Transvaal Burglers Nervous Themselves for a Supreme Struggle. LONDON, March 24.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon from Johannesburg says that the Transvaal Burglers are assuming an alarming attitude. It is added that strong feeling exists among the Dutch throughout South Africa, and that they are nervous themselves for a supreme struggle with Great Britain.

No reason is assigned for the sudden withdrawal of the bill of four members of the reform committee. They had been permitted to go to Johannesburg in order to attend to their private affairs, but all have now been arrested, and are kept under guard in a private house at Pretoria.

The Case of Walter Dgart. WASHINGTON, March 24.—Counsel-General Williams, at Havana, has telegraphed the State Department that he has made two applications to the governor-general of Cuba for information as to the case of Walter Dgart, a citizen of Illinois, arrested by the Spanish officials for complicity in the rebellion. So far he has received no response to his applications.

THE METHODISTS IN CONFERENCE

Opening Sermon at Greene-Memorial Last Night.

About Two Hundred Ministers and Delegates in the City—Others to Arrive This Morning—Bishop Hargrove. Meeting of the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College—Conference Proper at 9 a. m. To-day.

On every train yesterday the delegates to the one hundred and twelfth session of the Baltimore conference of the M. E. Church, South, arrived. A goodly number came in on the early trains and at noon quite a number came in from the west.

Bishop and Mrs. Hargrove were among those who arrived early yesterday morning. They are quartered at the Ponce de Leon Hotel.

There was a full meeting of the bishop's cabinet yesterday, but as the proceedings are only known to the bishop and members, nothing was learned of what they did. The cabinet is composed of the following presiding elders: P. H. Whisner, W. S. Hammond, David Bush, J. E. Armstrong, G. H. Zimmerman, J. S. Hutchinson, Rumsey Smithson and B. F. Ball. Their work was confined altogether to the work of making appointments for the coming year.

The Union depot yesterday afternoon presented a lively spectacle. Large crowds had gathered there, some through curiosity and others to meet the visiting ministers and escort them to their various homes where they will be entertained during the conference. The Norfolk and Western trains proper brought in a large number of preachers, but the Shenandoah Valley train, which was one hour late, was literally loaded down. Among those who come in and who were centres of attraction were Rev. J. H. Boyd, who was for four years pastor of Greene-Memorial; Rev. J. S. Eggle, a former pastor of Grace Church, and Rev. Chas. S. Stanton, formerly pastor of Trinity, now of Reisterstown, Md.

The local committee was kept very busy arranging for the visitors to find the various homes which had been secured for them. About two hundred members of the conference have already arrived, and some more are expected to get in to-day. W. E. Butler, formerly of this city, is here as a delegate from Danville and is the guest of M. F. Landes at Vinton.

In the matter of changes which will necessarily take place there are two presiding elders who will leave their districts by reason of the expiration of the time limits. They are Rev. David Bush, of Winchester district, and Rev. W. G. Hammond, of Lewisburg district.

Some of the other changes to be made are: F. H. Shipley, of Emory; L. G. Martin, of Severn; H. I. Stevens, of Middleburg; Rev. W. H. D. Harper, of Winchester; J. A. Anderson, Harrisonburg; R. M. Wheeler, Augusta district; J. C. Thrasher, of Waynesboro, and Basic City; W. K. Marshall, of Lewisburg; G. O. Homon, of Frankfort; T. B. Riley, of Rockingham; W. H. Ballangee, of Bonceverte, and H. A. Brown, of Moorefield.

Bishop Hargrove is one of the most prominent members of the Southern Methodist College of bishops. He is a native of Alabama, and was graduated from the university of that State in 1852. For several years he remained at the university as professor of mathematics, and in 1857 entered the Methodist ministry, his first charge being Macon circuit, Mississippi.

The bishop has also served the church as president of the Centenary Institute, Alabama, and of the Tennessee Female Seminary. He was prominent in Kentucky, where he was stationed after leaving the Macon circuit. He was elected bishop in 1882 at the Nashville General Conference, which also elected Bishop A. W. Wilson, of Baltimore.

At present Bishop Hargrove is president of the board of managers of the Epworth League and president of the board of trustees of Vanderbilt University, succeeding the late Bishop McIntyre.

The board of trustees of Randolph-Macon College held a meeting last night at the Ponce de Leon Hotel, but adjourned without transacting any business to meet again to-night at the same place.

The principal matter to be considered is the building of an extension to the Woman's College at Lynchburg. Revs. P. H. Whisner, J. S. Hutchinson, J. E. Armstrong, J. W. Duffy and David Bush. Lay members: P. V. D. Conway, Robert Magruder and Judge E. D. Newman.

At Greene-Memorial Church last night the number of persons assembled to hear the opening sermon of the conference was large.

ference was so large that there was hardly standing room left. This was preached by Rev. H. H. Kennedy, of Salem, who delivered an eloquent and instructive discourse on the subject of "Christian Perfection," which occupied an hour in its delivery, and was listened to with deep attention by the large audience.

It was announced that the opening session of the conference would begin at 9 a. m. this morning, when the body would be called to order by Bishop E. H. Hargrove, and that the sessions would be open to the public. At 12:30 o'clock a recess will be taken until 7:30 p. m., and this will be the regular order of proceedings while the conference is in session. The business of the morning session to-day will probably be occupied with the reports of the presiding elders on the work in their respective districts.

It has also been announced that the committee of arrangements have secured, through the courtesy of the managers of the electric street railway, free passes for the use of visiting ministers during their stay in the city.

CHARGED WITH MURDER. A Wealthy Coal Operator Arrested in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 24.—Samuel P. Langdon, a wealthy coal operator, was arrested to-day on suspicion of having been implicated in the death of Annie McGrath, who was found lying dead on her bed in the house, 2926 Girard avenue, last night. Langdon is 53 years old and the girl is 18. Although he has a residence at 3400 Powelton avenue he and the girl had been living in the Girard avenue house for about a month.

The only other occupant was a colored servant. The couple were known to the neighbors under the names of McGrath, McDonald and Langdon. The impression was that they were man and wife. Langdon had been in the girl's room nearly all day yesterday and took dinner alone at 5 o'clock. After the meal he went out and did not return.

The body was discovered by the servant at 9 o'clock to-day. There were no marks of violence on it, but the physicians say she had been dead twenty-four hours. One hand was clasping a handkerchief to the breast and a wet towel lay over the forehead and eyes.

Suspicion pointed to the supposed husband, and he was arrested to-day. The dead woman is described as having been very pretty. A post-mortem examination has been made, but the coroner's physician declines to reveal its results.

She was the daughter of a well-known business man. Langdon is well-known in business circles. He occupies a costly suite of offices in the Drexel building, employs a large force of clerks, and is reputed to be one of the wealthiest coal operators in the State. He is also financially interested in a number of Southern railroads.

A TERRIBLE MISTAKE. Two Spanish Columns Fire on Each Other With Disastrous Results.

HAVANA, March 24.—Another terrible mistake attended with loss of life and resulting in many soldiers being wounded has taken place. In some manner unexplained two columns of Spanish troops opened fire upon each other at mid-day. According to the few details received here the columns of troops commanded by General Godoy and Colonel Holguin at the Santa Rosa plantation, near Esparanza, province of Santa Clara, mutually mistook each other for insurgent forces, owing, it is said, to the thickness of the sugar cane. Each detachment opened fire upon the other and for ten minutes shots were exchanged, resulting in the killing of seventeen soldiers, among them being Lieutenant-Colonel Feunmayor, of the Navas battalion. In addition five officers and eighty-four soldiers were wounded. Two of the latter have since died, six others are mortally wounded and thirty-three are seriously ill. Lieutenant-Colonel Feunmayor died while leading his troops on and shouting "Long Live Spain." The explanation furnished by the Spanish commanders about the meeting is considered unsatisfactory and court martial will follow.

HAVANA, March 24.—Maximo Gomez has returned westward from the province of Santa Clara and was encamped yesterday at the plantation of Moralito, near Union de Reyes, province of Matanzas. Antonio Maceo is supposed to be at Santiago de los Bajos, province of Pinar del Rio. Enrique Porro Mata, an insurgent leader, has surrendered to the police of Cardenas, province of Matanzas. The authorities of Cardenas have captured Rafael Torayo and Casimiro Ponce, who have been accused of conspiring against the government.

The explanation given for the capture of the three boats loaded with arms and ammunition at Varadero, near Cardenas, is that Colliass, who, it is understood, has been in command of the expedition, mistook the landing place and went ashore at Varadero instead of the San Antonio canal.

The Lincolnshire Handicap. LONDON, March 24.—The Lincolnshire handicap was the feature of the second day's racing at the Lincoln spring meeting. This event was for three years and upward for a purse of 2,000 sovereigns, the second to receive 100 sovereigns and the third fifty sovereigns out of the stakes. There were eighteen starters over the straight mile. A. F. Bassett's chestnut horse Clorane won, Lord Roseberry's bay horse Quarrel, second, and Col. North's bay horse El Diablo third.

NO BAR NOW TO A COMPLETE UNION

Bill for the Relief of Confederates Passes the House.

It Had Already Passed the Senate Unanimously, But in the Lower House Was Vehemently Opposed by Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, Who Alone on the Final Ballot Voted Against It.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Senator Hill's bill to remove the restrictions against the appointment as officers of the army or navy of persons who held commissions in the regular army or navy before the rebellion and who subsequently took part in the war on the side of the Confederacy, which passed the Senate during the height of the excitement over the Venezuela boundary question, passed the House to-day after two hours debate with but one dissenting vote, that of Mr. Boutelle, of Maine. The Democrats, except Mr. Cummings, of New York, who spoke, as he said, "as one of the eight hundred thousand Northerners who fought in the Union army," and Mr. Wilson, of South Carolina, who was drawn into the debate by Mr. Boutelle, refrained entirely from participating. Mr. Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the military committee, who had charge of the bill, admitted that it would subserve no practical purpose and was largely sentimental.

Mr. Boutelle, who led the opposition single-handed, thought it would furnish a bad object lesson for naval and military cadets who were about entering on careers in the service of their country and when he got warmed up to his subject, called attention to the fact that many Southern men in Congress in the past had obstructed legislation in the interest of Union soldiers, dwelling particularly upon the opposition to the retirement of General Grant.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Mr. Grow, of Pennsylvania, however, supported the bill ardently as a graceful and gracious act to the vanquished and when the vote was taken, Mr. Boutelle alone voted against it.

To show that the South still held her animus against the North Mr. Boutelle said that in at least one State in the South Union soldiers were discriminated against in the matter of taxation, when General Walker, of Virginia, Republican, who was on Stonewall Jackson's staff, jumped to his feet and denied the statement. "I hold in my hand," said Mr. Boutelle, flourishing a pamphlet aloft, "a copy of the constitution of South Carolina, which provides a uniform tax on all voters in the State, except such as served in the Confederate army, who are relieved of the tax." This brought Mr. Wilson (Dem., S. C.), in the field to defend his State. He had been a member of the constitutional convention and the only discrimination in it in favor of ex-Confederates was that those over 50 years of age should be relieved from road duty.

Mr. Boutelle, resuming his speech, called attention to the condition of affairs in the South which had brought thirty contested election cases into the House because, he said, the right to vote was persistently and systematically withheld over a large portion of the territory of the United States.

Mr. Wilson in the meantime having found the provision in the South Carolina legislation said it applied to the poll tax and not to road duty. The poll tax from which ex-Confederates over 50 years old were relieved was one dollar.

"Why were not the Union soldiers exempted from the payment of that tax?" asked Mr. Boutelle.

"Why were not the Union soldiers pensioned by South Carolina?" said Mr. Wilson replying with a question "Down South," he continued, "they believe the war was over. The North cannot get along without the South any better than the South can without the North."

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., Ohio), then got the floor. If it had been left to him, he said, he could not have introduced the resolution, but being brought up he would vote for it. He would vote for any bill that made possible a higher degree of loyalty for every man who served the Confederacy. (Applause on the Democratic side.) The time has come, said he; it has come, when we need unity on both sides of Mason and Dixon's line.

He concluded with a glowing tribute to General Grant's generosity toward the vanquished and said that he wanted to see the Union so firmly re-established that the gates of rebellious hell would not avail against it.

There were hearty applause when Mr. Walker, a Virginia Republican, and a one-time Confederate general in Stonewall Jackson's brigade, said that much of harmony, good feeling and good will in his section depended on the passage of the bill. In the name of these old Confederates and their sons and the Republicans of the South—who were no longer prescribed because of their political opinions, he asked for the passage of the bill.

Mr. Cummings, (Dem., N. Y.) closed the debate with a plea for the passage of the bill as a war Democrat and said he hoped no ex-Confederates would vote on the question. The bill was then passed with a shout, and when the noes were asked for Mr. Boutelle, alone, rose dramatically and responded "No."

Then at 4:50 the House adjourned. Senate Proceedings. WASHINGTON, March 24.—Although the main Cuban resolutions have been recommended to conference the subject came up incidentally to-day on Mr. Mills' resolution for the forcible occupation of the island of Cuba in order to aid the Cubans in securing self-government. Mr. Mills spoke for two hours in support of the resolution.

Mr. Morgan also spoke briefly in further support of the Cuban resolutions. Mr. Mills' resolution went to the calendar after the speeches.

The rest of the day was given to the executive appropriation bill, which is not yet completed.

The conferees of the two houses on the Cuban resolutions held a session to-day, but without reaching a conclusion adjourned until to-morrow. The entire time of the conference was spent in canvassing the resolution and trying to arrive at common ground upon which the two houses can stand.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS. They Endorse Morton For President and Adopt a Tariff and Gold Platform.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Although the Republican State convention had been called to meet at 12 o'clock it was nearly an hour later than that when the gavel of Mr. Hackett, chairman of the State committee, called the members to order. A few minutes earlier ex-Senator Platt entered the hall, his appearance being the signal for a hearty greeting, the delegates and spectators cheered wildly and the band playing "Hail to the Chief."

Senator Parsons, as temporary chairman, made a speech declaring for Morton, protection and "sound money," after which the convention at 1:15 took a recess until 7 p. m.

The committee on nominations met during the recess and Thomas C. Platt, Warner Miller, Chauncey M. Depew and Edward Lauterbach were nominated as delegates at large to the national convention. General Tracey, of New York, and E. H. Butler, of Buffalo, were nominated as electors at large, but one vote in opposition being cast.

It was 7:45 when Temporary Chairman Parsons called the convention to order to-night.

Congressman Southwick was then escorted to the platform and addressed the convention: "If I were to assume the role of a political prophet," said Mr. Southwick, in opening his address, upon assuming the permanent chairmanship, "I would predict that in November next the American people will vote into power at Washington that party which declares for the American system of protection to home labor and industry and the maintenance of a system of sound and honest money."

The speaker then went into the history of the Republican party in relation to tariff legislation, and said no sturdier protectionist will be presented to the favor of the St. Louis Convention than Levi P. Morton. He alluded to the Wilson-Gorman act as "that crowning infamy of Democratic tariff policy," which, he said, had been a tariff for deficiency. He scored Congress for its inaction, which was due to Democratic and Populist Senate, which, with a President devoted to bond holders, had returned every measure of Treasury relief to the House loaded down with a free silver amendment.

Taking up the subject of Presidential candidates Mr. Southwick said: "No man whose reputation rests on the exploitation of a single idea is fitted to be a Republican Presidential candidate. The vast and varied interests of the American people require an all-around statesman as the man best fitted to meet problems of a national and an international character."

"On a high pedestal among the prominent figures of American statesmanship stands Levi P. Morton calm and dignified, a worthy type of the American citizen."

The allusion to Governor Morton was the signal for a cheer and applause that caused the speaker to hesitate for a few minutes.

FIRST BALL GAME OF THE SEASON

To be Played To-morrow by the "Regulars" and "Yanigans."

Pitcher Lipp Arrived Yesterday Morning. Something of His Career—Line-up of the Two Teams—Ed. Lloyd Sick—Bellevue vs. Bedford City—Something of Interest Concerning Other League Teams.

Thomas C. Lipp, pitcher from Baltimore, Md., reached the city yesterday morning. Lipp played during the past season with the Hagerstown, Md. club, and many of our people are familiar with his fine work for that club. He is nearly six feet tall, is 24 years of age and weighs 170 pounds. He seems the picture of health and it is predicted that he will be one of Roanoke's winning pitchers. Together with the other members of the club he was at the grounds in the afternoon hard at work practicing.

The first game of the season takes place to-morrow, when the "Regulars" will meet the "Yanigans" will be captained by Catcher Sheehan, who says he will give the "Regulars" a hard battle.

The two teams will line up as follows: "The Regulars"—La Fleur, catcher; Coons, pitcher and right field; Sullivan, first base; Williams, second base; Cockman, third base; Wrigley, short stop; Grove, left field; Tate, centre field; McFall, right field and pitch.

"The Yanigans"—Sheehan, catcher; Lipp, pitcher and left field; Kimble, first base; McCann, second base; Chesbro, third base; Pryle, short stop; Pittenger, left field and pitcher; Willis, centre field; Campbell, right field.

The game is to be called at 3:30 o'clock. Admission will be 15 cents, with 10 cents extra for the grand stand. Ladies admitted free.

Manager Boyer is trying to arrange games April 1 and 2 with the Boston league club.

All the team is now here with the exception of Groves and Whitehill. Eddie Lloyd, a pitcher for Roanoke's last year team, is on the sick list.

Bellevue vs. Bedford City. BELLEVUE, Va., March 24.—(Special.) The Bellevue High School baseball team opened the season here to-day with a victory over Bedford City. The grounds were wet and the weather cold but the Bellevue team managed to win with ease.

Richmond's League. The correspondent of the Index-Appeal says:

"All the members of the Richmond baseball team are here except Pender, Rafter, Wood, Sweeney and Brunemer. Sweeney and Wood are expected tomorrow. Pender will be here on Thursday. Rafter's arm is still in very bad shape and Wells fears he will not be able to play next season. Wells will keep Rafter on his list, but in the meantime he is looking out for another good catcher. He has two in Dobbins and Myers, but he does not know that these two young men will suit him. A great reception was given Berte, Groves and Tannetill on their arrival yesterday. A delegation of rooters met them at the train and the players were taken to Rueger's, where an elegant breakfast was served. To-day Wells took his men to West End Park and they had a very satisfactory practice. All five of the pitchers were tried and they showed up well. Great things are expected of Ames, who was with the Lynchburg team a part of last season. Gilpatrick is the heaviest of the pitchers and is a hard hitter. Pender has been playing ball in New Orleans for three or four weeks and is in fine form.

A Disclaimer From Spain. WASHINGTON, March 24.—The Spanish government has officially disclaimed responsibility for the fiery views expressed in the columns of the Madrid newspaper, El Epoca. The article which has called forth the disclaimer was one demanding that the United States cease talking about the Cuban insurrection or else declare war at once upon Spain. The government felt that it might be harmful as it intimated that the article was inspired by it.

New Excise Law to be Tested. NEW YORK, March 24.—The constitutionality of the new excise law will be tested in the supreme court to-morrow, when Justice Pryor will be asked to pass upon an order compelling the commissioners of excise to rescind a refusal to renew a saloon license to Fred. G. Einsfeld.

Sir Julian Going to London. LONDON, March 24.—It is believed here that the British ambassador at Washington, Sir Julian Pauncefote, will shortly come to London to discuss with the government certain features of the Venezuelan question.
