GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Since our change on Nov. 1st, to a strictly cash basis, the prices that we are able to make under this change in the grocery department as well as all others are beginning to worry some of our credit store competitors, so much so that they are writing announcements of apology. Here is where the cash store has the advantage; we do not need to apologize to our customers as we treat all alike; everyone who trades with us, whether he be a capitalist, or a laboring man, gets the same prices, the same courteous treatment, the same consideration, nor do we need question his past credit.

We believe in using up-to-date methods instead of plodding along "28 years" behind the times. Another point we wish to call to your attention, is that we are making such close prices that these same competitors (who are trying to carry water on both shoulders) are warning their trade against the inferior quality of the goods "bought at cut prices" at the "would-be cash stores." You can see where the shoe pinches—explanations are not necessary. We shall continue to sell for strictly cash and one price.

We would request all customers who do not visit our grocery department in person, but use the telephone instead, to be particular to examine all goods on delivery before paying the driver and to be fully satisfied that they are "standard goods that have a reputation" and not "inferior goods as the result of price cutting." We will let you know we are still on earth from week to week.

Thanksgiving Day Opportunities.

Quality counts—always. In holiday times it counts more than in other seasons. The Thanksgiving Dinner is an event for which every housewife prepares with unusual care. Throughout the whole country the women upon whom will devolve the task of marketing and preparing for this unusual feast are on the lookout for the finest food products obtainable. Here are some lines of uncommonly good articles for the Thanksgiving Dinner:

—Mrs. L. W. Snow entertained the Neighborhood Club Monday evening with a game of bridge whist. There were about sixteen people present. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time spent by all. The club meets again in two weeks with Mrs. Adams.
—The display on table linen in the show window of the Gray dry goods store, which is appropriate for the Thanksgiving holiday season, presents a handsome appearance. The fine large turkey made entirely of nappins and the pen sketch of that fowl add to the attraction of the window. The pen drawing is the work of Miss Marion Smith.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Fitzpatrick entertained the Catholic Knights and their lady friends Wednesday evening. The amusement was cards, at which the following parties won prizes: Mrs. Joseph Herod, Mrs. John Graf, Mrs. F. J. Hart and Mr. Charles Cochran. There were about fifty ladies and gentlemen present, and a very enjoyable evening was passed.
—Forrest Merrill passed through the city Tuesday of last week on his way to Bloomington, Ill. where he was taking the remains of his father, Eben Merrill for burial. He died in Sidney. The deceased was nearly 70 years of age and had been afflicted for years with cancer of the stomach. Forrest expects to return to his work on a Texas railroad soon.
—The benefit home talent play next Friday evening which is given for the public library, will be interesting from start to finish. The curtain-raiser "The Snow Storm" will be given instead of "The Little Girl" which has been advertised heretofore. "The Glided Yacht" will be the principal play of the evening. Between the acts there will be several special exhibitions in music by Miss Chapman, Miss Galley and Miss Whitmore. Everybody should attend this entertainment.

—John Falke, living six miles west of town, died Saturday morning at his home from the influenza of old age. Mr. Falke was born 73 years ago in Galena, Austria. He came to Platte county in 1874 and has lived here continuously ever since. He leaves a wife, besides five children, all of whom are grown to manhood and womanhood. Funeral services were held in the Dunsmuir Catholic church Monday morning and interment made in the Catholic cemetery there.
—Mrs. Harv and daughter Miss Jennie of Medina, Ohio, arrived here Wednesday on a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends. They are on their way to California where they expect to spend the winter with Mrs. Harv's mother, Mrs. Ira Mullen. Mrs. Harv will be remembered here as Miss Annie Mullen, a niece of J. E. North, and a former teacher of Platte county. It has been seventeen years since the Mullen family moved to California and this is Mrs. Harv's first visit to Columbus since that time.
—Charles Blochman arrived here Saturday from his plantation in Louisiana which is about 150 miles west of New Orleans. He left here about three months ago and has been overseeing the harvesting of his rice crop. He says rice is a good price now, and seemed well pleased with the profits made off the crop. He also raised some cotton on his place which he says paid better this year than rice. His plantation consists of 500 acres. The wages paid for labor range from 50 cents to $1.50 per day. Mr. Blochman will leave soon for Texas to purchase cattle for feeding during the winter.
—A number of young men of the city will meet Friday evening to complete the organization of a club, the object of which will be for their mutual improvement and pleasure. W. E. Post, one of the principal workers in the organizing, says they contemplate that the dues shall not exceed 50 cents for each member and that the money shall be used in defraying the expenses of the club. The best magazines will be subscribed for and games be kept in the rooms for amusement. They expect as soon as possible to add a gymnasium and bath room. The southwest corner above the State bank has been rented for present accommodations. At the meeting Friday evening officers will be elected, and the young men will then begin in earnest to furnish a good club room.
—The city librarian, Miss Fannie Geer, is now ready to receive subscriptions to the magazine club, and as the list has been almost completed, any who wish to join must do so within a few days. The library officials have purchased a number of book binders and are binding volumes of the most valuable magazines, and as a few copies of the Forum, Review of Reviews, Harpers and Arena are found missing, Miss Geer has requested us to ask those interested in the upbuilding of the library to kindly bring their odd copies that the volumes may be completed. Any one wishing to purchase the book binders for magazines may have them for 35 cents. The library has recently been presented with bound copies of Harpers magazines by L. Gerrard, and have now complete files of that magazine from 1855 to 1895 and also several volumes in later years.
—At the meeting of the Columbus school board last Wednesday afternoon the treasury law was discussed, and it was decided that they should be an effort put forth to enforce the same. The board after deliberating for several weeks upon the condition among the school boys in the use of cigarettes, cigars and intoxicating liquors, and believing that their use is detrimental to the public school system the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That the mayor of the city of Columbus be requested to strictly enforce such laws and ordinances as prohibit the sale of tobacco, cigarettes, cigarette papers and intoxicating liquors to minors." A committee from the Senior High school waited upon the board and asked permission to prepare a class play for graduation exercises of the class of 1904. The matter was postponed for further consideration.
—The city council met Friday evening in regular session. Chief of fire department F. Gottschalk presented sample of fire escape ropes which he recommended to them to purchase and upon consideration the matter was referred to the committee on fire. Albert Giger presented a bond of $300 for draying privileges, which the council approved. The council adopted the report of the committee asking that Fourteenth street from the east line of A street to the west line of Fulton, be graded. The road has been very wet on account of the low street. A petition had been sent to the council asking that sidewalks be ordered built between Bickly and Spice streets abutting north side of block eight in Smith's addition, but upon consideration the request was not granted. A list of those delinquent in paying their poll tax for the year 1903 was ordered given to the city attorney for collection.
—The Orpheus hall was well filled with spectators last Friday evening to witness the first public game of girls' basket ball played in the city. In order to get the audience somewhat acquainted with basket ball Prof. Richardson gave a short explanation of the rules and an introductory game of ten-minute halves was played between two teams chosen from the Columbus girls who were not in the first team and who have been enjoying the practice. The result of this game was a draw, the score being 2 to 2; it was not thought necessary, however, to play off the tie. The regular game for the evening was between the Columbus and Silver Creek High school girls. By the time this was called the audience had become enthusiastic, and the players were met with shouts of applause. At the beginning the Silver Creek girls in their excitement got the goals mixed and were attempting to throw in the Columbus goal when an official called time and notified them of their error. "The game was well played on both sides after the first excitement wore off. The result was a victory for Columbus, the score standing 32 to 11. Very few fouls were made on either side and those were the result of nervousness on the part of the players. No accidents occurred during the evening, but some thoughtless boys threw stones on the floor which might have caused a great deal of damage con-
