J. F. Wooten left Monday for Jacksonville to attend the Democratic state convention.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hilliard, of Tropic, were passengers up to town Saturday by the Silver King.

To the great satisfaction of the people the mosquito crop this season so far has been quite short.

G. S. Hardee, of Rockledge, left Monday for the pineapple belt to buy pines for a northern firm.

R. E. Mims, of Bonaventure, drove up to Cocoa Saturday, bringing a wagon load of watermelons and cabbages.

S. S. Jones, C. W. Crabb and S. P. Taylor caught 94 fine bream in about three hours last Friday at Lake Poinsett.

J. M. Sanders has returned from a week's trip to his Hobe Sound pineapple farm to superintend the shipping of his fruit.

The stay-at-homes are enjoying the most delightful weather these days—what the go-aways miss by leaving the climate behind them.

The Canaveral made the trip from Eau Gallie to this place Wednesday, and will, we understand, hereafter make regular runs from Eau Gallie to Courtenay.

Joe Wilkinson, formerly of Rockledge, but now of Pompano, Dade county, was visiting relatives and friends here and in Rockledge for several days the past week.

Fishing is the fad nowadays; not the professional rod and reel kind, but the old-fashioned school boy hook and line, with a big long pole, a strong line and a gourd full of bait.

When salt water fishing grows monotonous the ardent east coaster goes away across the flat woods to the St. Johns lakes and there lures the gamey bream from their watery lair.

Some miscreant attempted to enter the residence of G. S. Hardee Monday night by cutting the screen from the window and crawling in, but the attempt threw some glass jars to the floor, the noise of which awakened the family, and when a light was struck the rascal left.

S. S. Jones and S. P. Taylor made a trip to Lake Poinsett and connecting waters of the St. Johns this week, returning with 168 pounds of fine black bass, which they took with hook and line. Having a car they kept every fish alive and in fine condition, and disposed of the entire catch to local fish dealers at a good price.

Supt. Sams was in town Friday to meet the building committee of the proposed new school building. The committee organized by electing Dr. Hughlett chairman, the other members being A. L. Hatch and Wm. Stilling. Preliminary arrangements were made, and a general understanding was had as to the kind of building to be erected, etc.
