—Thursday last the St. Edward team won a game of ball from the Fullerton boys by the score of 11 to 4.

—Dr. Hansen, H. Ragatz and Carl Kramer go today to Lincoln to attend the republican state convention.

—Easton's line of gasoline stoves and coal oil stoves are the most complete of any in the city, and prices are right.

—"Mill Ends." Great sale of "Mill Ends" and Sample Garments, now on, at store of Lamb & Co. Hot-weather goods at low prices!

—The residence of C. C. Hardy on Ninth street just east of J. Groves', is enclosed and will be a good addition to the city when completed.

—The board of health of Schuyler with John C. Sprecher on one side and a few citizens on the other are having a fight over a case pool on the Sprecher lot.

—Henry Miles and Mrs. Eliza J. Wampole were married Saturday evening at the home of D. N. Minor, Justice of the Peace officiating. Mrs. Wampole is the mother of Mrs. Minor.

—August Wagner of this city has been engaged to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Hampshire, and is capable of giving our neighbors to the north something well worth listening to.

—Children's day exercises were held in the Congregational church Sunday morning. The Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist Sunday schools observed the previous Sunday for their exercises.

—The three month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trothoff, near Richland, died Wednesday from whooping cough. The funeral was held Thursday from the home, Rev. Grunhorst conducting the services.

—George S. Truman of Genoa was in town today (Tuesday) on his way home from Garrison. Mr. Truman says the fields around Genoa have plenty of moisture, in many places the land is covered with alfalfa.

—Fifteen workmen who have been at work on the Loup railroad bridge last night and Tuesday night for Brandon, Wyo., where they will be engaged at similar work for a couple of months when they expect to return here.

—E. H. Jenkins was on the South Omaha market Friday of last week with a load of hogs from Michigan county that brought better than $30 per head, and says he expects to have fat cattle this last winter can now wear diamonds.

—H. P. Coolidge is carrying a very sore left foot as a result from stepping on a nail that was in a board in his work shop in Gray's store, Monday of last week. The nail which was a large one, penetrated the flesh nearly two inches.

—Judge Ratterman induced the supervisors to have a telephone put into his office rooms in the court house. This will make the fourth telephone in the building, one each for the use of the clerk, treasurer, clerk of district court and judge.

—George Hagel's new building on Thirteenth street is progressing so rapidly as possible. The brick and carpenter work will probably be completed in two weeks and Mr. Hagel expects to move in with his bowling alleys about August 1st.

—At the district Christian Endeavor convention held in Norfolk last week, Miss Beatie Sheldon was elected superintendent of missions. The Columbus Congregational church received the banner for the year for largest contributions to missionary work.

—J. C. Swartzley returned last Tuesday from several weeks spent near Stuart. He says corn has a larger growth than in Platte county and strawberries are earlier and better than around here. The Columbus people that have moved there are all doing well.

—Poetry readers will take notice that Easton sells a full line of poultry fencing 1 inch, 1 1/2 inch and 2 inch mesh, close enough to turn the smallest chick. I also have a fence that will stand up without a top and bottom rail that I sell for a slight advance over the common poultry fence. Try me for prices. I will save you money.

—Prof. Jacques Redway who is instructing the teachers in geography each morning at 10:30, is a man with more than a national reputation in the work. He has been a teacher in Honolulu, has traveled in South America, Africa and many countries, studying this earth of ours. Prof. Redway gives a lecture Thursday evening in the High school building that should interest everybody.

—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sheets and two children arrived here Sunday from Barnegat Springs, N. Y., and will visit the family of Mrs. Mary Early and also relatives in Schuyler for about two weeks before going west. Elmer is one of the Columbus boys who has made a fortune; he is now worth half a million dollars from the profits of a useful medicine of his own invention and manufactured by his own company.

—The Columbus public library have been sent one hundred books from the government at Washington, volumes principally made up of statistics, records, etc. The books will be catalogued ready for use today.

—George Gould was again placed under arrest Tuesday afternoon. He went to David City some day and gave bail for his appearance at the next term of court. This makes the third time George has been arrested charged with being an accomplice in the defunct Platte Valley bank, says the Bellwood Gazette.

—Dense from Cornelia to the Humphrey Democrat contained the following: "I. M. Gietzen has resigned his position with the Rye & Schneider Co. here, the same to take effect about July 1st. Mr. Gietzen and wife have made many friends here during a period of four years in grain, coal and live stock business. He will take up location at Columbus with the Columbus Milling Company."

—The Fourth of July committee have made arrangements to run a special train on the branch the morning of the Fourth. The St. Edward band will be here and help furnish music during the day, and the Columbus and St. Edward ball teams will come here in the afternoon. This will doubtless be a good game as St. Ed. is in good practice and recently defeated Fullerton's strong team.

—C. R. B. Hord has bought all the old telegraph poles on the Union Pacific between Columbus and Grand Island. The railroad company is replacing the present poles with new ones. The old poles will be utilized by the Ford Cattle Co. in building a telephone line connecting their system of telephones here with Fullerton, Balgrade and other points in that section where the company is operating.—Central City Nonpareil.

—Sunday afternoon the game of ball played on the home grounds attracted a goodly number of spectators, and the Columbus boys won an easy victory over the visitors from David City, the score being 10 to 5. The Columbus team is scheduled for a game with St. Edward Friday next, and on Sunday they go to Fremont. We understand that parties desiring to attend this game can make the trip at reduced rates on the railroad.

—The Ideals magazine for June has been received. The first page gives a good half-tone portrait of J. Sterling Morton. "The Business of Politics" by Hon. S. M. Jones, "The Surrender of London" by Lillian Bell, "The Legend of Old James" by Frank Williams, are among the interesting contributions. "Only a sweet little flower" is a pretty story by Stella, author of "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," which is printed in good large type.

—The heavy rains last Thursday did considerable damage to grain fields southeast of town. On the hills in many places the rain was so heavy that much grain was washed out, and on the low lands many acres of grain were submerged. Particularly is this true on the C. J. Carrig, Arthur Russell and Thomas Dook farms, where several hundred acres of fall wheat and rye, and corn are still submerged, with little prospect of the water being gotten off in time to save much of the crop.—Platte Center Signal.

—The Genoa Times says that Mr. Elbert Vaughn died at the family home east of town at an early hour yesterday morning. A few hours previous to her death she gave birth to a child weighing twenty-six pounds. The child lived but a short time. Funeral services will be held at the Queen church today (Friday) at 2:30. Drs. Davis of this place and Geo. of Columbus, are reported to have said that a child weighing twenty-six pounds at birth was something unheard of before. They attended Mrs. Vaughn in her illness.

—Superintendent Leary arranged an impromptu reception for the teachers of the county at the High school building Monday evening, when over a hundred people spent a pleasant time in renewing acquaintances. Each one of the instructors of the institute were called on for speeches and an interesting program was listened to, consisting of music from the High school orchestra, violin solos from Misses Elsie Pohl and Hedwig Jaeger, vocal solos from Misses Tena Zimocher and Clara Segalla, recitations by Misses Lida Turner, Vesta Slater and Albert Brugges, and a piano duet by the Misses Hoffman.

—The legislature of Nebraska decided some time ago that all teachers in the state must receive examinations and teach the "Principles of Agriculture" in the schools. They will have until 1920 to prepare for the study. Prof. O'Connor of Norfolk, has introduced the study in the Norfolk schools with good success and Sup't. Leary has engaged him to teach that branch during the institute this week. Each morning at 8:30 this subject is studied and any one wishing to know how farming is taught in schools will be interested in attending these lectures.

—It is pretty difficult to print the news of a midwesterner without offending someone. People who are prone to complain of newspapers for giving the news should withhold their denunciation until they have carefully thought over what they may have said of others during a period of twenty-four hours. If a newspaper were to print what most people say of an evil character of their neighbors during a single day the newspaper would be ruled out of the mails as unfit for circulation. The chief business of a newspaper is to suppress things, as anyone who has ever been in the business knows.—Fremont Tribune.

—The Fourth of July celebration committees met last Friday to complete arrangements for the program. There will be a grand parade represented by the Columbus band, civic bodies, decorated carriages, horseback riders, etc. A program of music with the reading of the Declaration of Independence. The committees will not engage an orator for the day, but will devote more attention to the sports which will be all that the small boy would wish for and something that will interest the older heads in the line of foot races, pig races, grased pole, etc. A balloon ascension will be one of the attractions. There will be several prizes given for races, best decorated carriage, etc. The committees are all held at work and intend making the celebration one of the best the city has had. Why not come to Columbus to celebrate?

—We notice by the Norfolk News that Wm. M. Robertson's efforts for an appropriation with which to build a new postoffice at Norfolk have been successful. Columbus should get in line.

—The following from Sunday's Omaha Bee will be of interest to the many friends of Miss Lamb, who spent her childhood days here: "On Tuesday, June 10, occurred the marriage of Miss Anna Lamb, formerly of Columbus, Neb., daughter of Omaha, to Mr. T. E. Hillard of San Francisco."

—Gerhard Von returned home Sunday from a trip to his old home in Germany. He had left here about Christmas, and this makes his fourth trip across since his moving to America in 1904. Mr. Von visited the home of J. H. Johannes and brought back the news that Mr. Johannes' mother was very sick.

—An exchange figure that it costs the Omaha girl $140 to graduate from the high school. The expense bill is as follows: Graduating gown, $25; gown for graduates' dinner, $20; class day gown, $20.00; class banquet and share of carriage, $25; diamond or watch (from father) $100. The boys bill is: Graduating suit, $25; class banquet, 75c; total, $25.75.

—The county supervisors met last week, transacting several items of business. The county clerk was directed to advertise for bids for a three-year lease of the county poor farm, north of town. J. W. James has been the renter for the past four years, since the county bought the property. The farm has not been self-maintaining so far, but the supervisors have made a good many improvements that add to the value of the property. The supervisors considered the advisability of deepening and widening the Currie ditch, which acts as a drainage for about 1,200 acres of land between Platte Center and Oconee. The work of equalization of the tax levy between townships was completed, and made the same as last year, 17 mills.

—Monday's World-Herald contained the following telegram from Washington, D. C.: "Congressman Robinson yesterday called at the navy department in response to a telegram from J. C. Byrne, sheriff of Platte county, Nebraska, stating that one Alexander Osmunir Oskoni of Duncan, Neb., was wanted for statutory rape in Platte county and asking that he be located and held until civil process could be served on him. It was learned by Mr. Robinson that the young man was located at the Brooklyn navy yard and orders have been sent by the secretary of the navy to have him held until Mr. Byrne arrives. The sheriff is now on his way to Washington and will proceed directly to New York, where Oskoni will be turned over to him."

—The St. Francis Academy commencement exercises which will be given next Monday in the lecture room of the school will be unusually interesting. There will be only one graduate this year, Miss G. Niemoller, who completes both the literary and musical courses of the school. Miss Niemoller's oration address will be "The End Crowns the Work." Those who will take part on the musical program are Misses K. Mahan, E. Granneman, G. O'Bryan, G. Niemoller, L. Ekroas, A. Kepple, A. Hurley, G. Diaber, E. Homan and Master H. Matthews. Those who will play violin selections are Misses G. Diaber, A. Mahan and Master T. Vogel. Miss Mahan will assist in two selections with her guitar. The commencement exercises are not public, only those who have special invitations being admitted. There will be no flower offerings.

—The commencement exercises of St. Francis Academy, the Catholic school, next Monday calls our attention to the institution and its work. The school this year enrolls 270 pupils, about 70 of whom are from a distance and who board and room in the building. Sister Agnes, who has had charge of the music for so many years, and who has become so beloved by everybody who is under her instruction, has had 73 different pupils in the several branches of music since last September. There are seven dormitories, five large school rooms, seven music rooms, three recreation rooms, a large chapel, three dining rooms, a laundry, kitchen, etc. The good name this institution has established will still continue to attract patrons from near and far.

—The miller pest that seems to infest the valley lands through Nebraska has caused much talk, and the following letter which was written to Prof. Barber of Albia by Prof. Brown, entomologist of the State University may be of interest: "Your favor of May 30th along with box containing insects for name at hand. These latter prove to be the parent of one of our commonest and possibly the same one which has been so numerous throughout some portions of western and central Nebraska during the past winter and present spring. Whether or not their presence in such large numbers at this time indicates a recurrence of harm from these insects is difficult to predict since frequently these insects appear in such large numbers and for various reasons which I cannot now take the time to relate are killed without producing a new crop of the worms. I would not worry very much about the matter as comparatively little or nothing can be done to destroy the moth prior to egg laying."

—Card of Thanks. The members of Baker Post No. 9, G. A. R. return their sincere thanks to the Fire Department, the Sons of Veterans, the Spanish American veterans, the teachers and pupils of the city schools, the teachers and pupils of St. Francis Academy, the Columbus City Band, members of Co. K, N. N. G., the owners of the opera house and all friends who assisted in Memorial-day exercises.

—W. A. McAdams, Commander. D. H. Mraz, Adjutant.

—Attention, Ladies! I have purchased for my military stock new gloves and military trappings in latest styles, and will sell all at one-half price from now to the Fourth of July. Call on me before going elsewhere. Common speech in store. With E. H. Frank, Eleventh street.

—Mrs. Straz.

A FAMILY MATTER

Is a family matter when the problem of buying groceries is under consideration. The wife knows what brand of goods has the flavor that suits the taste, and she knows from experience just how much the best should cost. Your part of the matrimonial contract in this respect is to let her choose her groceries—she can do it much better than you—and her mind will tell her to buy her provisions here.

Crockery is something we make a specialty of. Good qualities and low prices are jammed together in each article.

Lamps in so many different patterns and designs that we cannot enumerate. They are the best all-around lamps we could buy on the market. They are waiting for a test—why not give one a test now? Prices correct.

Chinaware for use and ornamentation purposes in large varieties at prices that cannot help but tempt your pocket-book and the quality is in every piece.

Woodenware Wash tubs, bowls, etc., in an almost wholesale variety. The prices on these articles are low while the qualities are high.

A Columbusite Writes of His Western Trip.

Some notes taken by E. H. Jenkins on his recent western trip: The city of Vancouver, Washington, lies on the bank of the Columbia river on good dry land and commands a splendid view of the river which at this place is just about a mile wide and at present is deep, being near twelve feet above low water gauge and rising at the rate of eleven inches every 24 hours, is now back full and reports raising above here which will make high water soon. All kinds of driftwood is coming down—logs as large as three feet through being in the drift. Vancouver is about the size of Columbus or a little smaller; the business being about all on one street, the main street being paved with Washington fir for several blocks. There is a ferry boat that crosses to the street cars for Portland every half hour and a steamer that leaves here for Portland twice a day going six miles down the Columbia and twelve miles up the Willamette to the city; it is a nice ride on the latter route of one and a half hours. There are two lines of steamers go on the river every fourteen days, I think as far as the Dalles, and return in the evening. There was an excursion on the river on Sunday; they went a distance of forty miles for 50c the round trip. In town and in the country near here there is an abundance of fruit such as cherries, strawberries, (three of which fill a sauce dish), two or three different kinds of prunes, pears, apples, peaches, etc., etc. Within five miles of the town there are about fifteen or twenty fruit driers or evaporators that dry all kinds of fruit at so much per pound, and as told that last year the fruit crop was so heavy that all the driers were taxed to their utmost and then many tons of fruit spoiled before it could be taken care of. Most all limbs of the trees had to be kept under them, the fruit being so heavy; but this year in many places the crop is going to be very light or a failure. However, there will be many cherries, strawberries, a good many prunes and a fair crop of apples, and to one from Nebraska it looks as though there will be all kinds of fruit. Vancouver has two big saw-mills, five good churches, one large four-story hotel, a good telephone system, a good many nice stores, twenty-six saloons and two railroads. Speaking of telephones you should see some of the tall pine trees that might be used for telephone poles; they were at least 175 feet high and are called tooth-picks. We rode into the country about ten miles and saw many places where they are clearing the land and I made up my mind that I didn't want any of it in mine; they claim it is worth $100 an acre to clear land where the timber is heavy. We saw a good many places where dynamite had been used on stumps and it looked as though they had had a Fourth of July celebration, and the fir stumps that had been out for several years were not decayed in the least, while a stump in Ohio or Michigan would rot in the course of human events. Vancouver is the county seat of Clark county and has a very creditable court house of brick, but taxes are high. The Washington system for deaf and dumb and blind and also the system of the feeble-minded are both located here and each have quite a large number of inmates. Resolutions. The following resolutions were adopted by Baker Post No. 9, G. A. R.: Whereas, The Supreme Ruler of the universe has called for our midst our honored and respected comrade, Moses K. Turner, we hereby extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt and sincere sympathy, and we deplore the loss of a sincere friend, an upright citizen, and kind hearted and father.
