ASSASSIN GOLLI FORGIVEN.

Dramatic Speech at Canovas' Funeral by His Widow.

Madrid, August 14.—The funeral of Senor Canovas was held to-day. All the troops of the garrison lined the route a long which the cortege moved. More than a thousand wreaths were deposited in the death chamber. A salvo of artillery announced the starting of the funeral procession, which moved slowly through an enormous crowd, in which all heads were bare, and many eyes were weeping.

A peculiarly poignant scene occurred when the Duke of Soto Mayor, Marshal Martinez Campos, Marquis Pazo de la Merzed and the other pall bearers lifted the coffin. Senora Canovas in a clear, firm tone, said:

"I desire that all should know that I forgive the assassin. It is the greatest sacrifice that I can make; but I make it for the sake of what I know of my husband's great heart."

Senor Sagasta, the opposition leader, headed the cortege, which was formed of militia, deputies, senators, generals, admirals and delegations representing all the principal public bodies. The wreath of the queen regent rested upon the coffin.

Prince Bismarck, in his telegram of condolence to Senora Canovas, says: "I have never bowed my head before any one, but I bow it every time I near the name of Canovas."

ONE KILLED, THREE WOUNDED. St. Louis, Mo., August 14.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas north bound passenger train was derailed near Caddle Mills, between forty and fifty miles north of Dallas, Texas, about midnight last night.

W. H. Rollins, baggage man, was killed, and three negro passengers slightly wounded. No one else was injured. The rails of the tracks were displaced, evidently by design, but whether for the purpose of robbery or through spite is not yet known.

A REMARKABLE CURE OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 16th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since.

I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50-cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERGER, Allentown, Pa. Sold by H. C. Barnes, "He puts up prescriptions."
