

Mother

"My mother was troubled with consumption for many years. At last she was given up to die. Then she tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was speedily cured."
D. P. Jolly, Avoca, N. Y.

No matter how hard your cough or how long you have had it, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best thing you can take. It's too risky to wait until you have consumption. If you are coughing today, get a bottle of Cherry Pectoral at once.

The American and His Oyster.

The oyster in his glory is a rich, dark-colored, shapely inhabitant of salt water. He is plump, but not swelled up, and has a delicious, incomparable sally flavor, which nobody who really knows him would ever dream of spoiling with crude condiments. But rarely will the oysterman send such an exquisite creature to market. It is not fat enough or white enough for the vulgar crowd. So he puts it in fresh, or nearly fresh, water to "fatten"—that is, he draws off the fine natural juices by a process of osmosis, and substitutes therefor a quantity of water which distends it like a balloon and makes it just as tasteless. But it looks fat like a scrawny Christmas turkey judiciously fed by an air pump. Then it is put before the American as an oyster, and the American, who judges his food and drink largely by labels, pours over it salt, pepper, tabasco, Worcestershire, horseradish, or what not, and thinks it is all right. He might as well have any sort of sea urchin that would soft and puffy and wet as a vehicle for the concoctions which he uses to make himself believe that an oyster tastes like something.

Knew One Kind.

"When it comes to cake," she said, tilting her nose ever so slightly, "a man's ignorance is colossal. What do you know, for instance, about angel food?"

"I think I know the kind that the only angel of my acquaintance likes," whispered young Spoonmore handing her a box of fudges.

During the official year the army lost 7 per cent. of its enlisted men by desertion, or enough to make six full regiments. Half as many were dishonorably discharged.

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, MRS. MAY FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried travelling saleswomen in the West.)

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For over two years I suffered more than tongue can express with kidney and bladder trouble. My physician pronounced my trouble catarrh of the bladder, caused by displacement of the womb. I had a frequent desire to urinate, and it was very painful, and lumps of blood would pass with the urine. Also had backache very often.

"After writing to you, and receiving your reply to my letter, I followed your advice, and feel that you and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have cured me. The medicine drew my womb into its proper place, and then I was well. I never felt any pain now, and can do my housework with ease."—Mrs. ALICE LAMON, Kincaid, Miss.

No other medicine for female ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

How It Started.

They had been married only three short weeks, and he was actually interested in his paper at the dinner table.

"Darling," she began in a tone meant to be reproachful, "do you love me just as much as you ever did?"

"Sure thing," he answered briefly.

"Sure thing," he answered briefly. She ought to have been satisfied to let it go at that, but she wasn't.

"Why?" she asked.

"Don't know," he replied. "Just a fool habit I've got into. I suppose."

Then for seventeen consecutive seconds silence reigned supreme.

Looking for a Bargain.

"Have you bought that thermometer yet?" asked Mr. Suburba, as he poked up the fire.

"No," my dear, replied Mrs. Suburba, deep in the bargain sale announcements. "I thought I'd wait till it gets colder, when they'll be lower than they are now."

She Drummed.

"My husband, you know," said Mrs. Neddore, "is a drummer."

"Indeed?" replied Mrs. Newcome, "I thought it was your daughter."

"Eh? How do you mean?"

"I thought it was your daughter who used the piano."

THREE YEARS AFTER.

Eugene E. Lario, of 751 Twentieth avenue, ticket seller in the Union Station, Denver, Col., says: "You are at liberty to report what I first stated through our Denver papers about Doan's Kidney Pills in the summer of 1899, for I have had no reason in the interim to change my opinion of the remedy. I was subject to severe attacks of backache, always aggravated if I sat long at a desk. Doan's Kidney Pills absolutely stopped my backache. I have never had a pain or a twinge since."

Mr. Clancy's rich neighbor had persuaded him to call at the office of the park commissioners and enter a protest against one of the contemplated improvements.

"What is your objection?" they asked him. "Have you any abutting property?"

"Buttin' property, is it?" said Mr. Clancy. "Yes, I've a goat. Fwuhats that got to do wid it?"

Gaining a Reputation, Besides.

Junior Partner (a few days after Christmas)—I don't think we ought to mark these goods down to such a figure as that. It's less than half cost. We can't replace them for double the price.

Senior Partner—We won't have to, my boy. It's perfectly safe. Nobody has any money now.

Flatter of Grammar.

"Why do you persist in saying 'widow woman' all the time?" asked the expeditious. "Why not 'widow alone'?"

"That's all right if she happens to be a plain widow," explained the party of the other part, "but if she's young, handsome and wealthy why'll seldom find her alone."

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Cites to Salzer's Oats its heartiest endorsement. Salzer's New National Oats yielded in 1903 from 150 to 200 bu. per acre in 30 different States, and you, Mr. Farmer, can beat this in 1904, if you use Salzer's seeds, are pedigree seeds, bred up through careful selection to big yields.

Per Acre:
Salzer's Beardless Bearer yielded 121 bu.
Home Bred Bearer Corn 800 bu.
Speltz and Macaroni Wheat 80 bu.
Salzer's Victoria Rape 60,000 lbs.
Salzer's Teosinte, the fodder wonder 180,000 lbs.
Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass 20,000 lbs.
Salzer's Pedigree Potatoes 1,000 bu.
Now such yields say you can have them, Mr. Farmer, in 1904.

Good Uses for Paper.

The use of paper as an excellent wind shield and a guard against dampness has long been understood, but the paper garments of men and women which are shown by a druggist have a natty, trim air which almost marks them as a novelty of the season. It is evident they can be worn under the waist or vest without in any way adding to the apparent bulk or causing the slightest discomfort, yet at the same time exclude cold and moisture more effectually than the heaviest of flannels.

236 for a Pen.

Among the effects of the late Count Palenhausen, which have been sold by auction in Vienna, was the pen which was used in Paris on September 26th, 1815, by the Emperor Francis I., the Czar Alexander I., and King Frederick William III. of Prussia, in appending their signatures to the treaty of the Holy Alliance. The bidding started at $5, and the relic was knocked down to Consul General von Lindheim for $236.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL

International Lesson Comments For January 17.

Subject: The Baptism and Temptation of Jesus, Matt. III, 13 to IV, 11—Golden Text, Matt. III, 17—Memory Verses, IV, 3, 4—Commentary on the Day's Lesson.

I. The baptism (vs. 13-17). 13. "Cometh Jesus." So far as we know this was his first public act since He was twelve years old. "To Jordan." Probably at Annon near to Nazareth. "Unto John." Although John was His cousin (Luke 1: 33) that he "knew Him not," which may mean that John did not know Jesus to be the Messiah. "To be baptized." Any confession of sin was of course professed on the part of Jesus as a part of the question. There was only a "law" and that He was connected with humanity by the ties of blood, of suffering and of love. This act was an endorsement of John and a solemn inauguration of his ministry.

14. "Forbid." Earnestly and pressingly opposed Him. "I have need," etc. Although John was filled with the Holy Ghost from his birth (Luke 1: 15), yet he needed the baptism of the Holy Ghost and fire. He needed to receive a larger measure of the gifts and graces of the Holy Spirit. 15. "Suffered him not." These were the first words of Christ's public ministry. In this Jesus humbled Himself at the very outset. "Fulfill all righteousness." To leave nothing undone which would be honoring to the requirements of God. "He suffered Him." The same modesty which led him at first to decline the honor Christ offered him now caused him to perform the service Christ desired.

16. "The Heavens were opened." Luke says that Jesus prayed as soon as He was baptized (Luke 3: 21). Here is the first recorded prayer of Christ and His answer. The Spirit was sent down upon Him, and in all probability it was this that He was praying for. A threefold sign was given: 1. The Heavens opened. 2. The Holy Ghost descended. 3. The Father spoke. "He said." Christ saw it (Mark 1: 10), and John saw it (John 1: 33, 34), and it is probable that all who were present saw it. For his work, which was His own, He inaugurated. "Like a dove." There has been a difference of opinion as to whether this was a real, literal dove. Luke says it was in a "bodily" shape like a dove. (Luke 3: 22). "The Son of God from eternity. He never began to be His Son." He was also His Son because of His supernatural birth, and He was His Son because He was the work of the world's Redeemer.

II. The first temptation (vs. 1-11). 1. "Then." Immediately after His baptism. Such are the violent allegations of the devil. He tempted and tempted: approved of God and handed over to the devil. "Of the spirit." Luke says He was "full of the Spirit." Mark says, "The Spirit led Him." Tradition has fixed upon a high ridge called Quarantania, near Jericho. Mark says He was with the wild beasts. "To be tempted." Christ was not to be tempted by the world, the flesh, or the devil. To tempt is, literally, to stretch out, to try the strength of a person. 2. "Forty days." Moses, Elijah and Lord could fast forty days because they were in communion with God and living a heavenly life. Luke says He was tempted during the whole forty days. The struggle was painful, personal and real. Christ for our sakes met and conquered the tempter's utmost strength. "Afterward an hungered." After the forty days were ended. 3. "To eat bread." How Satan tempted Christ we do not know, but if he came in a bodily form it must have been an angel of light. If Thou be a Beware of temptation, that comes with the "Son of God." The "sonship" of His divine Sonship may now in a measure have been withheld. Alone in the wilderness and weak and worn from fasting, Satan saw his chance; now if you are the Son of God use the power you have to supply your necessities, and thus prove your divinity. "The Lord said, Eat thy bread." The Lord, as he did Eve, by the bodily appetite. He appeals to the animal nature first. By this avenue he approaches and conquers the great majority of mankind. Beware of this temptation of bodily appetites all gluttons, drunkards and debauchees have fallen and become the devil's prey. 4. "It is written." Deut. 8: 3. Jesus answered the devil by using the sword of the Spirit. "Not live by bread alone." Human support depends not on bread, but upon "God's unfailing word of promise and pledge of all needful providential care."

III. The second temptation (vs. 6-7). 5. "Pinnacle of the temple." The scene changes from the wilderness to Jerusalem. Some well known pinnacle must have been intended, probably the royal porch on the southern side of the temple. 6. "Cast thyself down." In His first reply to the devil Jesus had shown His unbounded confidence in God. Now Satan takes Him to the very point. If Thou be the Son of God cast Thyself from this pinnacle. All the world will wonder at so grand an exploit. This was a temptation to presumption, or an over-estimate of spiritual pride. "For it is written." The devil has a Bible, but he misquotes and misapplies. "Give his angels charge." A mutilated quotation of Ps. 91: 11. "Temp. Deut. 6: 16. To tempt God is to put Him to the proof—to demand evidence of His power and of His will to fulfill His promises, instead of waiting patiently and trusting. The temptation appealed to the love of show. Those carried away from God by worldly pleasures or the vanities of fashion fall here.

IV. The third temptation (vs. 8-11). 8. "Exceeding high mountain." Some high mountain in Judea, where a general view could be had of the country. "Sheweth . . . kingdoms of the world." The root of the third temptation lay in the supposition that the kingdoms of the world were the devil's kingdoms and that he could dispose of them. 9. "Worship me." Here the devil appears in his true character. Christ was publicly asked to adore him by an external act of homage, but by using force and establishing a temporal kingdom.

10. "Get thee hence." Jesus parleys with him no longer, but with authority commands him to go to his own place. The third temptation appealed to the ambition. By this temptation the great men of the world have fallen a martyr. 11. "Devil leaved Him." Satan had made the strongest effort of which he was capable and had been baffled at every point. "Angels . . . ministered." Brought that food that was necessary to support nature.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788. His age is 115 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme age to the use of Peru-na."

Born before the United States was formed. Saw 22 Presidents elected. Peru-na has protected him from all sudden changes. Veteran of four wars. Shod a horse when 99 years old. Always conquered the grip with Peru-na. Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years. Believes Peru-na the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan County, Texas, has lived for 115 years. For many years he resided at Roscoe, Texas, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his portrait. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 115 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 115 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given in this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1898. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1898, and also the Chicago Times-Herald of same date.

The snake was trying to shed his skin. "Help me off with this, will you?" he said to a frog that happened to be passing. The frog kindly complied with the request, and presently the discarded skin lay stretched along the ground. "Now," observed the frog, "I suppose you will do with that as I do with my cast-off garments—eat it."

"No," said the snake. "There is something better in sight." Thereupon he ate the frog. The moral of this, my dears, is that there is more than one kind of skin game, and some kinds are meaner than others.

date. This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peru-na, having used it many years. In speaking of his good health and extreme old age Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so.

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 115 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States.

"I have always been a very healthy man, but of course subject to the changes in the climate and temperature. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds and diarrhoea.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only, reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy.

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine.

"When epidemics of the grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease.

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Peru-na was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that I tried Peru-na for the grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a letter dated January 31, 1903, Mr. Brock writes:

"I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. The only thing that bothers me is my sight. I could use a better pair of glasses for the farm and it would do me good. I would not be without Peru-na."

Yours truly,
Isaac Brock.
