

CORRESPONDENCE

R. F. D. No. 1. We have not been able to see Ed. Luessen, Jr., since October 17. We presume he puts in all his time working the baby which came to his house on October 17.

We received a sack of oats this week. Another case of "Donoghue's". A surprise party is to be given to-morrow evening at the home of Henry Luessen, Jr., in honor of his nephew, Dr. Alvin Luessen, who, while on his way from California to Chicago, stopped off here for a short visit.

E. F. Stander has commenced hunking his pumpkins and Hubbard squash crop. Wm. Brooner has a full set of hands at work gathering his crop of cucumbers which he raised for the Western Seed Co.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mueller celebrated their silver wedding. Quite a few of the people along with the bride and groom were present.

A party was given last Sunday at the home of John Wardenman, Jr. The German school at Losoke creek is closed this week, as Rev. Freese is gone to conference at Pool Spring, Nebr.

Route 3. Such days as we had last week make us think that summer is gone and that winter is following in its track. The spent flowers, the faded leaves, the thinning tree-top, the morning frost, all bear witness of a change on earth. And the winged caravans of the upper air confirm the tidings. Summer is gone! Winter is coming!

Peter Lutjens and Martin Albers have returned from a trip to St. Louis. Henry Rodendorf, Sr., is visiting friends in Trevely Park, Ill., also looking after property interests there.

Mrs. John Witt of Scribner, together with her three children have been visiting Mrs. John Brunkon the past ten days. Mr. F. Seens harvested a fine cutting of alfalfa seed last week. Mr. Seens claims that heretofore alfalfa seed has been very a profitable crop for him and from the appearance of the crops one should judge this would be profitable also.

A very pretty wedding took place on this route Thursday last week. The contracting parties were Miss Lizzie Backenhus and Mr. Henry Bass. They were attended by Mr. Fred Bass and Mr. Ed Backenhus and Miss Emma Backenhus and Maggie Bass. After the ceremony, which was at the Losoke church, the guests all repaired to the bride's home where a bounteous supper was served. They started to house keeping on the old Schadd farm.

The good wishes of their friends go with them, those too of their letter-carrier. Such occasions fill him with pleasant sadness. It is not sorrow; it is not gloom; it is one of the moods of joy. For at the mail box was nicely placed in a box a feast fit for a king, which swelled our rejoicing heart with gracious gladness.

District 44 and Vicinity. Christina Hochstrasser and daughter of Wyoming, Ill., sister and niece of J. H. Drinnin arrived Wednesday noon and will spend a week in recreation and a good visit.

The fine rain put the soil in splendid condition to the depth of ten inches. Thursday morning October 20th, was the first frost visible for the season. Who can say aught against Nebraska?

Joe Drinnin is considering seriously an urgent invitation from his brother William and others to eat turkey and cranberries with them, on Thanksgiving day, at the Old Homestead near Toulon, Stark county, Ill.

The Misses Tenio and Iola Brod-fuehrer, of Columbus spent Sunday with Eva and George Drinnin on the home farm north east of the city. They were accompanied by their cousin Kandal Ting, of Maraca, Minn., who is visiting the Brod-fuehrer family.

George Drinnin took gun and dogs, Sunday morning was gone an hour, when he returned with a coat full of the toothsome prairie chickens, and a jack rabbit.

Humphrey. Much is said, more is thought, some is printed. It now looks as if we are going to have a change in the weather. People are putting up their stoves and removing the ice boxes.

Humphrey was honored with a visit of Hugh Hughes the next state senator of the 12th district, last Thursday and Friday. He can not disguise himself by looking wise and saying "the dear people wanted me to run for office."

They all called him "Hugh" and said they hoped he would be elected and regardless of politics said many good things about him even after he had left. We predict that Mr. Hughes will head the republican ticket when the votes are counted, and he deserves the honor.

One Merrack and family were here from Osmond, Neb., visiting their many relatives and friends the fore part of this week.

It is now rumored that Pat's story of "how he wended the calf" is a warning to the many two legged "suckers", who are after his money in this campaign.

F. H. Haney formerly cashier of the First National Bank here and now vice-president of the First National bank of Beatrice, Neb., was visiting attorney Cookingham and other friends Friday last. Fred was formerly a democrat. He is now a loyal republican.

James Nevils of Columbus was a visitor in Humphrey Friday last. Your correspondent received him cordially as he was in company with senator Hughes.

Joe Dacy, Pat Dacy, Martin Mogan and Dr. Walker of Lindsay passed through town to Columbus and back last week; attending to a case in probate court.

Pat McDonald has returned from his visit to the St. Louis fair. Since Parker, the democratic nominee made a visit to Tammy it appears that the health officers will not let him bathe in the Hudson river. This Blanch and Irene Wemple and Flo Smith went to Newman Grove Saturday on the new freight to visit Kern Rhodes, returning the same evening.

Dr. Walker was in O'Neil the first of the week looking after his land interest there and shooting some ducks. The new landlord of the hotel is evidently proving entire satisfaction to his patrons. The hotel is crowded to its utmost capacity.

The will of the late Patrick Ducey has been contested by Mrs. Strotman of Bradish. She was defeated in the lower courts and the case was appealed. Herman Kamrath is very ill with typhoid fever. A trained nurse arrived from Omaha Saturday to wait on him.

Dave Farnsworth and Wm. Brodsky went to Newman Grove Monday night. John Buselman sold his house and blacksmith shop to Anton Weidner last week. Mr. Buselman keeps the tools himself which he will take to the Rosebud reservation when he will engage in the same business. Mr. Weidner intends to move to town and bringing his blooded horses with him, is giving them his time and attention.

Wm. Roggon received word Sunday of the death of his father in South Dakota, who was quite well known here.

Misses Maggie Wenkle and Anna Hurley of Madison were the guests of Mary Lewjohann over Sunday. The three girls were school mates at the convent at St. Bernard some time ago. The Ben Hars will give an entertainment November 11. They expect to have a lecturer here. Frank Emerson Jones of Fremont will present the play of Ben Har and illustrate it by views. Mr. Jones spoke here at the commencement exercises last year.

Wm. Lewjohann has purchased the eating house—board at Scribner near the depot. We are sorry to lose Mr. Lewjohann and wife from our community but wish them abundant success in their new home.

Lindsay is to have another harness shop. The old Josias meat market has been repaired and Herman Helm of Newman Grove has put in a stock of harness and saddles.

The Clarkson millinery company of Clarkson bought the two lots of Mrs. Anna Ducey between the barber shop and the brick store. They were sold for $350 a piece. Martin Mogan made the deal.

John O'Shea of Humphrey was in town Tuesday. Sylvester Plant Injured Sylvester Plant is lying at the hospital as the result of an accident last evening near the Lindel hotel. The exact circumstances are not yet known in connection with the affair, but as near as we can learn they are as follows: Plant was hauling sugar beets for Mrs. Hoffelinger, who lives on the Ernst farm north of town, loading them into a car sidetracked north of the Lindel hotel. It is not known now when the accident occurred but about seven o'clock, train men heard the groans of a man and reported to workmen at the depot, who soon found and carried him to the office of Martyn Evans, Evans & Martyn. He was found to have the left leg broken between the ankle and knee and also to have scalp wounds.

All indications show that the team ran away, but the cause of their getting from under his control is not yet known. The horses were caught at least a half hour before Mr. Plant was found, so that it is possible he was lying unconscious all that time.

Mrs. Hoffelinger, to whom the horses belong, says they were never known to run away before, or to be afraid of trains. Mr. Plant is thirty eight years old and has a wife now in Silver Creek, who has been informed of her husband's condition. He is a brother of Mrs. Chas. Whaley of this city. This afternoon he is reported by his attendants as doing as well as could be expected.

Call at the Journal office and carry away a $3 wall chart FREE.

Farewell Reception

The people of the Congregational church gave a farewell reception, last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Eaton, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Geer, who will leave tomorrow for their future home in California.

The original plan was to make the reception a surprise, but it became necessary to announce it in order to keep Dr. Geer in the city.

If Dr. and Mrs. Geer ever entertained any doubts as to the great place they occupy in the hearts of their Columbus friends, those doubts must have been taken wings last night before the sincere and hearty expressions of respect and love that went out to them from the hearts of those present.

The reception was entirely informal, the guests mingling freely in the three spacious rooms, brilliantly illuminated by candles. Mrs. J. G. Reeder and daughter Marion, the Misses Florence Whitmyer, Edna Galley, Imita Cramer, and Edna Babcock delighted the guests with a short musical program, consisting of both vocal and piano numbers. These musicians, inspired by the occasion, never acquitted themselves more creditably.

Then Rev. G. A. Munro of the Congregational church took the floor and after announcing that he had never been able to have a real satisfying talk with Dr. Geer and that for once he would get satisfaction, presented Dr. and Mrs. Geer with a beautiful old glass vase, the gift of the members of the Congregational church.

Rev. Munro's presentation address was a masterpiece and will be long remembered by those who heard it. He referred to Dr. Geer's fondness for children and for the children's fondness for Dr. Geer and spoke of two small heel prints in the ceiling of his own home, that mark a romp between his boy and Dr. Geer. He lauded the virtues of the man who has sacrificed not only health to attend to his suffering fellow man, but who has often taken money from his own pocket that those under his care might have the advantages of special treatment and be referred with feeling to the great debt of personal obligation which he owed Dr. Geer.

His remarks were not confined however to Dr. Geer. His greatest praise was withheld for Mrs. Geer who has been a leader in social, literary and musical circles, and who has been not only an active worker in the church, but who has been ever watchful for the needs of others in the community, ministering quietly and generously to their wants.

Dr. and Mrs. Geer made brief and fitting responses, expressing their deep regret to leave their Columbus friends to whom they had become so closely bound.

A delicious luncheon in two courses was served by the ladies, after which the guests departed at a late hour, bidding God speed to Dr. and Mrs. Geer on their journey to their California home.

Hospital Fair.

The fair held at Maennerchor hall was attended by a very large crowd last evening, the ladies serving between one hundred and fifty and one hundred and seventy-five people.

The greater part of the crowd go with the purpose of purchasing articles at the several booths and buying tickets for the different contests.

The supper each evening is under the direct charge of Mrs. D. Kavanagh, who is a most proficient manager of her department. She is assisted in this by Miss Minnie McMahon and Miss Lillie Deegan and many other young ladies.

The booths which are built along the east side of the main room, are attractively decorated and are temptingly arranged to attract and hold the attention.

The first booth on the north side of the room is the "Country Fair," which is under the charge of J. F. Carrig and G. M. Granger, with Miss Lida McMahon and Miss Lettie Speice as sales ladies. All manner of edible articles are found here. The next booth to the south is that of the Young Ladies Sodality society, all the articles for sale being made or contributed by their members containing principally fancy work articles. This booth is in charge of Miss Sarah Fitzpatrick.

Mrs. Henry Abts has charge of the next booth which is a counter with children's garments for disposal. Mrs. Abts is assisted by Mrs. F. T. Walker. Mrs. S. J. Ryan and Mrs. Jacob Greisen will be found at the next booth with a supply of the useful articles, women's kitchen aprons.

The next stop is at the attractive booth under the charge of Misses Alice Quinn and Grace Fitzpatrick who sell home made candies and fresh fruit. At "Jacob's Wash," which is built on the west side of the room Mrs. Jerry Carrig and Mrs. Gus Speice will direct your fish line so that you may be sure of securing some article on your hook.

In the smoking den, Mrs. P. J. Hart is assisted in entertaining the gentlemen guests by Mesdames Sullivan, Pollock and Robinson.

Tickets are being sold for many articles, some of which are valuable, and there are contests between several people for prizes, Misses Lettie Becher and Eva Walker are selling tickets for chances on a gold watch. Little Clara Abts and Nellie Ryan are each trying to secure a beautiful doll. A handsome umbrella will be given to one of the Congressional candidates, McCarthy or McKillop, whoever is the winner of the most votes sold at the fair.

This afternoon all the children of the St. Francis academy were taken to the hall and served to a supper there. Last evening the handsome ball and gentlemen's suits, donated by the Gray Mercantile company and by Jacob Gretson respectively, were won by Miss Emma Karsenbrock of Columbus and by Mr. Henry Vartholz of Hooper.

A large cake was given by the Sisters which contained a small article. Each person paying 5 cents has a guess as to what that article may be and the first person guessing correctly will be selling the cake. Mrs. Jennie Walker is selling the groceries.

During the week there will be several dinner parties given. Miss Frances Maynard entertained fourteen friends Monday evening; Mrs. J. B. Gietzen last evening entertained the same number in honor of Mrs. J. T. Harris of Central City and Miss Harriet Flynn of Chicago; and this evening Mrs. E. H. Chambers and Mrs. H.
