Subject: "The Mission of the Frost."

Text: "By the breath of God frost is given." Job xxvii, 10.

Nothing is more embarrassing to an organ or pianist than to put his finger on a key of which he has no command. He is in a predicament. He is in a predicament.

As no one seems disposed to discuss the mission of frost, I will do so. It is the first Sabbath of the year. It is the first Sabbath of the year.

As no one seems disposed to discuss the mission of frost, I will do so. It is the first Sabbath of the year. It is the first Sabbath of the year.

Physician as skillful or so mighty as the frost. Scotland has had great physicians, but her greatest doctors have been the Abernethies and Abercrombies that have come down over the highlands north on the north wind.

Thank God for frost. It is the best of all great things. It is the best of all great things.

merged in sacred literature. The one has the advantage over the other because he has felt the mission of the frosts. Oh, take the consolation of this theme, you to whom life is a struggle and a disappointment, and you are lined with the feats of strong men.

As a physician, he will do for mild sickness, but violent pains need strong doses, and so I stand over you and count out some drops that will alleviate your worst troubles. You will only take the medicine, and have it in the world, and be of good cheer; I have overcome the world. "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

Thank God for frost! What helped make Milton the greatest of poets? The frost of the greatest of generals? The frosts of the greatest of warriors? What helped make Washington the greatest of warriors? The frosts of the greatest of warriors? The frosts of the greatest of warriors?

In all ages the world has had its prodigies. There were Sandows before now, and the pages of history are lined with the feats of strong men. Of all the athletes of the past Milo is one of the best known after the biblical Samson and the mythological Cyclops. It is recorded of him that he once ran a mile with an ox on his shoulders, then with a blow of his fist he killed the beast, and ate it in one day. It is optional with the reader which to admire—his great strength or his wonderful digestive ability. He perished through over-confidence in his strength. In attempting to tear asunder a forest tree, partially split by woodcutters, he was caught and held fast by the closing of the fissure, and was there devoured by wolves. Polydamas of Thessalia was a man of extraordinary strength and stature. As Hercules had done, he alone, without arms, killed an enormous lion that was devastating the valleys of Mount Olympus. With one hand Polydamas could hold back a chariot drawn by two horses. He could break the trunk of a tree as any one would break a small stick. The King of Persia, wishing to witness the feats of this marvelous man, called him to his court. He had opposed to him three of the strongest men of his army. Polydamas killed the three by simply giving each a slap on the ear; he was about to slap a few more when the King, satisfied, stopped him. Like Milo, he died through over-confidence in his strength. He attempted to support a mass of rock that had given away, but he was securely buried under it.

It is said that the Roman Emperor Caius Julius Maximus was a marvel of strength, being able to squeeze the hardest stone to powder with his fingers. He was upward of eight feet in height, and his wife's bracelet could serve him as a ring. Salvius of Rome could walk up a ladder carrying 200 pounds on his shoulders, 200 pounds in his hands, and 200 pounds fastened to his feet.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

They Lifted $15,900. Bold Robbery of the South Bend Indiana Bank. The boldest robbery in the annals of crime in Indiana was committed about noon, the victim being the South Bend National Bank, one of the leading banking centers in the State. The amount taken was $15,900. No clue to the identity of the robbers have yet come to light and they seem to have made good their escape. From the manner in which the details of the theft were carried out, it is certain that it was engineered by a gang of experienced criminals who have for some time been shadowing the bank and its officers and had become thoroughly conversant with their business habits.

Hairpins. Five hundred millions of hairpins! That is what the women of this land annually buy, beg, or borrow, say the Million. Now, a hairpin never wears out. It sometimes becomes pale and bent with age, but its avoirdupois is all there. What, therefore, becomes of these successive millions? During the last ten years 5,000,000,000 of hairpins have been made and sold. At present there are only about 100,000,000 in circulation. Now, where—where are the other 4,900,000,000?

German Xmas Syrup. Judge J. B. Hill, of the Superior Court, Walker county, Georgia, thinks enough of German Syrup to send us voluntarily a strong letter endorsing it. When men of rank and education thus use and recommend an article, what say is worth the attention of the public. It is above suspicion. "I have used your German Syrup," he says, "for my Coughs and Colds on the Throat and Lungs. I can recommend it for them as a first-class medicine." Take no substitute.
