Of Tazewell.

THE BARKSDALE LAW.

Our Democratic contemporaries have made a great deal of fuss about the possibilities of the so-called pure elections law. According to their expressed belief it was going to accomplish political regeneration for the Virginia Democracy. They all admitted that a drastic measure would be necessary to bring about such a regeneration, as fraud and corruption had been practiced so long by the party that it had become completely degenerate. Mr. Barksdale exploited his bill, and it was carefully considered, amended and enacted by the General Assembly at its late extra session. Its announced purpose was to make the Virginia Democracy, like Caesar's wife, above suspicion.

Some weeks ago reports were being sent abroad that Democrats were going to cheat each other at the primaries that were then coming on. Mr. J. Taylor Ellyson, chairman of the Democratic party in Virginia, was so disturbed by these reports that he prepared and sent out a circular letter to the candidates and party managers, calling attention to the Barksdale law, and urging them "to abide by its provisions religiously." At the time we expressed our belief in the ability of Mr. Ellyson to prevent his own people from cheating each other, upon the assumption that they had been so long defrauding Republicans that the habit had become fixed, and was now second nature with the Virginia Democracy. And we also had a strong conviction that the party managers would not enforce the law when it did not suit their purposes to do so.

It seems that our lack of faith in Mr. Ellyson's power, and even his disposition, to prevent Democrats from cheating each other in elections was not unreasonable. From every section of the State frauds at the Democratic primaries have been reported. These reports were published in nearly all the Democratic daily newspapers; but if there has been any honest effort to investigate, except in the county of Henrico, we have failed to note it. And if there has been any disposition shown by the Democratic organization or officers to enforce the penalties prescribed in the so-called pure elections law we have not heard of it. Upon the contrary there has been a quiet but unmistakable effort to minimize the violations of the law and to direct public attention from the offenses and the offenders.

The most notorious infraction of the Barksdale law occurred in Henrico county, where the capital city of the State is located and where the State chairman of the Democratic party resides. In a Democratic primary held in that county for the purpose of selecting candidates for county office a man by the name of Brauer received the largest number of votes as the candidate for county treasurer. His right to the certificate of nomination was contested before the county committee upon the ground that he had used both money and whiskey to secure his nomination at the primary. The county committee refused to give Brauer the certificate, it having been shown that he had used whiskey and money in violation of the provisions of the so-called pure elections law. Brauer appealed his case to the State Democratic committee, and that committee, with Mr. J. Taylor Ellyson presiding over its deliberations, reversed the Henrico county committee and has issued a certificate to Brauer. Thus has the State committee of the Democratic party given its sanction to a violation of what has been called a pure elections law, and which its chairman has recently by circular letter urged party managers and candidates to "abide by religiously."

Here we have another instance and indisputable evidence of the duplicity of the Democratic organization. It also demonstrates the fact that the Democratic press, with a few honorable exceptions, is lacking in moral courage and sincerity, because it is upholding the State committee in its treatment of the Henrico case.

We remember that when the Walton elections law was enacted it was proclaimed by the Democracy as a measure that would purify elections in Virginia. It had provisions that fixed severe penalties for bribery and all kinds of frauds that could be committed against suffrage. Yet, with the knowledge and approval of the State Democratic organization, acquiesced in and defended by the Democratic press and sustained by the mass of the party, frauds upon the ballot became the rule, with the exception under the operations of the Walton law. The start which has been made in Henrico indicates that the Barksdale law will be about as abortive in promoting pure elections as was the Walton law.

PURGE YOUR OWN PARTY.

We like the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot. It has a bold, manly way of expressing its convictions that must have the approval of right-thinking men. If it has a serious weakness it is the disposition to give too much significance to the mote in the eye of the Republican party and to attach too little importance to the beam in the eye of the Virginia Democracy.

We recently published an article in which we expressed our contempt for "the vicious negroes, pie-hunting politicians and riffraff," which our contemporary, we believe unjustly, claimed constituted the bulk of the Republican party in the State. Responding to our said article the Virginian-Pilot has editorially given the Republicans in Virginia some advice for which we thank it. Our contemporary, however, could, without doing violence to the truth, apply this advice to its own party with an enlarged measure of propriety and force. The Virginian-Pilot says:

"The remarks of our contemporary give opportunity to say some things that we have had in mind to say since the purging of the electorate began, and which, surely, a Democratic newspaper may say without having the sincerity of its advice suspected by its opponents.

The first of these things is that if the Republican party in Virginia ever expects to amount to anything it must cut loose from the habit of saying that the negro in politics is a scoundrel. That is not the fact. He is both an anachronism and a menace. The Republicans can never hope to accomplish anything substantial in Virginia, or in any Southern State until they throw the negro overboard.

The second thing we have in mind to say is that the hope of the Republican party of Virginia lies in the white Republicans of the great Southwest. And by hope we do not necessarily mean hope of victory, immediate or ultimate, in the State of Virginia, but the hope of making the Republican party a force in State affairs and an organization that will command the respect of all good citizens. The Republicans of the Southwest must assert themselves and pull their party out of the mire of pie-hunting, negro-herding politics into which it has fallen. And incidentally they must assert and maintain their rights at the polls."

The suggestion of our contemporary that the white Republicans in Virginia ought to cut loose from the negro is now useless. A cutting loose has already been effected, as the best men of the colored race who voted with the Republicans have been disfranchised because they so voted. The vicious negroes in most instances have been used by the Democracy. We call the attention of our contemporary to its own city and county in proof of the assertion. That the negro has been used by the Democrats as a scarecrow in politics is proved by the fact that he is still made a leading issue in the politics of the State, though it is declared that he has been eliminated from the electorate.

The Virginian-Pilot says: "The Republicans of the Southwest must assert themselves and pull their party out of the mire of pie-hunting, negro herding politics into which it has fallen." In response to this we will say, that the Virginia Democracy has been the most persistent pie-hunting organization we have ever known in politics, State and National. There is not a leader connected with the party machine, from John W. Daniel down to the commonest striker or heeler in county, city, or town, who does not have as his chief ambition the holding of power and the enjoying of the emoluments of office. They have even engaged in what our contemporary is pleased to term "negro-herding politics," and they are practicing it still. That power and place are the impelling principles of the Virginia Democracy is proved by a declaration made by J. Taylor Ellyson a few days ago to a Washington Post reporter. When asked who he thought was the choice of the Virginia Democracy for President he announced that the slogan of the South will be "Show us the man with whom we can win." In other words, Show us the man who can lead us to the pie counter and we will give him our unbroken, loyal support. It does not matter about his character, his past political record, his color or his condition, if he can lead to victory and give us access to the loaves and fishes, we are for him. Mr. Ellyson is a fair sample of the "pie-hunting, negro-herding" (sometimes negro baiting) Virginia Democracy.

After again expressing our high regard for our Norfolk contemporary, we would advise it to pull the beam from its own eye before expressing so much solicitude about the mote in the eye of the Virginia Republicans.

ENGLAND'S FREE TRADE POLICY.

The Democracy, the Free Traders, in this country have been struggling for years to have the United States adopt the same industrial and commercial policy as that which has been in use in England. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, ex-Colonial Secretary for the British Empire, is regarded as one of the country's brightest statesmen. He has recently been convinced that the free trade policy of England was ruinous to that country. On account of holding these views he was forced to retire from office. He made a speech to an audience of 4000 people on the night of the 7th inst. at Gnoswick, a seaport on the Clyde. In advocating a protective policy "Mr. Chamberlain said that why all protective nations prospered more than the United Kingdom. If the Cobdenites could satisfactorily answer he would ask to hide his diminished head. His occupation was gone."

Mr. Chamberlain then asked "why the foreign protective countries, even small nations like Sweden, had all prospered. He said that he believed they were better strategists than the British. Their policy, as enunciated by the late President McKinley and by the greatest of American long before, namely Lincoln, by Bismarck and other distinguished statesmen had a great deal behind it."

Then, proceeding, Mr. Chamberlain said: "I say you are inconsistent. You are adopting a suicidal course. If you persist in the present policy your workmen must either take lower wages or lose their work."

From present indications the Democratic party will make the tariff a leading issue in the next presidential campaign. The Democracy will advocate free trade or tariff for revenue only, and assert that the adoption of such a policy is essential for the future prosperity of the country. A strong effort will be made to convince workmen that a protective tariff is not good for them. This will be done in the face of our recent experience under the Wilson-Gorman free trade tariff and the entirely dissimilar experience we have enjoyed under the Dingley Protective tariff. With the disastrous experience of four years of free trade and the happy experience of seven years of protective tariff before them, will the people be so foolish as to hearken to Democracy and again choose free trade and consequent disaster?

Under a protective tariff policy our country has made the most wonderful industrial and commercial progress that has ever been recorded. Citizens pursuing all the avocations in life have been blessed with an abundance of work and have received fair remuneration for their labor. Contrary to the predictions of the Democracy the home and foreign markets for our products have been improved and enlarged. Since the Dingley bill became operative the man who has remained idle has done so from choice. How different has it been in England where the suicidal policy of free trade has been stubbornly adhered to. The people of this country ought to profit by the declarations of Mr. Chamberlain.

THEY HAVE A NEGRO CANDIDATE.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Old Dominion Sun, published at Staunton, says: "Over in Buckingham county the Democratic Primary nominated a negro for overseer of the poor in Mayville district. Out of 135 votes cast, Griffin, the negro, got 123."

Our contemporary also says: "In Mayville district of Buckingham county the Democratic candidate for overseer of the poor is a negro. He is opposed by a Republican nominee who was a Confederate soldier."

APPOINTMENTS FOR SPEAKING.

The following appointments are made for addressing the voters of Tazewell and Buchanan counties.

Rev. J. G. DELA. Hanman, Va., Oct. 29th, 2 p. m. Gap Store, " 30th, " " Pocahontas, " 31st, at night.

COL. J. S. BROWNING. Tazewell, Oct. 20th, (court day) 2 p. m. Grundy, Buchanan Co., Oct. 27th, " " Pocahontas, " 31st, at night.

HON. A. P. GILLESPIE. Tazewell, Oct. 20th, 2 p. m. H. G. McCall, County Chairman.

The Democrats of Tazewell county used to offer as a reason for their bitter hostility to General Walker that he was a turncoat and a buildozer. They do not seem to object to the record which Mr. Payne has made as a changing in politics and a brawler.

Will the uneducated white voters of Tazewell and Buchanan counties vote for a man to represent them in the Legislature who insisted upon disfranchising white men by a strict construction of the "understanding" clause of the Constitution?

The Democratic party made a pledge that no white man should be disfranchised. When W. P. Payne asks you to vote for him, ask him why he violated that pledge so persistently and repeatedly while he was acting as a registrar.

Rt. Dr. William Lawrence celebrated the tenth anniversary of his consecration as bishop on Monday.

A Thoughtful man.

M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 25c, at Jno. E. Jackson's, druggist.

Bishop J. S. Foley, Detroit, Mich., will be seventy years old on November 5, and the citizens are planning a public reception.

A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind. when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure. Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist. Trial bottles free.

Secretary Root has informed officials of the War Department that he will return from abroad on October 21, which will be in time for him to prepare his annual report to Congress.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist.

Mr. Noel Williams, who has already written interesting volumes on Mme. Recamier and Mme. de Pompadour, has recently completed the first biography of Mme. de Montepan ever printed in English.

Dieting Invites Disease.

To cure Dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cleanses the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a new and fallacious cure for indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by John E. Jackson, Druggist.

The memory of Charcot, founder of the School of Hypnotism in Paris, has been perpetuated by the chief of his wife. The statue just erected at Lemoulon-Bains is her work, done during his life, and is highly esteemed as a piece of portraiture.

The Salve That Heals.

without leaving a scar is DeWitt's. The name Witch Hazel is applied to many salves, but DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only Witch Hazel Salve made that contains the pure undiluted witch hazel. If any other Witch Hazel Salve is ofered you it is a counterfeit. E. G. DeWitt invented Witch Hazel Salve and DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, tetter, or blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles. Sold by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist.

Prof. Alfred Emerson has returned to the University of California, after spending three years in Europe, bringing with him a collection of ancient relics that is as rare and valuable as any in America and forming the nucleus for a museum that is destined to equal any in the world.

Only a Very Few Published.

It is not possible for the proprietors to publish more than a very few of the numerous letters received in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and telling of its remarkable cures. They come from people in every walk in life and from every state in the Union. The following from Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburg, Ga., speaks for itself: "I would have been dead now but for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me of chronic diarrhoea after seven years of suffering. I can never say too much in praise of that remedy." For sale by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist.

The citizens of Greensburg, Ky., have started a campaign for subscriptions to a fund for the purpose of erecting a monument over the grave of Moses Aiken, the "moonshiner preacher," and the most eccentric pulpiter orator the State of Kentucky and possibly the United States has ever had.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets.—Horley Bros., Merchants, Long Branch, Mo. For sale by Jno. E. Jackson.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through his Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist.

A Perfect Painless Pill.

is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have used griped and sickened, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect." Sold by John E. Jackson, Druggist.

A Card.

I wish my friends and all the voters of the county to know that I am again a candidate for Commissioner of the Revenue. The assessment blanks not being received until so late threw me back with my books, and consequently I shall not be able to make a canvass of the whole county, but shall visit as many voters as I possibly can. I am grateful to all those who voted for me four years ago, and I respectfully solicit the votes of the people again at the coming election.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist.

Roc Eggs.

The supply of roc eggs is apparently not yet exhausted in Madagascar, for a fresh specimen was brought over recently from Antananarivo to Johannesburg. Its finder doubtless regarding the hard capital as the most likely market in the South African quarter. The egg was put up for sale by auction, "between the chains," the other day, and, after some spirited bidding was sold for $100. Being, comparatively speaking, a fresh egg, the price paid for it is probably a fair one, but after it passes through a few more auctions its figure may reach the regular market standard, which has lately been well over $300.—Toledo Blade.

Insanity among men is sometimes unconquerable; but all herring takes in-seine can be cured.

Her Real Meaning.

"Oid' loike a reference, ma'am," said the cook who had been requested to resign.

The Novel Reader.

Oodle—Whenever I see you, you are reading a novel. You don't mean to say you remember all of them?

Short—Dear me, no. It's because I don't remember them I like to read them.—Boston Transcript.

Returning the Compliment.

Visitor—Is the baron at home? Butler—No. He sends a word to you that he has just gone out.

Visitor—Good! Give the baron my compliments, and say I didn't call—Harvard Lampoon.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by Jno. E. Jackson, druggist.
