

Society

It has come upon us—not the calm that precedes a storm but the peaceful activity of social elements that follows an unusual agitation. It was hoped that this would be effected gradually, but it was not to be. The bottom has dropped out of the "Old Oaken Bucket" and we have only "Fond Recollections" and lively faith to keep us up. How long this state of inertia will continue none can tell. Christmas is too far off and Thanksgiving presents too material a prospect for us to look forward to anything but turkey and condiments. We can say however that no one can sneer at the "row we mowed" during the summer. Its memories will linger with us as we toast our feet around the peaceful hearthstone of the coming winter months when moonlight picnics and outing parties will mock us as we shiver and pile on more coal. Let us take heart and make our own circumstances and not permit circumstances to make us.

One ray of light has been cast athwart the gloom by the decision of the Cotillion Club to hold a german at Hotel Roanoke on Friday evening, October 22. It is a daring move and worthy of success. The club held a meeting on Friday evening at Dayton Miller. It was decided to make the position honorary, as in the old German Club, and Mr. W. A. Glasgow was elected. He stated that owing to expected absence from the city he would prefer the selection of some one else, but it was decided to ask him to allow his name to stand. John Wood was made vice-president, John Reid treasurer, and N. R. Pritchard secretary. Warren Wellford and Mason Jamison were placed upon the executive committee. The club has not heard definitely from many of those who expressed a desire to become contributing members.

Mrs. John Trout entertained a few friends at duplicate whist on Tuesday evening. Her guests were Miss Williamson and Miss Cabaniss, of Georgia, Miss Martha Belle Trout, Dr. Harrison, and Messrs. Wood, Eberhardt and Jay Turner.

Another whist party was given on Tuesday evening by Mrs. S. S. Brooke at her home on South Franklin road. It was entirely informal. Those present were Mrs. Prince, Miss Bots, Miss Janie Figgat and Messrs. Pike Mende, Watts, Clarence Williams and S. P. Figgat.

Mrs. Parke and Miss Ola Parke are spending the fall and winter in Washington. Miss Parke will make her debut during the coming season.

The Golf Club, which has been so much talked about, seems to be proceeding quietly and calmly on the even tenor of its way. Much interest is felt in the movement of the club, but nothing of the nature of a game has been seen yet.

It is seldom that the music lovers of Roanoke, and there are many here, have had the opportunity of hearing at home music of such a high order as that to be given by the Scalchi Company at the Academy on Wednesday evening. Their appearance here is partly due to accident, as they rarely appear in any of the smaller towns. To those familiar with the musical world the names of Solia Scalchi, contralto; Mlle. Touloung; Sig. Guarini, tenor; Sig. Albertini, baritone; Mlle. Marie Du Bedat, mezzo soprano, and Sig. Gallin, pianist, are those of artists. The entertainment will be a society event and should meet with the support of those who wish to uphold the standard of our theatre. The concert will be composed of miscellaneous selections besides which there will be given an entire scene from grand opera with full scenery, costumes and paraphernalia.

M. N.—Your question is rather indefinite and should be more explicit. Should you see fit at any time, for any reason, to ascertain your lady friend's age, go to her in person and ask her. That there should ever be any reason for knowing we cannot see. It is a thing best left undisturbed. "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise"—besides you may run the risk of losing a dear friend without alleviating your ignorance in the slightest degree. But above all do not inquire among the neighbors. That is the height of folly.

A.—The question of raising chickens, whether Bantams or Langshans, should be left with the lady with whom you board. It is a delicate subject (sometimes) and your landlady may think you are casting insinuations. If you are fond of chickens and do not see them often enough at meal times you might tie one to the leg of your bed and play with it in the evenings when your work is done. Why not be manly and keep a dog? Chickens are very nice in their way, but they sometimes become so "set" in it that they lose their usefulness as playful pets.

R. B.—We regret to say that the only subject upon which our information is limited is that of how to get around circumstantial evidence. If it is the general opinion that from the looks of things, you kissed the girl; you had better say nothing and let the opinion stand. No amount of denial will do any good. You will at least have your own clear conscience to console you besides the thought that you are travelling a pathway worn by the feet of many who have gone before. It is hard, but we are afraid you cannot do anything.

Those who believe chronic diarrhoea to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Guays Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that affected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. It is pleasant to take and never fails to effect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by H. C. Barnes. The tea given at the Methodist Aid-Society Friday night by the Ladies' Aid-Society, was a pleasant and successful affair. The cultured voices of Mrs. Hoover, an English lady who came to Salem to enter her son at Roanoke College, V. H. Chalmers and others, and the piano performances of J. E. Allemon, were delightful adjuncts to the social circle and about nine dollars was netted, which was doing very well considering the fact that they had nothing to sell, only charging a small admission fee to the table and its accompanying pleasures.

To-morrow (Monday) will be county court day. A large crowd will doubtless be in attendance, as Major Peter J. Orey, present Congressman from the Sixth district, and the Hon. H. E. Jones, ex-mayor of Roanoke, will meet the voters and discuss the issues of the present campaign. Turn out, Democrats, and give them an old time Democratic reception.

Miss Annie Palmer sent the reporter a day or two ago, some very pretty specimens of English walnuts raised on the place of John M. Palmer, on Virginia avenue. The nuts were of good size and excellent flavor, though probably not so thin barked as the California nuts. These nuts might be grown with profit in Virginia, as they are raised in Maryland, Pennsylvania, California and elsewhere in North America.

Owing to the fact that the following information asked for was not immediately available, we have been delayed in publishing it. President Davis' cabinet was originally drafted as follows. Of course there were changes during its existence:

Vice-President, A. H. Stephens, of Georgia.
Secretary of State, Robert Toombs, of Georgia.
Secretary of the Treasury, Christopher G. Meminger, of South Carolina.
Postmaster General, John H. Reagan, of Texas.
Secretary of the Navy, Stephen H. Mallory, of Florida.
Secretary of War, Leroy P. Walker, of Alabama.
Attorney General, Judah P. Benjamin, of Louisiana.

Mr. Benjamin afterwards held other positions in President Davis' cabinet.

KASEY ROW BURNED.

Perhaps the largest fire in the history of Salem occurred at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, when five two-story frame cottages, situated on Chestnut street and known as the Kasey row, burned to the ground. The fire originated in the kitchen of the central cottage occupied by a Mrs. Coleman and her two daughters. Before the alarm was turned in at the bell tower the cottage was almost totally destroyed, so fast and furious was the devouring element. The other houses being all close together soon caught, and although the fire company responded with chemical engine and hose, it was impossible to stop the flames. The five houses were soon in ashes. There is a 4-inch water main on Chestnut, but it is connected with the 4-inch main on Union street by a 2-inch pipe, consequently there was a lack of water with which to handle the fire. It was so intensely hot that the chemical engine could not be used. When all of the row was enveloped in flames, a red glare reached out far to the westward, and the east windows of the West Salem buildings seemed squares of molten gold and the rooms were brightly lighted by the fire. Four of the houses were occupied; Mrs. Oliver, M. M. Butler and family, J. W. Grissom and family, Jno. Garst and family and Mrs. Coleman and family being the occupants. Nearly all of the furniture and inside stuff was saved. These buildings were erected by Col. T. A. Kasey during the boom of '90 at a cost of $8,000. We

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The annual county institute for white teachers closed Friday evening after the most successful meet in its history. The following subjects were discussed: "How can a public school develop in its community higher standards of citizenship?" "Language work in first, second and third primary grades." "How to neutralize the influence of a bad boy in school." "Should music be a cardinal part of the school programme?" These subjects were ably discussed by the teachers, of whom 56 out of a total of 59, almost a perfect attendance, were present. A pleasant departure from the ordinary routine were the lectures each day by visiting clergymen. Wednesday a lecture was delivered by the Rev. E. W. Hubbard on "History." Thursday Dr. Luther Fox of the college lectured on "The Responsibilities of a School Teacher." Friday the lecture was by the Rev. James E. Armstrong. Subject, "School Management." The teachers were agreeably entertained while here and before adjourning passed a vote of thanks for their kind and hospitable treatment by the Salem people.

CAMPAIGN CLUB.

The Democratic campaign club met in the courthouse Friday night and completed its organization. President R. W. Kline was in the chair and appointed the following executive committee: W. B. Dillman, H. B. Rockhill, H. M. Hundley, Col. E. H. Logan, C. M. Hatcher, W. B. Bowles, J. H. Garst, Wm. Simpson, O. L. Stearnes and A. O. Brown. On registration the following committees were appointed from the three city precincts: South Salem, M. G. McClung, E. H. James, and T. D. Sowers. North Salem, A. H. Whitesell, W. W. Moffett and A. J. Haislip. West Salem, J. B. Karnes, J. T. Phlegar and Tip Hurst. On motion Thomas I. Preston was added to this important committee. County Chairman Henderson Lee made a few remarks concerning the imperative necessity of organized work. It was stated by the president that on next Friday night the club would be honored by an address from the Hon. R. R. Hicks, of Roanoke. Quite a number of new names were added to the club's membership, after which it adjourned to meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE PACIFIC SALE.

Another Company Will Bid If the Terms Are Changed.

New York, Oct. 16.—Owing to the fact that President McKinley has received information that a new syndicate of responsible New York men, as well as the Huntington-Gould combination, stands ready to bid at the sale of the Union Pacific Railway, providing the terms of payment and time of sale are satisfactorily changed within a few days, he may order a postponement. The sale was advertised to take place on November 2.

The present terms as drawn up by Attorney General McKenna are practically prohibitory, except so far as the Huntington-Gould syndicate is concerned, and this fact called forth an open boast from a member of the reorganization committee that it would get the property at its own price of $32,000,000 above the first mortgage bonds, omitting the sinking fund of $17,000,000, or about $30,000,000 below the government's claim of $53,000,000. The President is opposed to any suppression of competition whatever.

President McKinley, it is understood, has decided to shift Mr. McKenna to the bench of the supreme court.

MORE VALUABLE TURQUOISES.

They Come From Southern Mexico, But the Exact Location is Guarded.

Sante Fe, N. M., Oct. 6.—Another remarkable shipment of turquoise has been sent east from this city by the Wells-Fargo Express Company. It consists of five cut stones, the weight of which respectively is 73, 50, 30, 23 and 23 karats, the combined value of which is $8,200. These gems came from Southern New Mexico, but the exact location of the mines is a carefully guarded secret.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say it was a satisfactory in its results is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent cough remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or a cold in any form. The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. FOUGHT THE SHERIFF.

Irwin Brown Tries to Break Out of Jail Again.

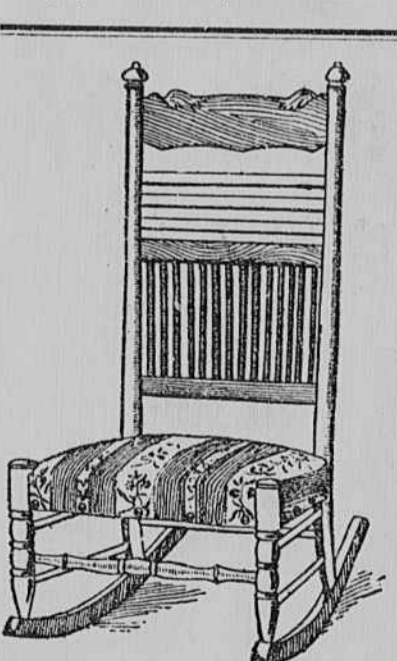

Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 16.—It was only by the merest chance that Erwin Brown, confined in the county jail at Harrisville, did not make on Wednesday night a second escape from it. Brown is the self-confessed murderer of Emanuel Crull, and is considered one of the most desperate criminals now in custody in this State. The story of his escape from jail in August, and one of the exciting incidents of his flight and recapture, are well known to the readers of The Times. Since his return to the jail there Brown has remained sullen and has had scarcely anything to do with his fellow-prisoners. It is believed by some that he has been playing the insanity dodge. A close watch on his actions has been maintained by Sheriff Patton, and it was this vigilance on that officer's part that prevented him from again escaping on Wednesday night.

Upon hearing a suspicious noise a little after dusk at the time mentioned, the sheriff suspected something wrong, and went into the jail on a tour of investigation. His vigilance was rewarded with finding Brown in the act of sawing off one of the bars. He had already severed one, and was well on his way through the second, which, of course, meant his liberty. After a thorough search the sheriff found the instrument with which the bars had been sawed. It was an ordinary case-knife, with saw-teeth cut into it nearly the entire length of the blade. When the tool was found Brown flew into a rage and swore like a trooper.

He struck the sheriff a heavy blow in the face with his fist, and then seized a chair, and there is no telling what he would have done to the sheriff had not that officer been too quick for him and brought down a pair of handcuffs on his head with such terrific force as to tell him to the floor, where he remained in a helpless condition for some time. He was immediately handcuffed and allowed to remain so all night. Where he got the knife is a profound mystery, as none of that pattern can be found in the neighborhood. A rigid watch will be kept over him from now on.

The Protestant Episcopal Church to be "The Church" in Future.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 16.—The Protestant Episcopal Church of an era will be known in the future simply as the church, if the movement, formally inaugurated in the meeting of the Milwaukee Diocesan council to-day is taken up by the dioceses generally throughout the country, as the clergymen and laymen firmly believe it will.

In amending the constitution of the diocese, the words "The Protestant Episcopal Church" were stricken out and "The Church" inserted in their stead. It is stated that this change has been under discussion for some time in different dioceses, but the Milwaukee diocese is the first, according to one of the lay delegates, to take action in the matter. The amendment to the constitution was adopted without discussion, having been considered at the council meeting in Madison last year, when it was decided to put it to a vote at this meeting.
