

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

FESTIVAL WEAR.

Gowns For Dress Occasions—Spangled Lace and Passementerie.

Trimmings are this winter infinitely varied, although spangles and all jeweled and metal effects are in the van of popular favor. Embroideries, both plain and beaded; rich passementeries, many of them combined with fur; renaissance and Venetian embroideries; lace, particularly spangled lace—all these are quite a la mode, and plainness, as it was understood a few years ago, is a thing forgotten. Spangled lace and spangled passementerie are used for costumes of highest ceremony and are considered to give a toilet what the French call "cachet," and which is a thing impossible to be rendered adequately in English words. "Style" is vulgar and commonplace, and "fashion" does not convey the exact meaning. Since France sets the example in dress, it may well claim to possess the only proper words for describing its best effects. Whatever produce one may have in favor of one's native American, it must give way before the necessity of using the proper technicalities. Danmarks have returned to popular regard and are employed for the most elegant toilets. They are woven usually in the most fashionable colors, green and reddish brown being a favorite combination, as well as blue and reddish brown. The blue is much on the tone of royal blue.

Velvet in oriental and faience styles is exceedingly fashionable, but expensive. This latter quality causes it to be used more as a trimming than for complete costumes, and it forms quilles, revers and similar adornments more often than gowns. Velvet waists are often seen and are a feature of the new styles.

For visiting costumes many gowns and capes are made en suite, and if the costume is carefully selected the capes may also be worn with other gowns. Discretion is not only the better part of valor, but of taste.

A cut is given of a pretty gown of white taffeta, with a pompadour flower pattern. The plain skirt is arranged in godets. The bodice, of accordion plaited cream mousseline de soie, has a gulpo of the same material, which may be omitted at pleasure, the line of junction being concealed by a large bow of mauve satin ribbon in front and at the back by a band of the same, with a clou at each end. Epauletes of lace fall over the balloon sleeves of taffeta, and a draped belt and collar of mauve satin and mauve satin bands at the elbow complete the costume.

CAPES AND COATS.

Large Silk and Velvet Collars—Cloth Costumes Trimmed With Fur.

Velvet, both plain and ornamental, is having an immense vogue. Velvet blouses are to be much worn, the oriental designs in delicate coloring being particularly fashionable.

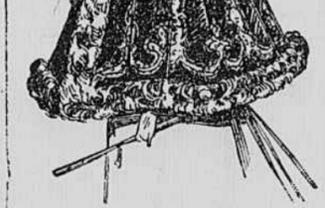

The large gulpo collar is giving way to collars of silk and velvet of a similar shape. These collars are often cut in tabs and are always lined with a contrasting color.

Fur capes are of great variety and are delightfully warm and becoming. They all fit smoothly over the shoulders and flare out into voluminous flutes below, but are variously finished around the neck, the favorite collar seeming to be of the medallion shape. They are lined with rich brocade.

White lisle thread gloves of fine quality are being worn in Paris, and large glove buttons are taking the place of the ordinary small ones.

Small but elaborate and expensive fans are the rule this winter, spangles and painted medallions being the favorite decoration for them.

Cloth or velvet out of door costumes in black, pancy or violet shades, trimmed simply with bands of fur, have rather a vogue in Paris just now. Astrakhan, marten, sable and blue fox are among the fashionable furs.

Many coques and tight coats are seen, with long basques, made of rich goods embroidered with flowers. Hats are rather smaller than they were, but the fashion of erect trimming still prevails.

Capes of velours du nord are exceedingly fashionable in Paris. They are trimmed with astrakhan or with exceedingly fine jet in the form of garlands, falls, arabesques and palm leaves.

The illustration shows a full cape of dark green velours du nord, bordered with a band of thick black ostrich feather trimming. It is additionally adorned with a rich embroidery of black spangles. The feather band forms a medallion collar, much rippled behind, the ripples being separated by coques of very wide black satin ribbon. The hat worn with this cape is of green chenille and is trimmed with ruby velvet.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 17.—The industrials were again largely in the lead of the standard rail shares in point of activity. The early movement of prices was animated and higher. Shortly after midday all other considerations lost importance, owing to the receipt, of the message of the President to Congress in relation to the Venezuela question. The compromising tone of the document was sharply reflected in a decline in prices, the international stock being especially weak. Noteworthy losses occurred in some of the specialties extending to 4 1/2 per cent. in Consolidated Gas. The trading was quite brisk in down grade. The closing was quiet with prices at about lowest and showing material concessions.

Closing stocks were as follows: Atchafalaya, 10 1/2; Adams Express, 140; Baltimore and Ohio, 45 1/2; Chesapeake and Ohio, 17; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, 82 1/2; Chicago Gas, 68 1/2; C. O. The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the high esteem in which it is held leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Cal., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory." For sale by The Chas. Lyle Drug Company.

Have a Shampoo?

When you do, have it with Pearlina. It's delightful. Not only cleans your head, but clears your brain. It's good for your hair and scalp, too—invigorates them, just as a bath with Pearlina invigorates your body.

You're missing half the luxury of bathing, if you're doing it without Pearlina. Moreover, you're not getting quite as clean, probably, as you might be. This may surprise you—but it's so.

Send it Back

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, be honest—send it back.
