

University Lucanics.

Wonder if Stetson will claim the championship if she beats Rollins.

Mr. Jim Dougherty is officer in charge at the barracks. He wields the scepter of authority next to the commandant.

Mr. Eugene Bryan has reformed!!!

The password in the barracks is two knocks, one shuffle, some tobacco under the door on a cigarette paper to insure no burning, and "Ruin, Ruin!"

Russell Dean spent last Sunday at his home in Jacksonville, and is spending a while now in his room at school as a result.

Liddell and Dyal spent Friday in Jacksonville.

Drs. Flint, Sellaris, Renton, and Jernigen are occupying "bachelors hall" near the University.

Davis Clegg's jewelry man was at the school last week. He did a fairly good business.

Last Thursday and Friday nights the happy young people "tripped the light fantastic toe" to the strains of sweet music.

Several of the college men attended a hop in Waldo last Tuesday night.

Quite a few of the boys are taking in the carnival in Jacksonville.

Messrs. Sam Sanborn, Tom George Hancock, H. E. Bouis, and Albertson, and many others were placed under arrest last week for reasons unknown.

Mr. Fatty Whidden was not in involuntary servitude Tuesday.

Lieutenant Ball coaches the second team and does stunts at quarterback for them. He is very enthusiastic along athletic lines being an athlete himself, and the students "don't hate it."

Mr. Filly Barrs attended Sunday school Sunday.

The cane patch in immediate proximity to this knowledge factory has a heavy, threatening cloud hanging over its head. College boys don't hate it!

Now with the coming of the winter months the merciless crusade against the sweetvoiced mosquito and the lady-like lady bug, the redheaded bug and the gluttonous bedbug, draws to a grand finale. They may hibernate now for six long months living on the fruits of a summer's toil, until the tender editor is once more pestered with their significant announcement of summer.

Some of the boys have been seeing snakes lately. A six foot rattler was made captive by the sergeant of the guard last Sunday, and put under confinement by the commandant.

Hancock didn't like that way of getting ice water in the hotels in Macon. He saw a card tacked up by a button saying "ring four times for ice water," and he rang four times and held his pitcher under there and not a drop would come out.

Whidden passed the viaduct and wondered that such a big river could run dry.

Ted Honk wanted to know who was the pitcher for the final ball.

We have a military Ball at the school every night.

Wonder what girl in town Corbett hasn't made love to?

Winters is at home this week in Waldo on account of sickness.

Mr. C. A. Holden who was Athletic Director of the University last year was in the city Friday to witness the foot ball game.

Mr. Marcus Mormen has had a hair cut.

Chinese seems to be a popular language among the students.

In order to keep the boys from carrying good things from the mess hall to their rooms, there are no good things.

Miss Alice Strickland of Waldo, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Bert Dyal and Russell Liddell leave next week for Texas. Bert's friends will miss him and that horse and buggy. Maybe Liddell will be in a position to make another trip to Jacksonville when he returns.

When Fatty would fall down in the Rollins game it was utterly impossible to tell how many fellows were under him till he got up. Fatty is somewhat of a masher.

Tom George Hancock has the honor of being captain of three foot ball teams, Junior, Co., R. and Varsity. He is a shark after captaincies and peanut brittle.

Mr. Biscuit Barrs is still pride of the mess and champion food guiser.

Dance for the Rollins Boys.

Friday evening a hop was given in the Opera House for the visiting foot ball team. Neat programs were printed in the University colors with the words "To Rollins by the University" inscribed on the back. There were twenty-seven couples present and a good number of stags. Music was furnished by an unbleached orchestra of four pieces.

Everyone enjoyed the evening fully and all were sorry to see the time for "Home, Sweet Home" approaching. The last dance was finished at twelve-thirty and the Rollins boys wished a happy journey homeward.

Meeting of the Junior Class.

Last Friday evening the members of the Junior Class of the University gathered in the rooms of Mr. Persons he being sufficiently induced to remain in his quarters for the purpose of organizing and forming the class of 1908. The men, just past the 'Wise Soph' station in the road to graduation, were eager and enthusiastic that they do nothing unbecoming to a dignified Junior. But, alas, no sooner had this learned idea crept into their think tanks, then they committed an act the height of folly: Mr. Sam Sanborn was unanimously elected president of the class. Following this, another old F. S. C. boy was shoved in for the office of vice-president: T. G. Hancock. Mr. Persons was elected secretary, and Mr. B. Barr was given the responsible position as keeper and collector of the year's amount of money.

Joining into the exchequer of the Junior class. For orator, Mr. Herbert Felkel was imposed upon to accept the position, and Mr. D. S. Bryan, always with an oratory organ well inclined toward the beautiful and poetical, was made the bard of the class. Mr. Earman was accorded the office of Historian, having been with the class from the wee small days of pre-dorm up to now.

The members of the class are representatives from the various defunct institutions of the state, therefore, one member from each of the schools, (Fisher, E. F. S.; Hancock, F. S. C.; Earman, U. of F.; B. Barrs, Bartow) was appointed to get up a history of the class of '08 in those schools. This history will be a complete record of each member of the '08 class in Florida schools, but if omitted don't think that he is in the changing for some may be overlooked.

President Sanborn appointed a committee to draft constitution and bylaws to be submitted at the next regular meeting. On this committee are D. S. Bryan, C. M. Fisher and B. Barrs.

The class has arranged to have many entertainments during the school year. Also to have meetings twice a month. This is the first class to organize this session, and each member is enthusiastic and determined to have the best class yet.

The other classes will follow suit in the near future, and series of contests may grow out of the rival spirit.

Silas Honk at it Again.

Editor News,
Dear Sur:

I promised to rite you ernuther letter this time and here it is. Is Ted doin good? He spends er powerful lot of money up thar, and says its all for books. When he was home toter day he was smoking a white clay pipe with a yellow glass stem and he says they made him pay four dollars for it, an I used to buy um for five cents without the box to put it in. And do you know, that fool boy had on a pair of briches that didn't come to his ankles, and the hils were as big as meals sax. His sox were purty good but had holes all over em and when Sal wanted to mend em he used a hole lot of new cues words about that Skido and said he didn't hate em. He said that they had him in jail fer "same, same," and he hadn't called anybody that. He said he couldn't get away from there when he was in errest: cuz the commandant always wore his overalls and legging and was ready for hunting. He must carry his sword up his back for Ted ain't seen it yet. Ted got me ter go up with him, and I went went in to see that man and when I got up to his table he says without looking at me, "go back and knock at the door, you lazy bucker," and I started to tell him a few things when he looked up and saw who I was. He knew of my reputation and as soon as he saw me he was suprised. I told him as how I was superintendent of public destruction in Squantomville, and he said yes he had heard I was. He give me a long cigar made out of a special kind of tobacco of his. He kept showing a jar every where I'd spit until I told him if he didn't take that confounded thing out of the way I'd spit on it. Then he laughed fit to bust open. But I tell yer, he's a fine old fellow and I don't believe he will put Ted up anymore for "same same."

Yours truly,
SILAS HONK.

Wednesday, November 14—less than one week off—will mark the opening of the great Florida State Fair at Tampa, which should be attended by every man, woman and child in Florida. Floridians who have attended the Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina State Fairs this year, declare that the Florida Fair of last year was infinitely superior to these in every department, a fact of which every progressive Floridian should be proud. The coming Fair will be much more complete and magnificent in every department than that of last year, and the Floridian failing to attend will be recreant in his duty to himself, family and State. The railroads will give low rates from all sections, and the best of accommodations will be given at low prices by the hotels, boarding houses, private homes and restaurants of Tampa. A large committee of citizens, with a paid force of young men, will look after all visitors upon their arrival.

The amusement features will be the grandest ever seen in the South, including the horse racing and the great White City Hippodrome of Chicago. The Fair Association first appropriated $10,000 to secure this great attraction for two weeks. The amount was found to be inadequate, however, and the appropriation was increased to $20,000. The array of attractions to be seen on the Range will be even better than those of last year. The horse racing will be of a very high-class and exciting finishes may be looked for. A total of 156 horses have already entered, and $10,000 will be given in purses. Out of the hundreds of high-class shows offered, President Brown has been able to select the best only. The majority of these shows have never been seen at any of the Southern Fairs. Music by the best band in the country, dazzling performances in the open air and in tents and other features have been secured for the edification of the thousands who will attend. Don't fail to attend the Fair, or you will regret it. Remember the dates—November 14 to 29.
