National responsibility cannot be shirked.

Confidence has returned and the people have confidence in the party which brought it.

The republican party has a record, not as a destroyer but a regulator of industries.

Free silver is as much out of date as free trade. Both have fallen into innocuous desuetude.

Duty is a great word but it should not cause a great nation to become timid of its own capabilities.

Independence and freedom are not necessarily synonymous terms. Canada is free but not independent.

When Mr. Bryan looks a bright, honest dollar in the face, respected and sought for wherever it appears, and attempts to impeach its integrity he makes himself the laughing stock of intelligent men.

The eyes of the nation are on Nebraska. The result of the election in this state does much to settle Mr. Bryan's political future.

Every manufactory in the land is a bee hive of industry. No one denies it. All know it. Republican policies are responsible for it.

The people know that their true interests lie in the continuation of the republican party in power. They will not forget it next Tuesday.

Silas A. Holcomb is a bitter partisan and a persistent office seeker. He is not the man whose influence will have a tendency to place the supreme bench above partisanship.

Senator Mason of Illinois threatens to resign because he doesn't like President McKinley's Philippine policy. The rest of the country would feel quite resigned to such action on Mr. Mason's part.

A growing commerce, good prices and a busy people—these are the conditions of American civilization today. Does anyone want to change them? If so next Tuesday will give an opportunity to vote for a return of the soup house times of 1896.

America has opportunities before her that she little dreamed of a short time ago. The future of millions of people in Asiatic seas depends upon us. The stars and stripes will represent to them as it does to us, liberty, freedom, and highest fruits of civilization.

The republican party doesn't believe in classes. It believes in treating men as men. It stands by a system of finance that pays the capitalist and the laborer, the farmer and the pensioner, the merchant and the miner, in the same kind of a dollar, good for its face value the world over.

The fusion press is notably silent lately in its support of Holcomb for the supreme bench. The editors of these papers are honest and sincere as a class and they haven't the hardihood to urge their readers to support a man so essentially lacking in every qualification necessary for the position.

Mr. Bryan declares that he stands today where he stood in 1896. He stood for the Chicago platform then and he stands for it now. That's all right. William! It's the same way with the American people. They stood against the Chicago platform in 1896 and they do today. They stood for national honor then and they stand for the same thing now.

Holcomb has his share of the blame to bear for the looting of the state treasury by Bartley. Instead of making a thorough, business-like investigation of the treasurer's accounts at the proper time he carelessly passed it over, taking Bartley's word and a cigar box full of papers as proof of the true situation. Do the people of Nebraska desire such ability on the supreme bench? No one knowing the business sagacity and love for justice on the part of the people can believe that they do.

Some interesting and instructive facts bearing upon the subject of immigration have been brought by the investigations of the industrial commission in New York city recently. One of these was the statement of an immigration official that during the years 1880 to 1890 45 per cent of the arrivals at the port of New York, or nearly 2,000,000 persons, announced their destination as the metropolis itself. This of course could not be true, for the population of New York increased only 400,000 in the years stated, but there was enough truth in it to show the tendency of immigration. It was also stated by the immigration officers that the padrone system is still a feature of Italian immigration in spite of all efforts to break it up, and that assisted immigration is still an evil that shows signs of no material abatement. To these sources we owe, it was said, a large and continuous infusion of the pauper and criminal classes in our population.

The bugaboo of militarism is being worked to its utmost by the anti-expansionists. As a matter of fact if our regular army were to be limited to 25,000 men, as Mr. Bryan and others have demanded, it would result in leaving a nation with a home population of 75,000,000, and a dependent population of 10,000,000, more, with only one soldier to every 3,411 persons. This is a very much smaller force in proportion to the population than at any date in our records, and entirely inadequate to man and keep in order our seacoast fortifications. Our present emergency force of 100,000 men takes only one soldier from every 800 people, and with existing conditions in the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico, is certainly as small a standing army as a great and powerful nation should consider essential to the proper maintenance of her supremacy. The demagogic cry of militarism has no foundation in fact. It is only another democratic phantasm trying to fill the place of a campaign issue.

ALVIN SAUNDERS IS DEAD.

War Governor of Nebraska and Ex-Senator Passes Away.

OMAHA, Nov. 2.—Ex-Governor Alvin Saunders died yesterday at his home on Sherman avenue at the age of 83 years. He passed away easily and naturally and his death seemed to the members of the family gathered around the bedside as though he had merely gone from perfect consciousness into a gentle sleep.

Governor Saunders' death removes one more of the few survivors whose lives connect with the early history of the middle west. He was largely instrumental in the nomination of Abraham Lincoln as president. He was chairman of the Iowa delegation to the national republican convention held in Chicago in 1860. While others were trying to support Seward and Bates, he exerted all his efforts in behalf of Lincoln, who, as a reward, appointed him governor of the Nebraska territory. The last signature ever written by Lincoln was obtained by Governor Saunders and is the most highly prized souvenir in the possession of the Saunders family. Governor Saunders late in the afternoon of the day of the assassination called upon President Lincoln to get his governor's commission renewed for the second term. The president signed the commission and remarked that he was going to the theater in the evening with a party of friends. Next morning Governor Saunders while on his way to Omaha picked up a morning paper at Pittsburg and was greatly shocked upon reading the news of the assassination. Governor Saunders was closely associated with the late Senator Harlan of Iowa, who was Mrs. Saunders' uncle.

REPORT ON PHILIPPINES.

Commission Will Prepare a Partial Review to Be Published at Once.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The members of the Philippine commission—Admiral Dewey, Professors Schurman and Worcester and Colonel Denby—will make a preliminary report to the president before the end of this week, and it is understood the report will be immediately given to the public. This report will be prepared at the request of the president as a result of the conference between the president and the commission at the white house yesterday. When asked if the report would touch upon the so-called Sulu treaty (the arrangement made between General Bates and the sultan of Sulu), Professor Schurman replied in the negative. "That was purely a military arrangement," said he, "with which the commission had nothing to do."

Postmaster Wounds Two Robbers.

MANKATO, Kan., Nov. 2.—An attempt was made Sunday night to rob the post-office at North Branch by a gang of robbers, who were shot at by the postmaster. The robbers escaped, but yesterday one of them was found six miles from here, shot through the ankle. It now appears that the postmaster hit two of the robbers and that the other wounded one has crossed the Nebraska line and is being pursued.

Planters Will Not Market Sugar.

HAVANA, Nov. 2.—Owing to the present low price of sugar and the poor prospects, many planters have decided not to grind their present crop, but to use it in replanting and in increasing their acreage.

Iowa Dentists Are In Session.

IOWA CITY, Nov. 2.—The 11th annual convention of the Eastern Iowa Dental society was called to order in the dental building of the University of Iowa yesterday. President MacLean presented the visitors with the key to the university and the freedom of the city.

Armor Test Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Test was made at Indian Head of a plate varying in thickness from nine to fourteen inches and representing the side armor of the Illinois. Two shots were fired with satisfactory results and 700 tons of plate were accepted.

Colonel Metcalf Promoted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The president yesterday commissioned Colonel Wilder S. Metcalf, Twentieth Kansas volunteers, brigadier general by brevet for gallant and meritorious services in action at Guiguento river, Luzon.

Iowa Veteran Dead.

NEVADA, Ia., Nov. 2.—James Doyle, for many years a resident of Story county and a veteran of the civil war, is dead at the age of 83 years. The funeral services will be conducted by the local post of the Grand Army.

Columbia Cable Cut.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The state department has been informed that the land line wires connecting the cables with the interior of Columbia, including the capital, have been cut as an incident of the revolution.

Her First Thought.

Mildred—Have you ever thought that your last moment had come? What an awful feeling it is that comes over one at such a time!
Gertrude—Yes, I had that experience once when I was out riding with a fellow and his horse started to run away. It seemed as if we would certainly be dashed to pieces.

Mildred—And what was the first thing you thought of when death seemed to stare you in the face?

Gertrude—A hole in the toe of my left stocking. I have never since then run the risk of being found dead in such a condition.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Choice of Evils.

"Mrs. Smith, you don't seem to mind your two boys quarrelling."
"No. When they're quarrelling, I know they're too busy to hatch up mischief."
—Chicago Record.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.
