

OIL KING'S INNER LIFE

Congregational Minister's Estimate of John D. Rockefeller.

A SINCERELY CHRISTIAN MAN.

Rev. John Hutchins of Litchfield, Conn., who spent a week in close association with Rockefeller and his family, says he is intensely religious and tries to do as much good as possible.

The clearest insight into the character of John D. Rockefeller ever obtained by those not intimately associated with him was given recently by John Hutchins, pastor of the Congregational church of Litchfield, Conn., says the New York American.

Mr. Hutchins spent a week in the spring of 1903 intimately associated with Mr. Rockefeller and his family, and basing his judgment upon that opportunity for learning much of the real character of the millionaire, he declares Mr. Rockefeller to be a man of the most intensely religious convictions and a man sincerely endeavoring to accomplish as much as possible for the good of the world.

Inspired by the attacks made upon Mr. Rockefeller and his "tainted money," he told of the inner life as he knows it and which he believes to be of a sort to make it consistently practicable for any church or missionary society to accept freely of Mr. Rockefeller's gifts.

"In the early spring of 1903 Mr. Rockefeller and his family came to one of the smaller mountain resorts," said Mr. Hutchins, "and I was brought accidentally into a week of close contact with him. It was in the month of May. The wild viburnum was in blossom on the mountain. The season had not opened yet, and I was the only guest at the hotel and by sufferance, for I knew the proprietor, who, with his family, was making ready for the opening."

"Word came to my friend, the proprietor, that John D. Rockefeller and his family would like to occupy the place for a week or two, and occupy it alone, to the exclusion of other guests. This was because of the nervous breakdown of one of his daughters. So terms were made and the family arrived."

Mr. Hutchins in a letter to the New York Tribune then explained the manner in which he met Mr. Rockefeller and of the acquaintance that developed. The intimacy that was developed in the little hotel during the week that followed gave Mr. Hutchins an excellent opportunity to observe the method of life of the family of New York's richest millionaire. He was impressed by the simplicity and deeply religious character of all its members. There was nothing of pretense and no reason, he says, for attempting to give him any false impression.

"One feature of the morning prayers made a deep impression," he says. "As they arose from their knees each child greeted the father and mother with a kiss, and then the members of the family, one after the other, held out the hand to those of us who were guests. The greeting of the father and mother with a kiss after prayers had been the pretty custom in my own early English home, and I was able the better to feel the beauty of it. Mr. Rockefeller and I had many opportunities for conversation, and these talks were more often than not upon matters of religion. After more than twenty-five years of contact with Christian reality and its counterfeit pretense I know, if I know anything at all of such matters, that I was talking with a sincerely Christian man."

An illuminating insight into the influence of John D. Rockefeller's personality upon his son is given in this description of a characteristic incident reported by Mr. Hutchins.

"While at the mountain resort Mr. Rockefeller went to the city for a day. On his return he told me that he had found his son at church teaching an evening class of young men. There the father sought him out and in speaking to me of it afterward said, 'Mr. Hutchins, I would rather have my son filling such a part as that than to see him sitting king upon a throne.'"

Fully as interesting as these descriptions of Mr. Rockefeller's intimate personal life are the deductions and opinions of Mr. Hutchins, based upon the knowledge acquired by him during that week of association with Mr. Rockefeller. Continuing, he said:

"From those days to this one I have never seen Mr. Rockefeller again and have had no intercourse with him otherwise. I have read much of what has been written about him and his connection with the Standard Oil company. I realize the incongruity of the situation and lament it. I have heard a man and a minister of Mr. Rockefeller's own denomination tell things reflecting upon Mr. Rockefeller's moral character and claiming that he had positive proofs of their truthfulness. But I have not believed and do not believe Mr. Rockefeller is anything less than a sincerely Christian man. The question will arise how to reconcile the private Christian character with the larger public dealings in the world of finance. And it is a serious one. I put the question to him in more than one of our conversations and could give his answer if that were my object. They were not satisfactory to me. They were to him. But I make no attempt at reconciliation either to satisfy my own mind or the minds of others. I simply bear witness to the lasting impression of Christian character and sincerity which that intercourse made upon me."

One of the greatest blessings a modest man can wish for is a good, reliable set of bowels. If you are not the happy possessor of such an outfit you can greatly improve the efficiency of those you have by the judicious use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Red Cross Pharmacy.

Serious Damage. "I'm glad to see you didn't laugh at that poor old man when he fell down," said the stranger.

"That's my gran'pop," the little boy howled. "Oh, boo, boo!"

"Don't cry, boy. There's nothing serious." "Oh, wow! He sat down in my mud pies, an' I'll bet he's buried 'em all."—Philadelphia Press.

Bilious Bill was getting bloated, and his tongue was much coated. Patent "tonics" wouldn't cure him, Companies would not insure him. All his friends were badly frightened, but their spirits soon were lightened, for Bill said—and they believed him, Early Riser pills relieved him. The famous little pills, Early Risers, cure constipation, sick headache, biliousness, etc., by their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe or sicken, but impart early rising energy. Good for children or adults. Sold by the Red Cross Pharmacy, Eau Gallie Pharmacy, and Chas. F. Campbell, Melbourne.

Sufficient. "Is his new auto a good one?" "Yes, it's a beautiful red."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Psalmist and the Haier. "Life is real, life is earnest." Thus the psalmist gravely spoke. Had he been a college hazer He'd have thought life was a joke.—Boston Transcript.

The Real Thing. "He acts like a fool." "No. An actor could never come as close to nature as that."

The Surrender. He led her to the altar— That was the fatal step. For there and then the man gave up All right to leadership.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Don't Lose Mother. "Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes E. R. Reid, of Harmony, Me. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a cough or cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Reid, but he learned that lung trouble must not be neglected and how to cure it. Quickest relief for coughs and colds. Price 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed at Red Cross Pharmacy. Trial bottles free.

Natural Result. Tom—I wonder why Fred's sweetheart gave him the mitten? Jack—Because he told her a lot of yarns, I believe.—Detroit Tribune.

The Broker's Wooing. "But we have nothing in common!" She answered him, unstrident. "Don't want it," said he quickly. "Trust nothing but 'preferred'!"—Brooklyn Life.

A Disastrous Calamity. It is a disastrous calamity when you lose your health, because indigestion and constipation have swept it away. Prompt relief can be had in Dr. King's New Life Pills. They build up your digestive organs and cure headache, dizziness, colic, constipation, etc. Guaranteed at Red Cross Pharmacy, 25c.

Tough. He figured on the price of meat And sighed: "My coin they lay for. This steak, alas, is tough to eat And also tough to pay for."—Detroit Free Press.

An Open Letter. From the Chapin, S. C., News: Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend, who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand, gave each of us a dose, and we at once felt the effects. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, editor. This remedy is for sale at Red Cross Pharmacy.

Saving Himself. She—Well, then, if we must economize I might do the cooking myself. He (hastily)—Oh, no, it's cheaper to keep a servant girl in the house than a doctor.—Boston Herald.

A Jap Chap. I know a little Jap, an' he's A type of perfect Japan case. And when upon his Japan knees He holds his little Japan niece I'm envious of the chap, an' he's My beau ideal of Japanese!—Cleveland Leader.

Strictly Genuine. Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchinson (Kan) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running between Wichita and Klaw, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its originally pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Red Cross Pharmacy, Eau Gallie Pharmacy, and Chas. F. Campbell, Melbourne.

Theford's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhoea, and stomach aches. Theford's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is as good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

DANVILLE, ILL., Dec. 23, 1893. Theford's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we want no other. When any of us feel badly we take a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have spent lots of money for doctor bills, but get along just as well with Black-Draught. IRA H. RADEB.

Ask your dealer for a package of Theford's Black-Draught, and if he does not keep it send for it to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed to you.

BUY PAINTS FROM THE MANUFACTURER. Pay us 1/5 Less Than to any other house in the World for first class, high grade, best quality Paints. Sold either ready for use or in paste form, to be thinned down. Buy from the only paint manufacturing house in the country selling direct from mills to user. All other Paint makers depend on dealers for the sale of their paints. That means one heavy expense and one profit that we cut out of our business. We sell direct to the man that uses paint. You may think that you can do as well as we could do for you, if you should try to buy a certain brand of paint that you thought well of, direct from the manufacturer. But you would make a mistake. The manufacturer might take your money and sell you the paint, but he would take care to charge you as much for the paint as if you bought it from a dealer. He would put on that extra profit, to "protect the dealer". We have no salesmen or agents to increase the cost of our paints to the consumer. We quote to the man that uses the paint the lowest and best price, reserving no margin to protect agents. We pay freight. We gladly advise our customers about paints. Write for sample cards and paint advice, and blanks showing how to measure houses to show the quantity of paint required. Ask any first class business house or any bank in New Orleans, or the mercantile agencies if we are responsible. R. McWilliams, Limited. Store and Offices, 342 Camp Street. Factories, 1135, 1137, 1139, 1141 South Front Street. New Orleans, - - - Louisiana. ESTABLISHED 1893.
