"You must laugh. It's a matter of compulsion, not inclination," was the remark made by a crowd of ladies as the large audience was leaving Harris' theater yesterday, and almost every face was wreathed in smiles after the performance of "Our Irish Neighbors."

The high-minded and intellectual defense set forth by the Republican organ of this county seems to be contained in the scholarly saying: "Old maid" and "Billy." Strong argument!

The bath house, under the very appropriate name of the Carlshad of America, is being extensively advertised. There is no doubt in regard to the great curing properties of the magnetic sulphur water that flows out of the well. It has been tried and proved a sure remedy for rheumatism.

Deputy sheriff McArron brought W. C. Walker from Holly last Saturday. The charge is desertion of his family. He was working at a hotel in Holly, and a dispatch to the Detroit Journal says: "He has lived at Holly many years, and until his arrest no one there knew that he had been married."

In reply to the evening paper the Pioneer man tries to escape from an accusation by laying the blame on one of his help. What pusillanimous conduct. Why does not the Pioneer think take his medicine like a man, and not try to escape by hiding behind the office kid? Who runs the Pioneer, anyhow: the kid?

A change has been made in delivering mail at Ossineke since the depot burned. Coming up no mail is left by the night train, and it is carried to Ossineke the next morning by the express. The change was made owing to the inconvenience of sending an agent to the railroad stopping place, from the village postoffice, about midnight.

A pleasant entertainment was given at the Opera House, last Thursday evening, by the Boston Stars, under the auspices of St. Margaret's Guild, of Trinity church. The program comprised violin solos by Miss Osogood; readings by Miss Bickford; soprano solos by Miss Morrill, and imitations by Mr. Prescott. There was a large audience.

The people are cordially invited to attend the organ recital and sacred concert to be given at Trinity church to-morrow evening. No admission fee is charged, but a collection will be taken up for the benefit of the organist, as has been the custom for the last two years. Those present will hear fine music. We hope there will be a large attendance.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the boiled down scheme of a few Republicans of this city, including the manager of the Republican organ, to "fix" our city charter to suit "our large taxpayers." And in defense of his trying to further such an outrage, about all the organ says is "Old maid," "Billy." Verily, the intelligence of some people is truly astonishing.

At the log roll way on the river bank, just above the Potter mill, there are now piled nearly three million feet of logs. They are owned by G. N. Fletcher & Sons, and were brought by rail from their piers on the Mud Lake railway, in Alpena county.

Further up the river is another immense pile of logs, owned by F. W. Gilchrist, which were also brought by rail from Alpena county.

It is about time that the poor apology for a newspaper, the Pioneer, became informed regarding the history of this county, and then it would not be displaying such ignorance. In the last issue it stated that James McNamara had only been elected to the office of Prosecuting Attorney for two terms, when the fact is he held that office for three terms. It should cease its boasting and study the record of the past. Not long ago it displayed its ignorance by stating that Alpena had not been honored by having a citizen elected to the office of Regent of the University, when it is well known George L. Maltz was so honored. It also recommended that Geo. L. Maltz be nominated this year, as Regent, to represent Alpena county, ignoring the fact that Geo. L. Maltz is a citizen of Detroit, although he is doing business in this city. A wise and well posted man, that Pioneer "kid."

The statement of Albert Pack, before a committee of the House of Representatives at Lansing, which will be found in another column, shows plainly that the principal object of the Republican plan for amending the charter of this city, is the mere political one of giving the Republicans control of the city by arranging the wards so that the bulk of the Democratic vote will be in the proposed Third ward. Mr. Pack is very frank in his statement. He desired a majority of the people of Alpena to rule the city. It is as partisan a measure as any we have heard of. He desired to give the Republican party, by means of partisan legislation, power that they cannot get by a fair ballot of the people. We ask the reader to carefully examine Mr. Pack's statement. We are inclined to believe that it will cause many to vote the Democratic ticket.

The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and their friends had a very enjoyable banquet on the evening of St. Patrick's day, in St. Bernard's school house. It was attended by nearly 200 persons. A sumptuous banquet was partaken by those present, and the intellectual feast was a fine one. John Monaghan acted as toastmaster. The program comprised the following: Song, Killarney, by Miss M. Gavagan; music, St. Patrick's Day, by Miss Alice Kelly; the Irish Crisis, by Rev. T. D. Flannery; song, the Shamrock, by Miss Agnes Barlum; song, I'll Take You Back Again, Kathleen; America, by Thos. P. Monaghan; piano solo, by Miss Anna Monaghan; recitation, by Miss Essey Crumney; song, by Eugene Crotenau; W. E. Gladstone, by Dr. Garvey; song, the Shamrock and the Rose, by Miss Lizzie Chapman; Questions of the Day, by James Collins; song, by George Manion; song, 'Tis a Handful of Earth, by M. Scanlon; The Music and Poetry of Ireland, by W. G. Monaghan; song, the Harp that once Through Tara's Hall, by E. A. Westrope; the Ladies, by James Francis; piano solo, by Miss Kittie Robinson; Star Spangled Banner, by the ladies; name of Namara and G. B. Greening were on the program, but were unable to take part, as they were out of town.

Something for Nothing. For the past two weeks the public have been "worked" by a lot of glaring advertisements to sell goods for practically nothing. How silly such statements are. Did you ever get anything for nothing? No, you never. These card monte men and people of that stamp catch their victims by promising to give something for nothing.

If a dealer does business at a loss, it is only a matter of time until he bankrupts. The legitimate dealer does business in a legitimate way, he does not sell reasonable profits and warrants his goods to be as represented.

Now, the schemes that are used to defraud their customers are simple, and in this enlightened age it seems as if every one should see through its transparency. They get a lot of shop-worn, worthless trifles like moth-eaten shirts, coats, old-fashioned slippers and shoes of inferior material and finish, and practically sell them below cost.

What do they amount to when you get them? Nothing. They are neither useful nor ornamental. Any stock that they may have that has any value they mark up—say fifty per cent—and then in glaring figures mark again at its regular price. When the victim comes in he shows the two marks and assured that the big mark was the former price, and induced to purchase at the apparent below cost figure.

Honest dealers that expect to continue in business in Alpena and hold the respect and confidence of the public cannot afford to enter into any such dishonest confidence games. Three months ago Mark C. Bostwick & Co. went east to the manufacturers and bought for cash their entire stock of boots and shoes of the very latest designs and made fresh from the hands of the manufacturers.

They are not selling goods "below cost" because they would be foolish to do it and lose money. They are selling everything, however, at the lowest market cash price and are selling them on a very close margin, for cash.

They guarantee every shoe, slipper or other article in their store to be exactly as represented or money refunded. They sell honest goods at honest prices and have no "skin game" to work off on their customers.
