

MRS. EMMONS BLAINE'S SCHOOL.

A Most Interesting Young Woman—Her Model Schools.

Special correspondence of The Florida Star.
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Chicago educational circles are deeply interested just now in the Chicago Institute, which is the product of the brain of a most remarkable young woman. She is no stranger, either to Chicago or to the country at large, for she is named Mrs. Emmons Blaine, and her late husband was the son of James Gillespie Blaine. She herself is the daughter of a man no less remarkable in his own way, the late Cyrus McCormick, who reaped an enormous fortune with his grain reaping machines. A large share of this fortune descended to his daughter, and she is making a most worthy use of it. Mrs. Blaine is probably the only wealthy Chicago woman who manages her own estate, and to that end she has an office in one of the down town buildings. Here also are planned the details of her numerous charities and of her sociological schemes. Most of Mrs. Blaine's work for good is done in secret, for she dislikes publicity, but two of her recent achievements attracted widespread attention. Last fall she was probably the first wealthy Chicagoan to turn in a complete schedule of personal property for taxation purposes, and last spring she earned the gratitude of all household servants by introducing into her own menage an eight hour schedule. But the greatest of her philanthropic projects is the Chicago Institute, which was recently opened.

The Chicago Institute may be divided into two sections, the academical and the normal. The first is the outcome of Mrs. Blaine's efforts to find a suitable school for her only son, now about 9 years of age. She found none that completely embodied her ideal, so she determined to establish one. The Chicago Normal school, presided over by Colonel Francis Parker, one of the best known educators of America, came nearest to her idea of what a school should be, so after much persuasion she induced Colonel Parker to take charge of her projected school. His principle in teaching, "If you give the children a chance, they'll be good," appealed to her. By the way, Mrs. Blaine has devoted a very great deal of time and attention to educational affairs and could pose as an authority herself if she wished. The second section of Mrs. Blaine's school is intended for the teaching of teachers, and in it are embodied the latest experiences of workers in this field. To some extent the teachers' school is a copy of the Teachers' college of New York.

The young widow, for she is only about 35, selected for her school a splendid site, for which she paid $275,000. The building, which is nearing completion, is very large and somewhat rambling in architecture, for it was planned in a rather peculiar way. Mrs. Blaine called together the heads of the various departments of her proposed school, most of whom were from Colonel Parker's old institution, and asked each of them to submit a plan for his or her department. The designs so originated were then turned over to a celebrated architect, with instructions to embody them all in one building. In this way each department, library, pedagogical or scientific, as the case may be, will have its section of the building as planned by its director to bring out the best work.

A branch of the academic department of the institute will be established in one of the crowded quarters of the city to work in conjunction with the main building. The latter is not yet ready for occupancy, and the institute is at present in temporary quarters. The schools are free and primarily intended for the poor, but they have attracted the attention and gained the approval of many rich people, who are sending their children to them. The school takes children 4 years of age and directs them through the kindergarten, primary, grammar and high schools and two years of college life. The great advantage to be gained lies in having all these courses under one head and each department under the direction of a trained educational specialist.

The curriculum of the schools is thoroughly up to date and includes besides regular educational courses others in manual and physical training, domestic science and business. An exhaustive preparatory training for workers in every field is aimed at, leaving university education for individual choice.

Sick Headache

Is the bane of women. What is wanted is not relief alone, but relief and cure. Dr. Loyal Ford's Dyspepticide will cure sick headache for all time; it makes the stomach right. B. R. Wilson & Son.

Her Celestial Credentials.

"Put it down thar," said the old man to the obituary writer, "that she wuz 42 an likely fer her age."
"That's down."
"That she wuz never known ter speak a cross word, bein deaf an dumb from childhood."
"All right."
"That she is now at rest on Abraham's bosom— But hold on! Ain't that whar Lazarus is?"
"I think so."
He paused a moment as if in deep thought. Then he said:
"No matter! Put it down that she's thar, too, fer ef ever Lazarus sees her comin he'll vacate an hunt another restin place. 'Sides that, he's been thar too long anyhow!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Many people worry because they believe that they have heart disease. The chances are that their heart is all right, but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas, which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. Wilson & Son.

Led in One Thing.

"Is there anything in which you excelled when you went to school?" asked Miss Cayenne.
"Yes," answered Willie Washington.
"I made more blunders than any other boy in the class."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Poteau, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux; I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects, even in the most severe cases, make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by B. R. Wilson & Son.

Not Sensitive.

Sophy (who accepted Mr. Charles Fleetwood the night before)—Does Mr. Fleetwood strike you as being a sensitive man, Pauline?
Pauline (who doesn't know of the engagement)—Gracious, no! A man who has been rejected by 14 girls within six months and gets fat on it cannot be sensitive. Why, Sophy, what's the matter?
She had fainted.—London Fun.

To remove a troublesome corn or bunion—First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible, without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily; rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by B. R. Wilson & Son.

Fat Policemen.

"Have you ever noticed that nearly all policemen get fat?" asked a man who keeps his eyes open. "This would seem to disprove the theory that walking in the open air is a means of reducing superfluous weight. I have known new policemen to start on their beat weighing no more than 125 pounds. In six months they would tip the scales at 150 and in a year reach the 200 mark. It must be the slow sauntering in the open air that does it, for I have noticed that while policemen grow fat the horse sergeants, who are confined to the stations, are invariably thin. Those who patrol the streets gain the maximum weight in about three years. The muscles then harden, and despite their apparent burden of flesh the men usually develop great activity. One of the best runners and jumpers I know is a policeman who weighs nearly 300 pounds."—Philadelphia Record.

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to free itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months. Carbuncles, which are more painful and dangerous, come most frequently on the back of the neck, eating great holes in the flesh, exhaust the strength and often prove fatal. Boils are regarded by some people as blessings, and they patiently and uncomplainingly endure the pain and inconvenience under the mistaken idea that their health is being benefited, that their blood is too thick anyway, and this is Nature's plan of thinning it. The blood is not too rich or too thick, but is diseased—is full of poison—and unless relieved the entire system will suffer. The boil or carbuncle gives warning of serious internal troubles, which are only waiting for a favorable opportunity to develop. Many an old sore, running ulcer, even cancer, is the result of a neglected boil.

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Cave, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was sorely afflicted with boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It is impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, and I tried all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1888 I was persuaded to try S. S. S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured, and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

Baneful Boils

Keep the blood pure, and it will keep the skin clear of all the irritating impurities that cause these painful, disfiguring diseases. S. S. S. cures boils and carbuncles easily and permanently by reinforcing, purifying and building up the blood and ridding the system of all accumulated waste matter. S. S. S. is made of roots and herbs which act directly on the blood, and all poisons, no matter how deep-seated, are soon overcome and driven out by this powerful purely vegetable medicine. S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy, but for fifty years has been curing all kinds of blood and skin diseases. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. It is a pleasant tonic as well as blood purifier—improves the appetite and digestion, builds up your general health and keeps your blood in order. Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study—write them fully about your case, and they will be cheerfully given. We make no charge whatever for this service. Dangerous Carbuncles

You cannot afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. Wilson & Son.

Daniel Webster paid his second term's tuition at Dartmouth by handling DeTocqueville's "America" in Merrimac county, N. H.

Cold Steel or Death

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvelous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at B. R. Wilson & Son's drug store.

George Washington, when young, canvassed around Alexandria, Va., and sold over two hundred copies of a work entitled "Bydell's American Savage."

If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup, you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure, which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. Wilson & Son.
