, was still alive, although it was not thought possible that she could survive much longer.

Yesterday F. B. Alderman of West Point sent a 10-pound catfish to Messrs. Sessions & Bell, but in the absence of those gentlemen from the city, the fish found its way to the table of E. M. Norton. Ed always was lucky when there were any fish in the case.

The baby boy, two years old, of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Willie, died at Chadron yesterday. The family formerly lived here, but when Mr. Willie was promoted to the position of traveling engineer of the Black Hills division of the F. E. & M. V., they removed to Chadron. They still have many friends here to whom the news of their sad loss will bring genuine sorrow.

In a town with a dearth of first class entertainments, it seems too bad that the dates of two good ones should fall on the same night. There are many people who would like to attend both the Alba Heywood entertainment and the lecture to be given by Prof. Ott, but this being a physical impossibility they will have to choose between them, with the knowledge, however, that which ever they select will be satisfactory.

The Musical carnival and Festival of Flowers to be given in the big tent on McClary's lawn two evenings next week, June 21 and 22, will without doubt be the event of the season. Eighty people will take part, in fancy, national and comic dances, artistic poses, drills, solos and other novel features, prominent among which are the Kinder symphonie band, the May pole dance, Baby Phillis in her graceful electric dans de sylphs, grand coronation scene, dart and quiver fantasies, the Spanish dance, etc. The Jack o'lantern drill is a special feature which will be particularly pleasing.

The entertainment is given for the benefit of Trinity church choir, under the auspices of the Ladies' guild, and is conducted by Mrs. R. H. Day, who has been training the little people a long time for the event. The ladies will serve refreshments on the lawn during the two evenings.

POISON IN THE CANDY.

The Two Children of W. H. Rish Very Sick from Eating Sweets Purchased Last Evening.

From Friday's Daily. Last evening Hazel, aged 10, and Harvey, aged 8, children of W. H. Rish, purchased a sack of what is known as "bean" candy at the Fair store, both enjoying the sweet before they retired. During the night the children were taken sick, and rapidly grew worse until morning, when both were suffering from raging fever. Dr. Frank Salter was called and he pronounced the cases poisoning. After investigation he gave it as his opinion that the candy eaten had contained aniline coloring, from the effects of which the children were suffering. By 11 o'clock the temperature of both children had gone up to 104, which is so high as to be extremely critical. The boy is unconscious most of the time.

While the condition of both is serious it is believed they will pull through. Mr. Shurtz was notified of the result, and he promptly threw away the remainder of the candy. The children's purchase had been made from a new box just placed in stock yesterday. Mr. Shurtz says the candy came from a house that he has been dealing with for five years and this is the first trouble he has ever had.

Schley Day at the Exposition.

July 3rd will be Schley day at the Great Exposition. The fighting 1st Nebraska is expected to attend. The Fall of Manila will be shown on the water at the Exposition Grounds. A Philippine Village of twenty native families in their Philippine huts will be one of the features of the Greater America Exposition. The greatest educational Exposition ever given in the west will naturally show what the people want to know about our new possessions.

The children of W. H. Rish, who were poisoned by eating candy Thursday evening, are very much improved today and may be considered out of danger.

Reserved seat tickets will be on sale Monday morning at Christoph's drug store for the Blind Boone concert which will be given in the Baptist church Thursday evening, June 22.

A number of persons have been subpoenaed to appear before Judge Bates' court in Madison, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, to give testimony on part of the state in the stock yards cases.

Earl Rock, 11 years old, the adopted son of Henry Leisy, living at Scribner, departed from the latter's home last Monday and has not been heard from since. He is wanted badly by his foster father.

The branches of trees are in many places growing so low over the sidewalks that an ordinarily tall man cannot walk under them without crooking his neck like that of a squash. The trees need trimming.

Sheriff Geo. W. Losey passed through the city this morning on his way home from Sioux City. He says that he now has the thieves located who burglarized the shoe store of Greenwalt & Steinbrecher last winter.

Another game of base ball was played between the teachers and town boys yesterday afternoon. The rain storm came up in time to stop the game at the end of the sixth inning, when honors were even, each side having scored 11 runs.

Dr. A. Bear returned yesterday from Richmond, Va. His trip to that place comprised two objects, one to visit his old home and the other to attend the annual convention of the National railway surgeons' association. The doctor enjoyed his visit very much.

At the meeting of Norfolk lodge No. 97, A. O. U. W., last evening, there was a re-election of a portion of the officers, on account of resignations, as follows: Eugene Austin, overseer; Herman Miller, guide; T. E. Moolick, inside watch; Mike Moolick, outside watch. One new candidate was initiated.

salaries, which is announced by First Assistant Postmaster General Heath to take place July 1, Norfolk is scheduled for a raise of $100, making the salary $2,100 a year. Fifty-nine out of 95 offices in the state will be increased and only three diminished.

At the hall of the German Singing society last evening a large number of the friends of Councilman and Mrs. Oscar Uhle held a party in honor of the lady's birthday. Those present had a jolly time until a late hour, the evening being taken up with singing, dancing and refreshments. It was a pleasant evening and at its close the guests wished Mrs. Uhle many happy returns of the day.

Norfolk has a superabundance of musical talent, and yet this summer there is no band in town to smite the air with sounds more or less pleasing to the ear. Many a young man who spends his evenings upon the streets, would have his time better employed if he were practicing with a band, besides it would show more enterprise on the part of Norfolk. By all means, the town should have a band.

Prof. Ed Amherst Ott's lecture at the M. E. church last evening before the members of the teachers' institute, was well attended. The subject, "The Bigot," as presented by the lecturer contained much to think about, and the speaker has the gifted faculty of presenting his ideas clearly and forcefully to his audience. This is Prof. Ott's second appearance here on the platform, and both times he has made many friends and admirers.

A telegram to the Sioux City Journal from Osmond, speaking of the Fourth of July celebration in that place says: "It is hoped that Hon. John R. Hays of Norfolk, may be procured as orator of the day." But he can't, simply for the reason that the Osmond people are too late with their invitation. Several weeks ago Mr. Hays accepted an invitation to deliver a Fourth of July address at Wakefield, and since then he has had similar invitations from Wayne and Bloomfield. Mr. Hays is a fine orator and is very much in demand.

The team of Geo. Keiser became frightened at a train at the U. P. crossing over Main street this morning and ran away. In the wagon at the time was Mr. Keiser and a young boy named Schwertfeger. Down the street they went at a furious gait, over the bridge and out on the road a half mile east, when the outfit stopped because the horses had become tired. The driver kept them in the road and there was no damage. When the bridge was approached the boy climbed out the back end of the wagon and alighted without injury.

Mrs. Geo. H. Spear gave an afternoon yesterday at the Oxnard to a large party of ladies, in honor of her guest, Mrs. Geo. Lehman of Columbus. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in a social way, and delicious refreshments were served. One of the features of the day was a "floral tale," being in the nature of a series of conundrums. Among the 40 ladies present eight gave correct answers, being Mrs. McKim, Mrs. Ed Altschuler, Mrs. Weatherby, Mrs. Warrick, Mrs. Ed Seymour, Mrs. O. J. Johnson, Mrs. McNamee, and Miss Warrick. In the cut for first place, Mrs. McKim won the prize, a handsome book.

The entertainment given by the Alba Heywood company at the Marquardt hall last evening, was greeted by a large and appreciative audience. The program was out of the usual order, consisting almost entirely of high class specialties, Mr. Heywood assuming several different roles and doing all of them well. The members of his company are all artists in their lines, and the encores to every number, frequently repeated, proved that the audience was well pleased with the entertainment. If Mr. Durland continues to secure first class entertainments for the newly opened hall, there will be no doubt as to its success in the new use to which it is being put.

The State Funeral Directors association, which has been held at Grand Island during the week, had the largest attendance and was the most interesting and instructive meeting ever held by the association. Carl Barnes, who is at the head of the Chicago college of embalming and president of the Illinois state board of health and the Chicago board of health, had been secured to give a series of lectures and demonstrations before the association. It was because of the special educational advantages offered at this meeting that both Messrs. Sessions and Bell felt that it was their duty to attend, but their business was left in good hands during their absence. Both returned last evening, accompanied by Mrs. Bell.

Sioux City Journal, 16: Miss Elizabeth M. McKichan, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. McKichan, of this city, and Robert Mathewson, of Hartford, Conn. were married at 7 o'clock last evening at the home of W. R. Webb, 1124 Eighth street, Rev. Dr. J. C. McClintock, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Only the relatives and immediate friends of the young people were present at the ceremony. The maid of honor was Miss Ruth Jenkins, Kansas City, and the bridesmaids were Misses Ida Webb and Elizabeth Hood, of this city, cousins of the bride. Storrs Mathewson, of Norfolk, Neb., cousin of the groom, was best man, and George Flynn and Ray Webb, were groomsmen. Mrs. I. A. Harvey played the wedding march. John Norris and Irene McKichan were flower children. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, and later in the evening the young couple left for their home at Hartford.

The Northeast Nebraska District G. A. R. reunion will be held at Plainview on July 11, 12, 13 and 14. It is announced that speakers of national reputation will be present and deliver addresses, among whom are Governor Wm. A. Poynter, Senator M. L. Hayward, Ex-Senator W. V. Allen, Adjutant General P. H. Barry, Col. J. E. Simpson and others. There will be ball games and other amusements, a shooting tournament on July 13 and 14, and grand camp fires held nightly. W. R.
